LOVE LETTERS PLAGUE PLATT

ASKS MUCH DAMAGES

MADE NO PROMISE TO MARRY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.

Miss Mae C. Wood has telegraphed her friends in this city that she has filed a suit in the New York courts for $25,000 for breach of promise to marry. She left Washington last night without the usual formalities of arranging her leave from the money order division of the postoffice. It is stated here in the circle of intimate friends of the parties that Senator Platt's sons have exerted their influence to bring Miss Wood to New York at this time. They are violently opposed to the marriage of the venerable senator to Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway, set for Thursday, October 15.

The story is that Miss Wood has been on very friendly relations with Senator Platt. She was brought from the New York office to Washington by the senator. Last summer she announced to her friends here that she was preparing her trousseau and made a trip abroad to effect her purchases. On her return last week she was met at the steamship by Senator Platt, and the pair crossed New York to the Jersey City depot very hurriedly. Senator Platt's engagement to Mrs. Janeway had been previously announced and Miss Wood alleges that the senator took pains that she should not see any of the papers. It was not until after her return that she was forced to believe in the changed affection of the venerable senator. Among the more than a hundred letters which she and her lawyer are submitting to the senator is one, which reads:

Writes of Mrs. Janeway.

"Dearest: I cannot keep my engagement with you tonight. How can I live without seeing you! But such is the life of a politician."

One of the most interesting missives is nearly four pages explaining at much length that the rumors of his attentions to Mrs. Janeway were altogether without foundation. He relates his early acquaintance with Mrs. Janeway's parents, his friendship for Dr. Janeway, and his

SONS OF ORIENT START WAR HERE

MANY ARE INVOLVED

CALL THE ENEMY HIGHBINDERS

Chinamen in this city have been quietly banding themselves together under the leadership of the See family to accomplish the overthrow of the Yee family, which dominates the Chinese court here and, it is said, exacts tributes from the merchants among their countrymen here. The first evidence of the trouble came at the last session of the court on Tuesday night, October 6. This court broke up in a riot. One Chinaman, Frank Lee, of the Lee faction, was badly hurt and several participants were arrested.

Alderman P. B. Reilly yesterday committed Yee Que Jung, Yee Sing and Yee Gee to jail, charged with aggravated assault and battery upon Frank Lee. The latter made the same charge against seven other Chinamen. Four gave bail for a hearing and three have not yet been arrested. The suits grew out of the riot in the court which was in session at No. 512 Second avenue. Lee alleges they heaped upon him the greatest indignity one Chinaman can place on another, that of striking him in the face with a shoe.

How the Riot Started.

The riot was started by the Yee faction, which wished to remain in control of the court and to continue to receive the tributes from the Chinese merchants. Lee, however, secured the aid of officers and had some of the men arrested the night the riot occurred. The second chapter of the attempt to overthrow the Yee faction came late last night, when the three other Chinamen were arrested.

After the hearing before the aldermen, Lee, who made the informations, followed the prisoners to the jail and warned Deputy Warden John McNeil to look out for Yee Gee, who he said was a Highbinder and had poison in his pocket. Yee Gee retorted the man lied and the customary search revealed no drug.

Lee was very much in earnest apparently when he called the man a Highbinder, for the Lee family actually believe the Yees are members of that class of Chinese and that a Highbinder attack may be made upon them at any time. In view of this the Lees are never seen alone about the streets. They go about in groups and seem to fear bodily harm from their opponents.

Factorial Fight for Supremacy.

The Yee family or faction has controlled the court in Pittsburgh for many years. The Chinamen have gradually become incensed against the dominant rule of the Yees, and the Lee family, being the most prominent and influential outside of the Yees was selected as the leaders in the movement. The factional troubles began several months ago and gradually became worse, so that when the Yees started something in the Chinese court they played into the hands of their opponents and gave them the chance they were looking for.

The Lees have accordingly retained Attorney A. H. Mercer of Fourth avenue, as their counsel, and these cases against the members of the Yee faction will be fought hard in court. Each one of those against whom informations were made will be tried and a determined effort made to convict them. In this way the Lees hope to put an end to the reign of the Yees in this city.

Other Cities Involved.

This fight to overthrow the Yees has involved the entire Lee family in this country, which is a most influential Chinese family. The Lees here went into the fight at first simply to help end the

TROLLEY CARS COLLIDE, KILLING TWO MOTORMEN

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)
GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 13.—Running at a high rate of speed through a dense fog, two cars on the Pittsburgh & Southern railway, recently purchased by the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Railway Company, collided south of Greensburg this morning. Two members of the crews were killed and a third seriously injured.

THE DEAD.

Elmer Row, motorman; legs crushed and injured so severely internally that he died six hours afterward.

THE INJURED.

William B. Parks, conductor; cut and badly bruised.

Joseph H. Maxwell; cut by flying glass.

J. R. Silvis; badly bruised.

All of the victims of the collision are residents of Greensburg and suburbs. The cars met on a steep grade, and so terrific was the compact that both cars were telescoped. Hirsch was dead when taken from the wreckage. Both legs of Motorman Row were broken and crushed. He was taken to the Westmoreland hospital, where both legs were amputated. He died at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

CANADIAN BOAT CAPTURES AN ERIE FISHING VESSEL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Erie, Pa., Oct. 13.—This afternoon while Erie fishing tugs were engaged in setting or drawing nets on the Canadian side of Lake Erie, they were pounced upon by the patrol boat Petrel, which a few weeks ago put several shots into the Silver Spray under similar circumstances before she succeeded in getting away. Today, however, the Petrel had better luck, as she succeeded in capturing the tug Star, owned by Tabb & Constable of this city. Tabb was on board as was also Engineer Leander, the steward and two deck hands named Mooney.

The Star, which is one of the smallest and slowest of the tugs, was at least nine miles over the line. She gave the Petrel a three-mile chase before the latter got her grappling chains over her side. The Lamb was the first one chased today, but she succeeded in getting away.

The entire crew of the Star were taken to the other side, but will be released as soon as they find a means of returning.

The boat and fish on board will be confiscated beyond all doubt, as the fine usually imposed equals the value of the boats seized. There has not been a day for some time in which there is not a brush between tugs from this side and the Petrel, but the latter has done no shooting since the Silver Spray affair.

The independent American fishermen claim they are not treated fairly by the Petrel, and assert as a reason that all the many tugs of Booth & Co., the largest fish dealers on the chain of lakes, can fish wherever they please on the other side and are never molested, because the company buys every ton of fish caught by Canadians in the waters of Lakes Erie, Huron and Superior. The fishing on this side is very poor and the Americans say they may as well take chances of falling into the hands of the Canadian authorities where the fishing is excellent as to be certain to fall into the hands of the sheriff at the close of the season.

WAR CLOUDS CLEARING ON FAR EASTERN SKIES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—Count Inouye, the Japanese minister, says everything in the dispute between Japan and Russia will be settled amicably.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The fact that there has been no news of hostilities in the far east today is regarded in some quarters as indicating that there is yet a chance for a peaceful settlement of the differences between Russia and Japan. This is the official view of the situation, but general opinion among the well informed still is strongly of the opinion that there will be an armed clash. The fact that Marquis Ito, perhaps the strongest statesman in Japan, is said to be opposed to war is really the most hopeful item in the day's news.

Opposed to this is the news that Russia is quietly reinforcing her garrisons near the Korean frontier and strengthening her war fleet, while Japan has ordered home a number of young army and navy officers who have been studying in foreign military establishments and is sparing no effort to put army and navy in shape to go on an effective war footing at a moment's notice.

The chance of Great Britain being drawn into the controversy is remote. She is bound by her treaty obligations to intervene only in case some other power joins hands with Russia, a contingency which is not regarded as at all likely. Though there is a good deal of talk of an understanding between Germany and Russia which may induce the kaiser's government to strain the neutrality laws a bit in favor of the czar in case of hostilities, it is not believed Germany will do anything which will call for action by Great Britain.

ROME, Oct. 13.—Instructions have been cabled to the commander of the protected cruiser Puglia, which is on her way from Callao to San Francisco, to join the Italian far eastern squadron, which now consists of the armored cruiser Vettor Pisani and the protected cruisers Calabria and Piemonte. The commander of the squadron has received instructions to protect Italian interests in China in the event of a Russo-Japanese war.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—Russia is now transporting 50,000 troops, nurses, physicians and hospital supplies to the far east. The present strength of the Russian army there is reliably reported to be 283,000 men. Officers detailed for duty in the orient have been forbidden to take their wives.

BLYTHESDALE CASE IS HELD UP BY DALZELL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Representative Dalzell today asked the postoffice department to take no action in the appointment of a postmaster at Blythesdale, Pa., for the present. There is a contest on for the place and until an agreement is reached the department will make no appointment. At Mr. Dalzell's recommendation, the postoffice at Rodi, Pa., will be re-established. By the establishment of a rural free delivery route from Wilkinsburg, the postoffices at Job and Rodi were discontinued. But it was found that a large amount of foreign mail was handled at the latter place, which made it necessary to have a postoffice there.

HEAD OF MORMON CHURCH WAS MADE R. R. DIRECTOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Oct. 13.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Union Pacific Railroad Company was held in this city today. After the election of a board of directors the meeting adjourned until November 20 when E. H. Harriman and a party of directors will come to Utah on a special train, to be present for the opening of the Ogden-Lucin cut-off across Salt Lake. This special will be the first passenger train to run over the cut-off.

Today's election of directors resulted in only one change, Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church being chosen resident director to succeed T. J. Coolidge, Jr., of Boston. In speaking of the election of Joseph F. Smith to the directorate, Alexander Miller, secretary of the Harriman lines, said: "It has always been the custom of the company to have a citizen of Utah on the board. Brigham Young was the first and there has always been one until recently. It was to carry out this custom that Mr. Smith was elected."

The board of directors will meet in New York within the next 10 days for the purpose of electing officers and taking up several matters concerning the management of the road. Among these, it is said the question of double-tracking from Omaha to Ogden will be considered.

MACEDONIAN REFUGEES SLEEPING IN THE SNOW

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Samakov, Bulgaria, Oct. 13.—Winter has suddenly swept down on the Balkans. Last night the refugees, women and children, sleeping in the mountains were covered with snow. The sufferings with the refugees is intense. Here in Samakov Mme. Leakhmateff's relief committee is doing excellent work. The mayor of Samakov has just read to the thousands of refugees in the town a message from the Turkish government, inviting the refuges to return to their homes under the protection of Bulgarian officials. The mayor advised the refugees to carefully consider the risks before replying.

MONASTIR, Oct. 12, via Salonica, Macedonia, Oct. 13.—This district is settling down. The insurgents have been routed and practically annihilated in the Peristeri mountains, though their stronghold is still the meeting place of what insurgerrectionists to remain in the region.

Chakelaroff, the insurgent leader, is still at large in the Kastoria district, but most of the peasants who accompanied him have surrendered. The inspector general, Hilmi Pasha, in concert with the mixed commission, is arranging to rebuild the homes which were destroyed out of the government funds. The reconstruction is proceeding, however, under numerous difficulties.

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Oct. 13.—A band of 70 insurgents, caught near the frontier by Bulgarian troops, was sent to Sofia today. The passage of bands across the frontier has become increasingly difficult, owing to the precautions of the government and the increase in the number of frontier guards.

The general situation is unchanged. Fear is expressed in many quarters that the Turks will oppose the application of the Austro-Russian reform plans. Turkish troops recently discovered a hiding place of insurgents and refugees in the mountains in the vicinity of Okhrida, 28 miles from Monastir, and routed them after several days' fighting.

The Turks used artillery. The pursuit of the refugees is said to have been accompanied by great severity and the murder of many children and non-combatants.

Three hundred and fifty refugees from Malkotornovo have arrived at Hibibitschevo and 200 women and children from Resovo, vilayet of Adrianople, have reached Yambouli.

The Turkish proposals for the repatriation of the refugees meets with a positive refusal from the fugitives to return to Macedonia and place themselves under the control of the Turks.

A PEACE TREATY WAS SIGNED, BUT PROVISIONS WERE NOT LIVED UP TO

Mrs. Yella Rosen keeps a boarding house in East Wilmerding, and in the house with her lived Mrs. Mary Yuratich. Two weeks ago Mrs. Yuratich quarreled with Mrs. Rosen, and when the latter was down town, Mrs. Yuratich locked all the doors. It took Mrs. Rosen almost half the night to get into her own house, and then she sued Mrs. Yuratich for forcible detainer before Justice Thomas Kennedy of Wilmerding. He drew up a contract, which both women signed, agreeing never to quarrel again. After Mrs. Rosen went home, however, she concluded that Mrs. Yuratich had the best of it, so she got up early the next morning and entered suit before Justice Kennedy, on a charge of disorderly conduct. When Mrs. Yuratich heard of this she went before Justice G. H. Jaquay of Rankin and charged Mrs. Rosen with perjury, claiming that after she had signed the peace treaty she could make no more informations. On a charge of perjury, Justice Jaquay last night held Mrs. Rosen for court in $300 bail.

HANNA POINTS TO PROSPERITY

HE ASSAILS JOHNSON

HERRICK LOOKS UP RECORDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
Wooster, O., Oct. 13.—Patriotism and an appeal to it formed the basis for the speeches of both Senator Hanna and Col. Herrick in the two meetings addressed by them today. This afternoon they were at Mt. Vernon and this evening at Wooster. Splendid audiences greeted them in each place.

"I ask you old line Democrats," the senator said, "what there is in the platform of the present Democratic party in Ohio to invite your support? There is not a flavor of Jeffersonianism. It has not a single plank in harmony with the teachings of one of the leaders of the old Democracy. Therefore, why should you support it? I appeal to your patriotism. I ask you to place principle above party, and to rally to the Republican ticket as you did in 1863.

"If that is done, there need be no fear as to the result, nor need you fear as to continued prosperity in this country. The only way that a check can come to the present condition of business in this country will be by Democratic victory. If the people of Ohio should defeat the Republican ticket this fall, it would be taken as an indication of Democratic success in the national election in 1904.

Result Would be Disastrous.

"What would be the result? Confidence would be destroyed, and capital, which is the most finicky thing in the world, would take alarm. Money would go into hiding. There would be a slacking down of the wheels of industry and men would be out of work as they were in 1893.

"Clarke, the Democratic candidate for the senate, says we are now on the verge of a financial and industrial collapse. Well, Mr. Clarke don't know anything about it. He has been on all sides of all questions and don't know where he is today. He is a corporation lawyer, and don't know anything except to do as he is told to do by those who pay him his salary."

Referring particularly to Johnson, the senator said: "A man must be crazy to hold up the principle of Socialism, to array class against class, to throw abroad this poisonous nostrum and ask the people to take it. I have too much confidence in the people to believe they will be fooled.

"Tom Johnson is asking for home rule. We have had home rule in Cleveland and it was of the Johnson kind. As a result we are unable to sell our municipal bonds. That is a sample of what he would give the people of the state if the opportunity came. Don't make Ohio an experimental station for his fads and fancies as our city has been made."

Herrick Hot After Johnson.

Colonel Herrick more directly than heretofore fastened upon Mayor Johnson the claim that the latter is an advocate of single tax, a claim that Mr. Johnson has persistently been endeavoring to dodge. By unmistakable evidence Herrick proved that Johnson, in company with Henry George, appeared before a committee of the state senate in 1887 and presented a lengthy argument in favor of the state ownership of all lands and the placing of all taxes upon land values.

"The truth is," Mr. Herrick said, "Johnson has found that single tax, which is akin to Socialism, is not wanted by the people. Frightened at this he is endeavoring to hide behind the silly and shallow pretense of 2-cent fare and equal taxation. Johnson is a single taxer. He has believed it ever since he was in congress,

NO MEETING OF SELECT MONDAY

Call Will Be Issued, but Quorum Will Not Attend.

TAX ORDINANCE DEAD

STEVENSON IS AGAIN TRICKED

There will be a call for a special meeting of select council for next Monday, but it is certain that there will not be a meeting. In fact, there may be two calls, one by the pretended advocates of the linear tax ordinance and the other by the advocates of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance, but President John S. Lamble is master of the situation and may issue the call himself.

President Lamble has promised that if a call is issued it will be for the passage of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance, as well as for the linear tax measure, and also for the passage of the Virgin alley ordinance. He will mention the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance first in the call, to enable it to be taken up before the linear tax ordinance is disposed of, and thus forestall another adjournment after action is taken on the linear tax ordinance, as was done Monday afternoon by prearrangement between the leaders of the Citizens party and the "combine."

There Will Be No Quorum.

W. H. Stevenson is clamoring for a special meeting Monday afternoon and endeavored yesterday to persuade President Lamble to issue the call. Mr. Stevenson, however, did not want the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance included in the call, for he feared that it would keep the members away. This is exactly what will happen. The Citizens bosses and the "combine" have agreed that the Baltimore & Ohio, or any railroad ordinance, shall not be passed before the county election if a quorum calls are issued.

"They will have a pretty hard time to get a quorum," said Select Councilman J. W. Ruhlandt yesterday, and he told the truth.

It transpires that W. H. Stevenson did not get one, but two, gold bricks Monday from the Citizens managers, as was not only bunco'ed into agreeing to an amendment that defeated the passage of the ordinance, but also signed, at the dictation of E. M. Bigelow and Marry A. Verner, a statement taking all the blame for the fiasco upon himself. Since then Bigelow and Verner will have nothing to do with getting another meeting, telling Stevenson that he will have to look to the "combine" for aid, as the leaders of the "combine" had "steered" Stevenson against the other gold brick.

Fight in Railroad Ordinance.

The advocates of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance, who failed to get a chance Monday to present a motion for the withdrawal of the measure, state that they will get out a separate call for a meeting Monday if Stevenson gets out a call for the tax ordinance alone, and that President Lamble will discriminate in favor of the railroad call when the two petitions are presented to him. At all events, the Baltimore & Ohio advocates are confident that they will have the advantage at any special meeting that may be called, even should every member of the select branch sign a call.

It was pointed out yesterday that the amendment adopted Monday was not altogether satisfactory and that another change might be required. If this is the case, two more meetings of select council would be necessary to pass the ordinance.

Common council adjourned Monday night for the purpose of concurring on the linear tax ordinance, as amended by select council, but to all appearances the lower

RINGING OF PRAYER BELL SCARES ZION AERONAUT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Oct. 13.—As the bell of Shiloh temple tolled at noon today 5,000 followers of John Alexander Dowie knelt wherever they chanced to be in Zion city, and offered prayers for the success of the mission of the restoration host in New York city. Swimming high in the hazy October sky was a big balloon. Therefrom a photographer trained his camera on the town below and caught a picture of the suppliant thousands and their pretty homes.

Pending the two minutes of silent prayer Zion City was mute. The pilgrims who had been loading hundreds of trunks, valises and household effects upon a waiting train, dropped to their knees and asked for the peace and blessing which they in turn intended to offer to the people of New York. After the hush came work again—the dreless, heartsome work which Dowie preaches to his flock. Trunks were heaved into cars, cooking outfits were put aboard and grips were piled high until a train of eight coaches was full to the roof. Then the material form of Zion City's lares and penates was rolled away toward New York. As the baggage train pulled out of the little station thousands of eyes looked on and thousands of lips breathed another prayer.

Zion City was the converging point today. Every train brought scores of recruits to the army of peace. Every western state, from Indiana to the coast; from Texas to the Dakotas, was represented in the gathering host. Dowie was too busy to receive any save his immediate aids, but the deacons and the uniformed guards extended a welcome to the incoming crusaders and found them lodging places for the night. The hospitality of the town was taxed as it never has been before.

Of the incidents of the day the most exciting occurred while the photographer was preparing to take an aerial picture of the town. T. E. Albertson was the man who went up in the balloon with the camera. The balloon anchor consisted of several deacons whose duty it was to hold the rope to which the flying picture gallery was attached. When Zion's "Angelus" began to toll, the deacons, in religious fervor, relaxed their hold for a second on the rope. Immediately the balloon shot upward 300 feet. Albertson said when he came down that there were some short prayers going on in the upper air as well as below, but just as he had given up hope the rope became taut again and he knew that the deacons had saved him.

ACTION IS BARRED BY LITTLE CLAUSE

QUEER PROVISION ATTACHED

Suit Must Begin Within Six Months After Law Went Into Effect in Order to Recover Stock of Shipbuilding Company Issued to Him.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.

The report that ex-United States Senator James Smith, Jr., receiver of the United States Shipbuilding Company, purposes instituting a suit against Charles M. Schwab on the $20,000,000 of the stock of that company issued to him in part payment for the Bethlehem steel works on the ground that it had not been fully paid for, and that under the law of New Jersey the holder was responsible for the value thereof, has, according to a New Jersey lawyer, developed a very curious condition of affairs. This lawyer says that while ex-Senator Smith is no doubt sincere in his intention to sue Mr. Schwab and recover either the stock or its face value, he has apparently not kept himself au courant with the legislative acts of his own state, for it seems that at its last session the legislature passed an act to prevent the very thing which he now contemplates doing and thus rendering inoperative the law under which he intends to proceed. That act, which is chapter 182 of the laws of 1903, approved April 8, is as follows:

Any director, officer, promoter or other agent of any corporation organized or existing under the laws of this state who shall have heretofore made or received, or who shall hereafter make or receive, while acting in such capacity, any bonus, profit or reward of any kind whatsoever out or on account of any transaction for or with such corporation, without disclosure of the fact of such bonus, profit or reward to the corporation and without obtaining its approval thereof, shall be liable to such corporation for the amount or value of such bonus, profit or reward for and during the period of four years from and after the making or receipt of the same and not afterward; and an action shall lie on behalf of such corporation, either at law or in equity, to recover such bonus, profit or reward, or the value thereof, or for an account with respect thereto, at any time before the expiration of said period of four years, but not afterward.

This act shall take effect immediately, but shall not affect any action or proceeding pending at any time in any court, or affect any right of any corporation, or of any stockholder, against any such director, officer, promoter or other agent, under existing law, provided action thereon be commenced within six months after this act takes effect.

"On its face that act," said a New Jersey lawyer today, "looks innocent enough, but the four years' limitation is a bluff. The gist of the act in its present application is the six months' provision in the last two lines. In my opinion, and I am not alone in the conclusion, that last six months clause is an effectual barrier to a successful prosecution of his suit contemplated by Receiver Smith against Mr. Schwab. That was, in my opinion, the object of its passage."

FRANK A. PARKER.

NO CRUCIBLE RECEIVER.

Absurd Report Met by Quick Denials from Company's Officers.

Reports which are claimed to have arisen from attempts to injure the company, were set going yesterday on the stock exchange to the effect that application had been made for a receiver for the Crucible Steel Company of America. On that basis the stock was hammered, but quick denials from President Frank B. Smith set the rumors at rest.

"The report is totally untrue and very absurd," he said. "There has been no application for a receiver, nor is there any reason why there should be one."

A similar denial was made in New York by Robert E. Jennings, second vice-president of the company. Mr. Jennings said he could not account for the rumor starting. He said the company was never in better condition. The annual report will be made public in a short time, he said, and will be most gratifying to the company's stockholders.

MEN OF SCIENCE GATHER IN MAMMOTH CONGRESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The scientific committee of the Congress of Arts and Science, consisting of Dr. Simon Newcomb of Washington, Prof. Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard and Prof. A. W. Small of Chicago, today made its report to the director of congresses, Howard J. Rogers, and to President Nicholas Murray Butler, chairman of the administrative board, upon the results of their European mission. They were in Europe four months, and in that time presented 130 invitations to the most noted of the European savants, of which 114 have accepted.

The following countries are represented at the congress which will meet at the exposition September 19-26, 1904: Germany, Great Britain, France, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Russia and Holland. The purpose of the congress is to demonstrate the inter-relation of all scientific work. Each scientist invited will contribute a definite piece of work, and the exposition has appropriated $200,000 to cover the expenses of the congress and the honorariums of the speakers. These 114 accepted include many of the most noted scientists of today, among whom are the following:

Department of scientific method, Prof. Ostwald, Leipsic; department of mathematics, Prof. H. Poincare, professor in Sorbonne; department history of Asia, Arminius Vandery, University of Buda Pest; history of Greece and Rome, Prof. J. G. Mahaffy, Dublin; department of mediaeval history, Prof. Carl Lamprecht, Leipsic; department of modern history, Prof. J. Bury, Cambridge, England; comparative language, Prof. Carl Brugmann, Leipsic; semitic language, Prof. Delitzsch, Berlin; physics, Prof. James Dewar, Royal Institution, London; geology, Sir Archibald Geikie, London; human anatomy, Prof. Waldeyer, Berlin; pathology, Dr. Orth, Berlin; national administration, James Brice (R. H.), London; international law, Baron de Constant, Paris; criminology, Lombroso, Turin; belle lettres, M. F. Brunetiere, Paris; influence of religion on civilization, Bishop of Ripon, England.

"Of course, I never intend to marry Mrs. Janeway. I have never loved anyone but you. Do not be disturbed by malicious reports."

Those who have seen the letters assert that nowhere throughout the voluminous correspondence does Senator Platt promise to marry the fair young woman. The missives are tender and rhapsodic as those of an ardent youth, but the structure of a breach of promise to marry will have to be built on other evidence than the written documents.

May Lose Her Place.

It is also stated that Senator Platt requested the postmaster general to see to it that Miss Wood was not granted leave of absence under any circumstances. Miss Wood, however, shrewdly evaded this dictum by receiving a telegram from her sister calling her at once to her deathbed. Notwithstanding this situation her chief asserts that she is marked absent without pay, which is equivalent to a bad mark on her record and will make her amenable to discipline when she returns. In fact, Miss Wood is so earnest in her campaign that she has burned bridges behind her and now must stand or fall by the result of her work. If she cannot support her case she will undoubtedly lose her position and even if successful the notoriety and practical disobedience of the wishes of her superior will jeopardize her place.

There are no features of the famous Breckenridge case in this. Miss Wood has been extremely attentive to her duties and has lived at a quiet boarding house in this city. She and Mrs. Janeway, however, have had several unpleasant scenes. Last year Miss Wood called at the I street house where Mrs. Janeway lives and upbraided her.

branch will not have the tax ordinance before it next week.

The Citizens party leaders are busy with explanations for the miserable fiasco of Monday afternoon, but the people are little interested in explanations. The people were looking for results, and the few who had any faith in the promises of the alleged reformers are grievously disappointed.

The hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance has created widespread dissension in the Citizens party in the Twenty-third ward. The Twenty-third ward councilmen of both branches were present at the meeting of select council Monday afternoon and were anxiously expecting the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances to be taken up, as their passage means large improvements in the Hazelwood district—the extension of the shops and yards and the employment of several hundred more men.

Councilmen O'Brien, Beehner and Barker were greatly disgusted when they saw the Citizens and the "combine" adjourn the meeting to prevent action on the railroad bills.

"Something will have to be done pretty quick," said Councilman Beehner, "or there will be no Citizens party in the Twenty-third ward."

tyranny, but now they are looked upon as the leaders and are very deep in the fight. Influential Lees in New York and San Francisco are interesting themselves in the fight and are coming to Pittsburgh to help this branch financially and in other ways to gain supremacy and overthrow the Yess.

Lee Jung, a prominent member of the Lee family of San Francisco, was in Chicago last night and will be in this city this morning. Lee Seuy Hong, whose English name is William S. Lee, who has been a student at the New York Nautical college for nearly a year and has thoroughly mastered the English language, is interesting himself in the factional war and is at present in this city. Another member of the Lee family is Lee Yick You, the richest Chinaman in New York, and the head of the Chinese Free hospital of that city. He, too, will help his family in their troubles here.

SABBATH SCHOOL OFFICERS AND DINED BY MR. HEINZ

SCRANTON, PA., Oct. 13.—(Special)—Three hundred delegates and as many visitors from all over the state are here attending the convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association. A dinner was given to the state officers and local committees by H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh, chairman of the state executive committee. Mr. Heinz is detained in Germany by the illness of his sister, but was represented at the dinner by his son, H. C. Heinz.

HOOSIERS GREET RIVER DELEGATES

Pittsburgh Delegation Is Expected at Evansville, Ind., This Morning.

COL. DRAVO LEADS ADVANCE

Sentiment Favors Pittsburgh for Next Annual Convention—Senators Beveridge and Fairbanks Will Attend—Governor Durban to Make Address of Welcome.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

EVANSVILLE, IND., Oct. 13.—The delegates to the ninth annual convention of the Ohio Valley Improvement association have been arriving all afternoon. Capt. John F. Dravo got in tonight and was escorted to the St. George hotel. He thinks the convention will be the largest ever held by the association.

In this section Capt. Dravo is a favorite. He will make an address before the convention Wednesday. The rest of the Pittsburgh delegation will arrive in the morning on the same train with Gov. W. T. Durbin, who will deliver the address of welcome to the delegates and visitors in behalf of Indiana.

Word was received tonight that Gov. Beckham of Kentucky will not be able to come here because of his taking part in the state campaign. United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indianapolis telegraphed tonight that he expects to be here in the morning and address the convention Wednesday night. He will be accompanied by Senator Fairbanks.

Frank O. Fition of New Harmony, Ind., arrived this evening and said he would try to consolidate the Wabash River Improvement association with the Ohio Valley Improvement association. Most of the delegates that have arrived this evening are in favor of the consolidation. It is believed by the consolidation the people along the two rivers can accomplish a great deal more.

The general feeling prevails here that Cincinnati can secure the next convention if there is no opposition. There is a feeling, however, for Pittsburgh and the delegates from the Steel City will make a showing if they want to.

Th Paducah delegation, over 300 strong, arrived here this evening and will insist on the improvement of the Ohio river below Henderson before the other work in the upper river is completed. The local delegates wish congress to make appropriation for the dam at Henderson, Ky., at the next session of congress.

M. E. MISSIONARY WORKERS MEET IN PHILADELPHIA

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—The missionary convention of the Methodist Episcopal church, at which delegates are present from all of New England and the Middle Atlantic states, was formally opened tonight. It will remain in session until Thursday. The gathering is held under the auspices of the Open Door Emergency Commission of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, which was organized to devise means for promoting a larger missionary interest and enthusiasm among the 3,000,000 members of the denomination.

One of the features of the convention is the missionary exhibit, which includes maps and paraphernalia, together with about a score of missionaries, who explained the evangelization work being done by Methodists in many countries.

The program tonight was one of hymnal praise, Scriptural instruction, prayer and addresses. The addresses were made by Bishop Foss and Bishop Charles B. Fowler.

WABASH ELECTION HELD.

Old Directors Re-Elected and Bond Issue for Improvements Approved.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 13.—The annual meeting of the stockholders and debenture bondholders of the Wabash Railroad Company was held here today, and the following directors were re-elected for the ensuing year: George J. Gould, O. D. Ashley, Thomas H. Hubbard, John T. Terry, S. C. Reynolds, James H. Hyde, Winslow S. Pierce, Edwin Gould, Russell Sage, Edgar T. Welles, C. J. Lawrence, Henry K. McHarg and Joseph Ramsey, Jr.

The stockholders and debenture bondholders approved an issue of $10,000,000 of bonds for terminal improvements at Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Quincy, Ill., Detroit and Toledo.

IN SUPREME COURT.

Cases from Armstrong and Westmoreland Counties Argued.

In the supreme court the case of Ada H. Lewis and others against Elvina Linton, appellant, from the common pleas court of Armstrong county, was argued. The basis of the suit was a joint note given by Mrs. Linton and Thomas Cross to Samuel Lewis in London, England, on June 10, 1896. A suit against Mrs. Linton in Armstrong county resulted in a verdict of $8,584 45. The claim is made that the note was paid in England.

Three appeals from Westmoreland county were argued. They were the cases of the commonwealth ex rel. John P. Elkin, attorney general, appellant, against the First National bank of West Newton et al., an action over the construction of an area way on a public street; of the Monessen National bank for use J. P. Mill, appellee vs. John Roth et al., appellants, an action over the distribution of the proceeds of a sheriff's sale, and the appeal of Annie Fennell, widow of David Fennell, in the matter of the settlement of Fennell's estate.

The court refused to quash the appeal in the case of the Citizens Building and Loan association, appellant, vs. Arvin et al. An order was made fixing November 2 as the date for the argument in the case of Heck vs. the American Natural Gas Company.

Guard at Mines Being Reduced.

DENVER, COL., Oct. 13.—Gov. Peabody today instructed Col. Edward Verdeckberg, the officer in command of the troops at Cripple Creek, to reduce the force there to 500 men. Nearly 900 men will be relieved from duty tonight or tomorrow.

Don't be frightened at the word "Symphony"—DAMROSCH plays one at the EXPO tonight, and the performance will offer so much of beauty and interest that the listener will declare he could hear it again as an encore.

RAPID ADVANCEMENT OF YOUNG FINANCIER

AUDITOR GILMOR WILL LIKELY BE REWARDED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Charles J. Bonaparte and Holmes Conrad, the president's personal representatives in the postoffice investigation, are said to have called Mr. Roosevelt's attention to Thomas W. Gilmore, a treasury expert in the auditor's department, who in the Tulloch charges was alleged to have been made to suffer because he was too energetic in his report of investigations. Instead of being rewarded for his discoveries, Gilmore fell into disfavor with politicians and his salary was reduced from $1,800 to $1,600. He was reduced for having "made himself obnoxious" to those whose offices he had been detailed to investigate. His methods were denounced and he was declared to have exhibited a "brusqueness of manner."

District Auditor Petty's office, in which J. M. Watson managed to get away with $75,000, is said to have been among the places where complaints concerning Gilmore's methods originated. At the department of justice, where the disbursing clerk afterwards defaulted, he was charged with "brusqueness." Auditor Castle, who resigned a few days ago, also found fault with his methods.

Gilmore is said to have been reduced in salary on representations made by former First Assistant Postmaster General Heath and removed from the postoffice department and transferred to the office of the auditor for the state and other departments. President Roosevelt is said to be considering the granting to Mr. Gilmore some recognition for his services.

HANNA POINTS TO PROSPERITY

for there, in several lengthy speeches, he defended the theory and declared the time was coming when it would be the policy of the country. When that time came he wanted to be a member of the party which brought it about. He is as much a single taxer today as he ever was and this is shown by the fact the men with whom he has surrounded himself in Cleveland are all disciples of Henry George. He cannot dodge the issue. We will bring it home to him.

"We do not propose that the people are to be fooled by such trifling issues as he is endeavoring to make the leading questions of this campaign."

An extra meeting has been arranged for Senator Hanna. He will speak at Cleveland on Wednesday evening, answering the attack upon him by City Solicitor Baker in reference to the ship subsidy bill.

EIGHT ITALIANS ARE COMMITTED TO JAIL

Only One of Those Accused of Fraudulent Naturalization Secures Bail.

United States Commissioner H. D. Gamble last evening committed to jail eight of the nine Italians arrested on Monday for alleged fraud in securing naturalization papers. The hearing is set for Friday. Vincenzia Pettinata was the only one able to secure bail for his release until the hearing.

Those who went to jail in default of the $1,000 bail are: Guiseppe Furia, Guiseppe Pettinata, Guiseppe Paravanti, Guiseppe Manno, Gregorio Scolieri, Filippo Borelio, Dominec Grecco and Gregorio Lazaro.

The specific charge against them is securing a certificate of citizenship by fraud and false statement.

NEWSIES SEE EXPO.

"Newsies" by the score invaded the Pittsburgh Exposition yesterday afternoon and were given the best of everything the big show at the Point affords. All were from the Newsboys' home and were the guests of the Exposition management.

The whole afternoon was taken in seeing all the sights. The rest of the visitors did not amount to much after the boys' arrived. The roller coaster, all the 57 varieties, the "tangle," the marionettes, the Johnstown flood, the phonographs, the "mystic chamber," the silhouette man, the incubator babies, Little Elsie, the cocoa folks, the biscuit people, the restaurant managers, and every one else were at their service and command. A trip on the "Florence Bell" had been planned but was abandoned because it took too much time to do all the other stunts.

Murderer of Stepfather Acquitted.

CAIRO, ILL., Oct. 14.—Den Pitts, while intoxicated last night, attacked his wife with a knife, cutting her throat, inflicting fatal injuries. Pitts was then attacked by his stepson, Claude Wright, who cut Pitts' throat from ear to ear, severing the the jugular vein. Pitts died today. At a preliminary trial, young Wright was acquitted.

Walcott Got the Decision.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—Joe Walcott, in a 15-round fight tonight with Kid Carter at the New Criterion club, was given the decision although the spectators hooted the referee and demanded a draw. Carter was knocked down twice in the first round, but later he put up a stiff fight.

Four Thousand Cars Ordered.

BUTLER, PA., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—The Standard Steel Car works yesterday received new orders for 4,000 steel cars, which, with those already booked, will keep the works running until March in the steel department, while the wooden car department has orders which will keep it in operation for 10 months.

C. M. B. A.'S MUST PAY MORE MONEY

The Insurance Rates Are to Be Adjusted by the Supreme Council.

NOW IN TRIENNIAL SESSION

Convention Opened, After Council Had Attended High Mass at Epiphany Church—Supreme President Makes Important Recommendations.

Legislation of importance to the members of the Catholic Mutual Benefit association will be adopted today, when the supreme council will readjust the assessments for insurance. The entire afternoon was spent yesterday in discussing proposed amendments to the constitution, the most important one being the proposition to increase the insurance rates.

All the fraternal orders have learned that their rates are too low and most of them have taken action to make them higher. Only a month ago the Order of United Workmen discussed the project in Pittsburgh and the rates proposed met with much opposition, as the assessment suggested for the older members was $8 for each $2,000 of insurance. No such high rate is proposed for the Catholic Mutual Benefit association.

Before the meeting of the supreme council invitations to all the grand presidents, secretaries, grand medical examiners and legal advisers were sent out, asking them to meet in conference with the supreme council. The conference was held yesterday and the figures furnished to the supreme secretary by the insurance commissioners of New York and Massachusetts were fully discussed. It could not be learned what rates are proposed, but the supreme council progressed so far with the work that it is fully believed that the new legislation will be adopted today. The supreme council, by the charter of the organization, has full power to legislate and its laws need not be submitted to the various grand councils.

Attended Solemn High Mass.

The triennial convention of the supreme council began yesterday. Nearly every one of the 60 members had arrived when the council, with the local committee of arrangements, visitors and members of local councils assembled in the rotunda of the Monongahela House to attend solemn high mass at the Epiphany church in Washington street. Headed by the Second Brigade band they marched along Smithfield street, Fifth and Wylie avenues and Washington street to the church.

Father Thomas F. Walsh was the celebrant of the mass, Father William P. Runlea was the deacon and Father Charles F. Sullivan the sub-deacon. Father Walsh also preached the sermon. Father Miles Sweeney was the master of ceremonies.

At noon the business session was called to order in the banquet hall of the Monongahela House. Attorney William J. Brennen welcomed the supreme council as the representative of the municipality, Mayor Hays being ill. Grand President M. J. Maxwell of Allegheny spoke the welcome on behalf of the grand council of Pennsylvania, and the supreme president, John J. Hynes of Buffalo, responded.

The council then went into executive session and the report of the supreme president was read. He recommended the adoption of legislation for a readjustment of insurance rates and, in accordance with his suggestion, a committee of 15 was appointed to consider the necessary laws. The committee, which is expected to report today, is composed of Thomas P. Hoban, Scranton; W. C. Shields, Cerry; J. F. Keenan, Detroit, Mich.; Rev. M. J. Kean, Buffalo; James L. Whalen, Rochester, N. Y.; N. P. Whelen, Cleveland; M. J. McMahon, Pittsburgh; Robert Wigger, New York; Thomas L. McAvoy, New York; J. B. Fox, Bradford; H. Pruesser, Cleveland; Rev. J. B. Schrembs, Grand Rapids, Mich.; L. H. Hannen, Burlington, Kan.; P. F. McCaffrey, Montreal; Edouard Cadieux, Holyoke, Mass.

Suggestions of President Hynes.

In his report President Hynes referred to the projected federation of Catholic societies and asked that the supreme council take action at the present session. He favored one official organ, instead of two; suggested that it be conducted and maintained by the order and that the matter be submitted to the law committee and legal advisers. President Hynes suggested that a board of grand medical examiners be constituted and that the membership of the order in the Fraternal congress be continued.

The report of Supreme Recorder Joseph Cameron showed the condition of the three big funds for the triennial term to be as follows: Beneficiary, $3,177,533 12; general, $91,855 25; reserve, $1,000,324 58. Of the latter fund $950,126 72 was in reserve three years ago and the amount accumulated during the term ending was $3,171,656 14 was paid out in death benefits and $74,908 62 for expenses. Of the latter amount $22,387 28 was for official papers and $8,469 29 for organizing purposes. Three years ago the membership was 51,816, and 17,697 new members were added during the term. The number of deaths was 1,960 and lapses 5,409, leaving a total membership on September last of 61,936. During the three years the average age of those initiated was 29 years, 6 months and 25 days.

Cable Sent to Pope Pius.

Supreme Treasurer James S. Welsh's report was largely a duplication of the recorder's report. The board of trustees reported the acts of their meetings, which are held every three months. Reports of J. F. Keenan, supreme legal adviser, and of the law committee were read.

"His Holiness Pius X., Rome, Italy:

"The Catholic Mutual Benefit association, in convention assembled, congratulates your holiness on your happy accession and humbly implores the apostolic benediction. JOHN J. HYNES,
"Supreme President."

A telegram was also sent to the Most Rev. J. E. Quigley, archbishop of Chicago and spiritual advisor of the order, congratulating him on his promotion to the archbishopric and expressing the regret of the order at his inability to attend the meeting.

STRIKE ORDER ISSUED.

Agreement Was Not Reached in the Dispute at Canton.

The meeting between the officials of the Amalgamated Association and the Stark Rolling Mill Company of Canton, O., resulted in a disagreement and President Theodore J. Shafer issued a strike order yesterday afternoon. The mill owners asked that the limit production be eliminated from the scale agreement, but the Amalgamated officials refused to grant this until all the lodges in the association would consent to the proposition.

The strike order went into effect last midnight, and 275 men will be affected. Some of the men at the Stark plant, who are members of the association, are opposed to a strike at this time, consequently the strike order may not be fully obeyed.

American Whaler and Crew Lost.

FAYAL, AZORES, Oct. 13.—The American whaler Joseph Manta has been wrecked on the island of Pico, one of the Azores group, and all on board were lost. The Joseph Manta hailed from Provincetor, Mass. She carried a crew of 15 men.

VIRGIN ALLEY WIDENING IS TO COME UP TODAY

Reported That Politicians Propose to Interfere With Big Downtown Improvement.

The widening of Virgin alley is to be considered at a meeting of the public works committee of select council called for this afternoon. The ordinance authorizing the improvement has been passed by councils and the viewers are ready to file their awards of damages and benefits in court, and there is no necessity for further action on the part of councils; but the matter has been brought up at the suggestion of Mayor Hays, who transmitted to councils Monday a communication from Solicitor Rodgers calling attention to the fact that the city had been assessed about $162,000 for benefits to the city hall property, combined with the difference of benefits and damages assessed on private property.

There were rumors yesterday that certain politicians might attempt to interfere with this big downtown improvement, as they did when Diamond alley was widened. It could hardly be credited, however, that a great improvement of this character would be mixed up with politics, yet there were persons who claimed that the committee had been called for the purpose of recommending the introduction of a repealing ordinance.

It was reported that a few politicians had persuaded some of the property owners who appealed from the awards of the viewers to appear before the council committee and raise objections to the widening of the alley, and that these objections were to be made the basis for the hold-up of the improvement.

The widening of Diamond alley was delayed for many months by this procedure, but opposition was finally dissipated by public sentiment. With the widening of Diamond alley and Virgin completed, the city will have two spacious thoroughfares running parallel through the heart of the city, thus affording relief to the great congestion of the downtown section and removing part of the immense traffic of Fifth avenue.

AUTO DRIVERS RACED INTO THE FOREST CITY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13.—After a dash across the state from Erie the automobilists in the New York to Pittsburgh endurance race are tonight enjoying the hospitality of the Automobile club of this city. The run to Pittsburgh, the terminus of the trip, will begin in front of the Hollenden at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The autoists left Erie at 6:30 this morning, the weather and roads being perfect. No. 36, driven by Mrs. Riker, arrived in Erie at 11:50 last night and machines 23 and 24 at 8 o'clock this morning. They left at 10 a. m. Ashtabula was reached in 1 hour and 40 minutes, that city being 44 miles from Erie.

From Ashtabula to Madison the roads were for several miles smooth as a race track, and over these F. B. Stearns sent his machine at express train speed, going mile after mile in 1:10 and 1:12. In just 3 hours and 13 minutes after leaving the Erie garage the Stearns car rolled into Willoughby, 82 miles from Erie.

Stearns laid over for 35 minutes until car No. 5 came in. Stearns and Jay, the driver of No. 5, decided to ride into Cleveland together. In less than an hour their machines were at the armory.

It was a half hour before the next car arrived, and from that time all the afternoon auto after auto came into the armory.

COMPERS GIVES ADVICE.

Counsels New York Workmen to Accept Arbitration Agreement and Go to Work.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—After investigating the labor troubles in New York for two days Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, tonight sent out a communication to all "building trades unions for New York and vicinity" in which he says that sympathetic strikes have undoubtedly led to most of the trouble here and counsels all unions which have not done so to accept the employers' arbitration plan and return to work as quickly as possible.

Sympathetic strikes are prohibited by this agreement. Nearly four-fifths of all the workmen in the New York building trades are members of the American Federation and this stand taken by the head of the powerful order will have considerable influence.

FRANK A. PARKER.

PITTSBURGHERS ARRIVE ON KAISER WILHELM II.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruben of Pittsburgh returned from Europe today on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. They spent several weeks abroad. Mr. and Mrs. Ruben are registered at the Savoy hotel. They will leave for Pittsburgh Thursday night.

Frank B. Wells Dead.

Frank B. Wells, a young Philadelphia business man, 25 years old, died yesterday at the Passavant hospital. Mr. Wells came to Pittsburgh about a week ago. He became sick and went to the Passavant hospital on Saturday evening. It was found that he had an advanced stage of appendicitis and the operation performed on Sunday could not save him. He was a son of George B. Wells of Philadelphia.

Automobilist Died of Injuries.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 14.—Lawrence P. McLoud, of the stock broker firm of McLoud, Quayle & Company, died tonight as the result of injuries received a few evenings ago, when his automobile ran into a wagon. McLoud was thrown into the street and so badly hurt that he was taken to a hospital and operated upon immediately. His injury developed peritonitis.

Catarrh

Invites Consumption

It weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and breaks down the general health.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Read the testimonials.

"I was troubled with catarrh 20 years. Seeing statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla resolved to try it. Four bottles entirely cured me." WILLIAM SHERMAN, 1080 6th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

BOTH FIGHT FOR THE INJUNCTION

SPEYER & CO.'S HARD FIGHT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

TORONTO, ONT., Oct. 13.—The legal battle over the Soo works was before Justice Britton today. He had been asked by the bondholders to continue the four injunctions they obtained at the Soo against the Consolidated Company's further "interference" with the rights of Speyer & Company and the bondholders, while the Consolidated Company has asked to have continued the injunction they obtained yesterday preventing any further proceedings in any one of those four actions.

In an interview Lawyer Bicknell, acting receiver, at the Soo, of the Lake Superior Consolidated says:

"With the sale of the securities held by Speyer & Company, Senator Dandurand speaks of, I have nothing to do. Suppose they are sold, that will not affect the position of affairs. The way the officials at the Soo have acted in refusing me possession and the fact that they are depreciating the value of the property and are endeavoring to destroy our securities, would operate against their efforts in obtaining delay in New York.

"If possession had been given to us as under the terms of the overdue mortgage and on the understanding upon which I first went to the Soo, no doubt the same generous treatment that has been extended to the Consolidated Company on the other side up to July last, would have been continued. Every request of the directors was acquiesced in by us until they announced their efforts had failed. Then we thought it time to enforce our rights and have been met with this unreasonable and unauthorized opposition.

"There will be no difficulty in Senator Dandurand, or any other probable purchaser obtaining full inspection of all the property, if the trustees for the bondholders are given possession. The credit of the industries will then be re-established and there will be a much better chance to put the works again in operation than if they continue in the possession of the people who were unable to pay the wages of their men, which the government has since done for them and are speedily turning chattels of the company into cash at sacrifice prices. There are now 60 cars of coke at the works upon which the freight has not been paid, and no money to pay it."

ANNUAL MEETING OF WISCONSIN CENTRAL

Japanese Treaty Also Signed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Secretary Hay, having cabled Minister Conger at Peking asking him when the American-Chinese commercial treaty would reach Washington, has received a reply that it might be expected the first of November. Minister Conger also cabled that the Japanese-Chinese commercial treaty was signed last Thursday.

Another Victim of Feudal War.

MIDDLESBORO, KY., Oct. 13.—A feud on Clear Fork in this county between the Bowders and Parton families, has resulted in the killing of James Parton. Parton alone defied a number of the Bowders crowd and was killed. Several arrests have been made including three members of the Bowders family.

Steel Officials Go on West.

The officials of the United States Steel Corporation who spent Monday inspecting the Homestead, Braddock and McKeesport plants, started on their western trip yesterday morning. The first stop was at Ambridge, where the big new plant of the American Bridge Company was inspected.

VERNER BUSY MAKING DENIALS

WAINWRIGHT FOR MAYOR

Hugh Ferguson Gives Some Interesting Information Concerning the Head of Select Council Combine—"Orphan" Shearer Warps His Pledge.

Murry A. Verner, chief apologist and head of the denial department of the Bigelow machine, finds that his duties take up most of his time. Yesterday he endeavored to show that two true stories are absolutely false and made a fizzle of both attempts.

His attempt to show that he has not taken over the select council combine in the face of his own organ's flat statement that he is the director general of this bunch of statesmen, is causing much amusement. Of his ownership he says:

"I have endeavored personally to secure the co-operation of the combine for a sensible and honest legislative program in select council on the important platform legislation still pending."

Among other co-operative acts in the line of "sensible and honest legislation" was the motion to adjourn in order to prevent the passage of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance, thus tying up important improvements of benefit to the city.

The Bigelow machine wanted to have a private working agreement with the combine, but did not desire it publicly known that it controlled the aggregation. Now that the Citizen's morning organ has officially announced that the party leaders have taken over the combine, there is a great deal of wriggling at Bigelow headquarters. Having been caught with the goods, Verner was called upon to do the best he could.

Ferguson Turns on Light.

On the question of whether he had S. J. Wainwright, select councilman from the Eighteenth ward, in line for Bigelow's candidates, Verner resorted to the old game of dodging. A little light on this matter was turned on the other day by Common councilman Hugh Ferguson of the Seventeenth ward, who has smoldered his wrath toward the Bigelow machine and is going along. When asked where he was in the contest this fall, he replied:

"I am for Murry Verner."

"What office is he a candidate for?" was asked.

"He is not a candidate for any office," said Ferguson, "but I want him to win. We then want to make Sam Wainwright the next mayor.

This little explanation may throw some light on the activity of the head of the select council combine. The next city executive is not chosen until February, 1906, but there is nothing like getting an early start on the gilding of the brick.

Verner appears to be running a serial denial of The Gazette story of Monday relative to the intention of the Bigelow machine to sacrifice the balance of its ticket in the hope of electing Harry L. Goehring district attorney and thus weld the last link in the Bigelow chain of county and municipal control.

Monday night Verner had a mild denial of the story in his evening organ and his morning organ of yesterday contained a statement. Last evening Verner sent a type-written denial to all of the papers for publication this morning. He had County Commissioner James A. Clark, who is in charge of the Bigelow Democracy, join in the denial. They point out that because Goehring and James A. Bleichner, the fusion candidate for prothonotary, travel together in the search of votes, the story could not be true.

No one thought that Goehring and Bleichner bombarded a man together and then the former called the victim to one side and whispered to him to trade off Bleichner. The men who will attend to the cutting game are not the candidates. Others are selected for this and they are now at work. Confirmation of it has been given The Gazette right in the headquarters where Clark presides. Men are being sent into every section of the county to work solely for Goehring. Perhaps Verner attended a conference last week where a prominent Democrat of the county was urged to do this. He at least gets credit for being there and for failing to land the man. Three Sixth district Citizens were found yesterday who had been asked to vote and work solely for Goehring.

Old Story Not Denied.

One story that Verner's denial factory has not been put to work on relates to the Bigelow machine agents who are traveling over the county promising liquor licenses, wholesale or retail, in return for votes. To assist them in their work, they are making use of the names of judges. There have been a number of evidences that this is being done, but Verner has not ordered his organs to make denials. Careful investigation is being made of each case where the saloonkeeper is being used in the "fight for reform" and the facts will be ready for the next license court.

Effort was made by the Bigelow machine literary bureau last night to justify Mayor William B. Hays' action in the dismissal of 58 old soldiers. He is made to say that they were discharged because of incompetency or through fear that they would demoralize the discipline of the public service. The information is also thrown in that out in the country towns where the Citizens are in control many veterans have been given employment. The claim is made that 218 old soldiers find employment in the public service of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and the county.

Another political "Orphan" was found working for the Bigelow machine last night. He is Councilman I. W. Shearer of the Thirty-seventh ward. There was a gathering of the payroll last evening and he presided, but probably, like "Orphan" Crawford, he had promised to perform this service before he signed with "Orphan" Stevenson. It may also be true that after he saw how "Orphan" Stevenson obeyed the orders of Verner and E. M. Bigelow on Monday, he saw no harm in a slight warping of the "Orphans' " pledge.

Managers of the Citizens party campaign are in such desperate straits that they are working the Chinese joints in the lower avenues for votes, under the implied threats of prosecution. It is unnecessary to say who frequents these places. Those who do not know are not anxious to absorb information about the avenues below Fourth. Side by side in the Chinese joints in the lower avenues appear these signs:

Meals Must Be Paid for in Advance.	WARNING. This building is connected with the police bureau. Any person acting disorderly will be dealt with according to law.

Proudly displayed on the same walls with these notices is a list of the Citizens party candidates—names and pictures. No intimation is given in the signs as to whether the conection with the police bureau is political, financial or telephonic, but the denizens of the under world suppose from the notices that it is official.

CASTORIA.

Test for Yourself the Wonderful Curative Properties of Swamp-Root

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the World-Famous Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, Will do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle FREE.

Gentlemen:—Some two years ago I was so run down that I lacked strength, had no appetite and could not sleep nights. Sometimes it seemed as though my back would break in two after stooping. I had to get up many times during the night to urinate and go often through the day. After having the best physicians prescribe for me without relief, I decided from my symptoms that the medicine I needed was Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. After trying a sample bottle with good results, I purchased six bottles of the regular size, and after taking them was entirely cured. Swamp-Root is a wonderful remedy when a man is not feeling well, after exposure or loss of sleep and irregular meals. It is also a great medicine to tone up a man's system. Other members of the police force are using and recommending Swamp-Root. They, like myself, cannot say too much in praise of this great remedy.

The officers (whose signatures accompany this letter), as well as myself, thank you for the good you have accomplished in the compounding of Swamp-Root.

We remain, yours very truly,

To Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. William Moore, Chief of Police. W. H. Fredenburg, Roundsman. John W. Heath, Patrolman. Officers of the Binghamton, N. Y., Police Department.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the famous new discovery, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often through the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh of the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints and muscles; makes your head ache and back ache, causes indigestion, stomach and liver trouble; you get a sallow, yellow complexion, makes you feel as though you had heart trouble; you may have plenty of ambition, but no strength; get weak and waste away.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is used in the leading hospitals, recommended by physicians in their private practice and is taken by doctors themselves, because they recognize in it the greatest and most successful remedy that science has ever been able to compound.

EDITORIAL NOTICE—Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, is so remarkably successful that a special arrangement has been made by which all of our readers who have not already tried it may have a sample bottle sent absolutely free by mail. Also a book telling all about kidney and bladder troubles and containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured by Swamp-Root. In writing, be sure and mention that you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette when sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root—Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton N. Y., on every bottle.

Women's New Suits and New Coats.

Daily Demonstrations.

Basement:
How to make bread in 3 minutes.
Block Light, 300 candle power.

Main Floor:
"The Palma" Teneriffe Lace Constructor, showing how a simple thing can be one of much utility.

Sixth Floor:
Prof. Takahashi's lectures and demonstrations on Art Needlework: 9 to 11, morning; 3 to 5, afternoon.

Whether we make mention of this second floor department or not, it is crowded these days, and we have a pride in knowing that we are amply able to take good care of as large crowds as may come. This leads us to say that heretofore on Exposition Thursdays—referring to the large excursions that come in on that day—that we have been particularly successful in waiting expeditiously upon the many people from out of town.

As the Exposition days are drawing to a close and as tomorrow's excursions will undoubtedly be among the largest that have been brought to the city, we announce our capability of taking care of as many as choose to favor us, not only in this popular Suit and Wrap Department, but in any department of the store.

Now for some evidence of our underprices—

Inexpensive and Stylish Jackets.

Pillow Top Sale Today, Main Aisle.

Also 35c tapestry Pillow Tops, with backs, included in this sale.

This is a most interesting offer to women who have leisure for embroidering, and we might hint there is plenty of time to have them ready for the Christmas gift. Nothing more acceptable.

Another Arrival from the Orient.

We have just cleared from the Pittsburg Custom House 22 bales of Persian Rugs (a bale holds a good many), which we imported direct from the Orient.

We do not buy our Oriental rugs from importing houses. We prefer to import ourselves. We are of the opinion that Pittsburg people are just as much entitled to first choice as the people in New York, and all New York importers / have the rather bad habit of manipulating and classifying the rugs before sending them West.

Another thing, by importing direct we get closer prices as a first consideration, and as as second consideration, we save the customer the New York importers' profit.

That we have the largest and most varied collection of Oriental Rugs outside of New York is an established fact so widely known that people from other cities come here to buy rugs. A hint or two of our low prices:

Special Reductions on Dress Trimmings.

Several lots that have been sold down to where it cannot be said choice is exceptionally good. That is not saying, however, that the lots are meager. As a matter of fact, each line is fairly large.

At 5c each, formerly sold for 12c, 15c and 20c, Black Drop Ornaments with Pendants, both in Fringe and Milan effects.

50c Vestings, 35c a yard.

Rather a cold sort of announcement, except that you see a saving of 15c on each yard. But in reading further the matter becomes of immense importance.

These special Vestings are, first, highly mercerized; are, second, of such solid colors as pink, sky blue, delft blue, light reseda, champagne, biscuit, marine blue and black; are, third, a lot comprising some 1,400 yards that an importer brought out to Manchester, England, and literally sacrificed them to us.

We place them before you this morning at the above liberal reduction in price, and you will find them both finely woven and beautifully finished. For the Fall and Winter Waist, for the short skirt, for the walking suit, they are commendable. They have a special place in Fifth Street cross aisle.

Specimen Reductions on China.

On Monday morning, and again on Monday afternoon, we announced special reductions both in the China Department of the Basement and Bric-a-Brac Department of the third floor. The reductions were specially brought about by the fact that next Saturday these departments move into new and spacious quarters. To show what we consider special reductions the following are mentioned—

11 piece Toilet Sets, domestic pottery, print decorations, selling regularly for $4.50, now specially priced at $3.50.

100 piece French China Dinner Sets, neat pink spray decorations, retailing regularly for $25.00, now special at $17.50.

Table and Couch Covers.

Besides Lace Curtains, Portieres, Draperies and Drapery Stuffs, this fourth floor department has many other lines, not the least of which are Table and Couch covers.

As something very special we name French Velour Table Covers, 2 yards square, formerly sold for $10.00, now selling for $6.80.

New Table Covers of Velour with illuminated borders, assorted sizes, assorted colors, inexpensively priced at $4.00, $6.00, $9.00 and $12.50.

Imported Cretonnes, a fabric that has manifold uses, 50c a yard for grades that sold for 60c, 75c, 80c and 90c a yard.

New White Dimity Brocades, side patterns, 20 inches deep, therefore admirable for bed valances. These new dimities are all pure white and have a glove finish, 25c and 30c a yard.

Lace Curtains at Underprices

Women who favor the all-around good Nottingham Curtain can buy these curtains here now for very much less than regular prices. We started the week with a lot of some 3,000 pairs, bought from a manufacturer who was inclined to let his surplus go for a reasonable figure, and you may be sure that Nottinghams walked out of here pretty fast Monday and yesterday. There is still good choosing. The curtains are perfect in every way, and are up to date in design.

$2.00 Nottinghams for $1.25 a pair.

$3.00 Nottinghams for $2.00 a pair, and up to Nottinghams worth $4.00 for $2.75 a pair.

Perhaps Nottingham Curtains will not be to your notion. If that is the case we invite attention to our new and large importations of such handsome curtains as Renaissance Lace Curtains from $3.50 a pair up to $30.00.

Marie Antoinette Lace Curtains from $4.00 a pair up to $35.00.

Arabian Lace Curtains from $8.50 up to $375.00.

Brussels Point Lace Curtains from $11.00 a pair up to $60.00.

Irish Point Lace Curtains from $2.70 a pair up to $18.00.

Women's Golf Vests.

A garment at first recognized only on the green, now considered apropos for street wear, especially by the younger set.

We have full lines of Golf Vests, as well as Blouses, and you will notice that some of them are quite inexpensive.

Golf Vests, both single and double breasted, from $1.25 up to $5.00. All colors.

One of the latest models is a fine zephyr single breasted Golf Vest, finished with brass buttons, red and white, black and white, white and black, price $5.00.

Blouses of silk-and-wool—white, red, Yale blue, full sleeve, blouse front, finished with worsted band; can be worn either with high collar or low collar, as shield and collar are separate. Price $5.00.

Hair Curlers and Wavers, 20c

Made of soft rubber, cannot injure the head, break the hair or prevent sleep. They are easy to use, and will do the work wonderfully well and quickly, too.

Specially recommended for curling children's hair.

Wednesday, October 14, 1903.

A very fair indication of the trend of political events is afforded by the Jacksonian club of Allegheny. At its regular monthly meeting last night it indorsed the Republican county ticket along with the Democratic state ticket. Its reason is good. It does not recognize the proprietary affair in this county as a Democratic organization and it prefers to support Republican candidates, nominated in open primaries, to supporting a ticket created by a select committee at the dictation of one boss.

The thin disguise of party loyalty worn by Chairman Wainwright of the rump committee in finance of select council has been practically thrown off and he is appearing in this campaign as a Citizens party worker, just as his course in councils has indicated him to be. It is a great relief to the Republican party to be rid of such adherents, and it simplifies the political situation to have all such go where they belong. The present Citizens party organization is simply the old ring rule, with every bad characteristic greatly intensified.

Canada has, at least, been prepared for an adverse decision in the Alaska boundary matter. We referred yesterday to the publication in the London Times of opinion to that effect. This morning we reprint, in another column, a special cable dispatch to the Toronto News, dated last Saturday. It is very positive in its terms and probably goes farther than actual information at that time warranted. Yet there is good reason for the view presented. Lord Alverstone is of judicial mind and disposition. The facts unquestionably favor the American case. The acquiescence of Canada in the delimitation of territory, as shown by the old maps, until the discovery of gold gave the region an appearance of value is fatal on the face of it to Canadian pretensions. The American case has been ably presented and the forcible argument of Mr. Watson made obvious impression upon the lord chief justice. There is no good reason why the decision should not favor the United States and, in fact, that is the only decision that may be reached, for the American commissioners could accept no other.

Advices in regard to the situation in the far east are becoming less alarming, but the tension is still great. The main security for peace is the preponderance of national interest in its favor. Russia undoubtedly means to hold on to Manchuria, and her repeated promises of evacuation were meant to secure more time in which to strengthen her position, but it is not to her interest to give such provocation to Japan as to precipitate an outbreak of hostilities. The probability is that some concessions will be offered to Japan, and the Japanese statesmen are too wary to engage in a hopeless struggle. Their time will come when Russia is involved in difficulties with some other power. The situation has been of enormous advantage to England, for while Japan is crouched upon Russia's flank, ready to spring when the opportunity arrives, Russia has to be very circumspect in her foreign policy. But for the alteration in the balance of power caused by the entrance of Japan into the circle of civilization, England would have hardly escaped serious harm, while her available military strength was monopolized by the South African war, but as it was not a power, made a movement to take advantage of the situation. It would have been a golden opportunity for Russia, save for the fact that Japan's army could have supplemented England's navy in case of a rupture.

Although some time ago it was positively announced that the president would urge financial legislation upon congress at the extra session, it appears to be now settled that the sole subject presented for consideration will be the Cuban reciprocity treaty. The Democratic leaders will make use of this to introduce the general subject of tariff revision, and a tariff debate is proverbially a long debate, so that it may easily and probably will consume the whole time of the extra session. One element of delay is the contention raised by high tariff extremists that the reciprocity treaty violates an implied contract with producers entered into by the Dingley tariff act. As that act distinctly provides for reciprocity agreements, and specifies the reduction of duty which may be made by them, the contention is rather absurd, but it is being vigorously pressed by the American Economist, the organ of the American Tariff league. If this contention is pressed it will play into the hands of the Democratic leaders and will protract the debate. The indications, however, are that the party leaders think the best course to pursue is to dispose of the Cuban reciprocity issue by ratifying the treaty.

A circumstance which doubtless had much to do with the abandonment of the intention to press financial legislation upon the consideration of congress, is the fact that Secretary Shaw has assumed and is exercising pretty nearly all the powers which the Aldrich bill proposed to confer. It authorized him to accept other good bonds in place of government bonds as security for government deposits, but the bill could not be gotten through the senate. Secretary Shaw has, however, provided himself with the requisite authority by construing existing law in accordance with that policy. His right to do so will be assailed by the Democratic leaders in a perfunctory way, but congress will do nothing, as its real feeling on the subject is one of gratification on being relieved of the responsibility. The disposition of congress to abdicate its authority is very marked in regard to financial policy, the shaping of which has been left to the executive department so completely that its main features are the results of executive action under pressure of emergencies for which congress could not be induced to make provision. The redemption fund was a purely executive measure, existing for years before it was recognized by legislation. This inclination of congress to shift responsibility to the president is so great that in 1894, when the government was finding it difficult to maintain specie payments, but doubted whether the right existed to sell bonds to replenish the redemption fund, congress refused to consider the matter. The senate finance committee was then under Democratic control, Mr. Voorhees of Indiana being chairman, and he issued a public statement that it would be wiser for the administration to assume the authority "than to encounter the delays and uncertainties always incident to protracted discussion in the two houses of congress." This was the bond issue about which Mr. Bryan has been assailing President Cleveland ever since, but the president's action was absolutely compelled by Democratic party policy. Secretary Shaw's recent action has doubtless had a similar history. The congressional leaders would rather that he take the responsibility than that it should be thrown upon congress.

Things to Think Of.

Men are asking each other where is the stock market flurry to end. They are hearing and believing stories that a few months ago would have been laughed at. Such are the effects of fear or shaken confidence. Just such a time as this is one for healthy thinking. Humanity is prone to go from one extreme to another. But the men who are most successful in business are those who do not follow the crowd—who resist impulses, who are not affected by financial contagions.

It is well to remember at the moment that the country is in good condition. Crops are above the average and the people are comfortable. Thousands who have not been buying or selling corporate shares have money in the banks and other property. Though there are defects in the currency system, the currency itself is absolutely sound. It was never on a better basis. There is no depreciation as there was in 1873, and there is no threat of degradation of the currency as in 1893. Basic conditions are vastly better than during those periods of liquidation, resembling more nearly the conditions of 1884. With good basic conditions the recovery should be rapid.

Apparently, the fear in men's hearts is inspired by the comparatively new class of securities, the "industrials." This word was not known to Wall street in 1873. Yet it is not a menacing term. No doubt some companies have been builded of air and water. Disclosures concerning Consolidated Lake Superior and United States Shipbuilding have had their effect. In 1873 there were railroad enterprises just as fragile as any of the new industrials. Even they were not altogether worthless. On their account all railroads were under suspicion and no one wanted their securities, that is, none but the shrewd financiers, who knew there was a better time coming and that property is always worth money. There are good companies among the industrials, and when the temporary fear has passed they will have greater earning power than they had last year. By a little inquiry any one can pick them out. There are a good many of them, more than there are of the other sort, and owing to circumstances they are on the bargain counter. It is a good time to buy them while they are cheap.

Last May The Gazette printed several articles advising the reefing of extra sails of commercial and financial craft. Signs of a gale were not wholly wanting then. Unfortunately, some craft crowded on more sail to make the winning in the race by a bigger margin. It is not surprising that some have capsized, and it would not matter so much if the upturned hulks had not cluttered the course. Now it is only fair to conclude the gale has spent its force, the fleet has passed the wrecks and a little calm sailing will bring it safe into port. The captains of finance are buying cheap goods and the careful small investors are looking for good chances. The Gazette published a table yesterday showing a large increase in the total number of shareholders in a group of corporations. This sort of diffusion is a good thing, because it broadens the foundation and strengthens the structure. With the good crops, a sound currency and a people in possession of the fruits of years of prosperity this country was never really in better condition than now. The squeeze it has undergone will have the good effect of restoring plainer and more wholesome living; will eliminate some of the tawdry display following the wake of over quick-made millionaires. The country is in no condition to exclaim: "All is lost save honor." It has honor left and much besides, including the richest natural resources on earth, the material from which big earnings and prosperity are made.

The Sunshiny Side.

The tour of inspection of the officials of the United States Steel Corporation is a matter of ordinary routine, but preliminary to the departure from New York of the inspecting party, Wall street invested their itinerary with an unusual atmosphere of importance. Particular stress was laid on declarations that the special purpose was the study of physical conditions with a view to the inauguration of economies of operation. Inasmuch as there is constant effort in boom times and in other times to promote economy of production, it was a safe guess that the officials of the corporation would consider where a saving might be made here and an expense of some sort lopped off there, and how something else might be accomplished just as well for less money. But the whole object of the trip is not ascertainment of where and how money may be saved. In fact, that is merely incidental to the general purpose of the inspection. Wall street does not take the broad view, but apparently sees only one thing at a time, and is so busy seeing it that it refuses to have its attention diverted to anything else. Consequently, it entirely overlooks the fact that betterments are being made and that improvements are under way and planned and that the money to pay for them is in the treasury of the corporation. It once took account of these large items of betterment and applauded them, but now apparently forgets them and wholly ignores the fact that a principal duty of the United States Steel officials on this trip is to inspect the new work under way and the plans for other new work to be started. It may not cure Wall street's blue funk to call attention to these things, and the very thought of spending money when Wall street is feeling as it feels might cause it a fresh spasm of pain, but to people in this region there is something cheerful and inspiring in the thought that large improvements are in progress.

To a Gazette reporter, W. E. Corey, president of the United States Steel Corporation, said: "The trip is to the localities where improvements are to be made." Inspection of these improvements, he explained, was the real object of the visit to the Pittsburgh plants on Monday. Yesterday's visit to Ambridge was to view the large plant under way there, and the visit to Cleveland and Lorain, also made yesterday, was to inspect the new work there. "At Cleveland," said Mr. Corey, "the American Steel and Wire Company (a constituent of the United States Steel Corporation) is making extensive additions to the furnace capacity, as well as to the finishing mills." The news account of the inspection in the Pittsburgh district said that "About three hours were spent in the Tube City, and in that time each member of the inspection party made himself familiar with the location of the plants which are to be erected there at a cost of almost $10,000,000."

The news accounts of the other Pittsburgh papers also told with greater or less detail that the purpose of the steel officials was to inspect the improvements under way. One paper related that at Homestead "the center of attention was at the new plate mill that is being built, and the additions to the armor plate department, which involved the expenditure of over $3,000,000." It also dwelt on the $10,000,000 improvement at the National Tube works at McKeesport which, it is believed, will be a couple of years in the building, on the "$1,750,000 to be spent in Homestead for the largest plate mill in the world," and on "the large sums to be spent at the Edgar Thomson works for improvement on the additional ground secured, amounting to over 14 acres." The improvements within the Pittsburgh district and those at Lorain, "for all of which provision has been made," are, it is stated, "to cost over $25,000,000."

One of the accounts of the inspection of the location for the $10,000,000 improvement at McKeesport said that "as a result the councils were requested last (Monday) night to remove at once the garbage plant, which occupies a portion of the site," indicating that work will begin in the near future.

The apparent intentions of the Steel Corporation to go ahead with its vast schemes of improvement for which the money is in the company's treasury is not an answer to the pessimism of Wall street, but simply ignores it in a business-like manner. The Steel Corporation's stocks are on the Wall street market, but the products of its mills are marketed elsewhere. So long as there is a market for the products that justifies the continuance of improvement and enlargement of the facilities of production the Pittsburgh district will continue cheerful. The expenditure of millions of dollars here and hereabout is a large offset to any measures of economy in operation that may be thought out. But, as a matter of fact, reports of retrenchment seem to begin and end in Wall street.

No Special Meeting.

A special meeting of select council will be called for next Monday night, but the belief is prevalent that it will not be held. Councilman Stevenson and his friends are clamoring for a meeting to pass the linear tax ordinance; the people of the Twenty-third ward are insistent for a meeting to pass the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances and President Lambie thinks the report on the widening of Virgin alley should be attended to promptly. These are three good reasons why select council should meet and act, but none of them appeal to the proprietors of the Democratic Citizens organization. The meeting will likely be called, but it will be another matter to get a quorum or the transaction of any business.

A great many people know why a business meeting of select council is not desired at this time by the Democratic-Citizens managers. On the one hand there is the hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio for a purpose, and on the other hand is the desire to avoid fulfilling the one pledge on which there has been any action without killing it by open opposition. In these matters the air-tight combine is a convenient instrument in the hands of the Democratic-Citizens managers, but there can no longer be any real deception of the people by the pretense of divided responsibility.

Mr. Stevenson as a Catspaw.

On September 13, when it was the announced purpose of the Citizens party leaders to pass franchise tax ordinances, The Gazette said:

The city charter provides that "the city solicitor shall be the legal adviser and act as counsel for the city and all its departments and officers." Now, if councils really mean business, they will pass a resolution instructing the city solicitor to report in what way can the city obtain compensation for the franchises enjoyed by the public service corporations, and make their property subject to taxation; and to accompany his report with drafts of ordinances embodying his recommendations. This is the natural course of procedure, if there is honesty of intention in the matter. If this plain course is avoided the public may be absolutely certain that the whole business is a put-up job, meant to fool the people and to let out the corporations.

The accuracy of this test of party honesty proposed by The Gazette has been demonstrated at every step of the way since. The city solicitor has been kept as far off as possible from the business, and a resolution to refer the matter to him was promptly voted down. Councilman Stevenson appears to have labored sincerely to perfect the legislation as well as he knew how, but his efforts have only served to make him the catspaw of the air-tight combine, with which Chairman Verner and Mayor Hays are understood to be allied. The franchise tax ordinance was put through common council weeks ago and then hung up in the rump committee on finance of select council. The fact that this committee finally let go of it was of itself a sinister indication to those who know its character and methods, so it was not surprising that at the meeting of select council Monday night another expedient of delay was disclosed and the responsibility for it put upon Councilman Stevenson. In order to mend a flaw discovered in the ordinance he prepared an amendment which was offered in select council by Councilman Wainwright, a notorious member of the air-tight combine, and this was promptly made the excuse for doing nothing about this or any other of the legislative measures specified in the program of the Orphans. It was known in advance of the last meeting of the rump committee that the ordinance was to be amended, and it could have been reported with the amendment had action been desired, but the method employed was one which could furnish a pretext for further delay.

The result of Councilman Stevenson's efforts to promote public interests through the Citizens party organization is that he is serving that organization as a catspaw. If the ordinance is passed at all it will be in such shape as to be ineffective. If he tries to make it effective his efforts will be made an excuse for delay. Meanwhile, by playing with him and the rest of the Orphans, the Citizens leaders are keeping them in line and are getting the benefit of their support during the campaign. Election day is only a few weeks off, and the Orphans are still feeding on promises. The understanding among the politicians is that the tax franchise ordinance will be passed in some shape if the managers conclude that they can't get along without it, but all the other features of the Orphans' program will be turned down. There is no intention whatever of ending the hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances until the company settles on the politicians' terms. The fact that the compensation provided in the depot ordinance is acceptable to public opinion does not help its chances a particle.

The Post says: "In commending the spirit that caused the Democrats of Blair county to indorse the Republican candidate for sheriff to the end that politics or no politics, the office should be well and properly conducted, The Gazette probably forgot that this same desire for good government is responsible for the non-partisan movement in Allegheny county, to which it is so bitterly opposed." The Gazette forgets nothing in that connection. It is quite true that a desire for good government gave birth to a non-partisan movement, but while the desire of the people for good government is still the same, the non-partisan movement has vanished in the presence of a bi-partisan grab for the offices and the graft that can be squeezed out through possession of them. The Gazette is not "bitterly opposed" to a non-partisan movement for good government, nor to any movement for good government; but it is sincerely opposed to a bi-partisan false pretense. There is but one organization in Allegheny county sincerely devoted to good government and The Gazette is supporting it and its nominees. It is the Republican party.

A number of our American contemporaries are worrying about what the Chamberlain program means to the British workman in the way of oppressive prices. But a more pertinent question is what it may mean to this country in the way of limiting our market if it goes through.

Russia having announced that the agreement for the evacuation of Manchuria on October 8 has lapsed, it is almost needless to remark that this puts the Russians at least one lapse ahead.

Prof. Langley, it is understood, is not discouraged by reverses, but will continue the effort to make his airship fly as long as the money holds out to burn.

Stocks which found new low levels yesterday are a better purchase than they were the day before.

It is apparent that the Boston baseball players know a good bit more than beans.

Lipton's Proposition.

It is to be hoped that Sir Thomas Lipton's proposition will be realized at an early date. Such a race as he proposes could be had next May or June, and it would inevitably exert a more beneficient influence upon yachting. It would lead, as he has well said, to the construction of "wholesome and able" vessels, and would greatly stimulate interest in the sport and all its industrial and scientific accessories.—Washington Post.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

The real story of a battle does not end with an account of the fighting. Nor are these real stories to be found in histories. There you get an account of the battle as a whole, and as the writer heard it from others, for no one can see the whole of a battle. Even the men in one company in a regiment do not know what other companies are doing. This will explain the differences in the accounts of the same events given by members of the same regiment.

A striking instance of this was the capture of Major John S. Pearce of the Ninety-eighth Ohio. The regiment had charged first in order to meet an attack from a new quarter. Through the haze of smoke made heavier by the sun sinking behind the hills, he noticed a column coming up behind, which he took to be a part of his regiment. Hurrying back he ordered them to close up quickly. As he did so a rebel officer stepped up and told him to dismount and go to the rear, which he did, of course, and just in time to escape a volley from his own men that sent the enemy back in disorder. This was practically the end of the battle, as there was no further regular fighting.

This story would be incomplete without another chapter or two showing what becomes of the wounded and sick, for there were thousands of these in and around Perryville, with no railroads to carry them out, or to carry in supplies. This is, in a way, a more interesting part of the story of a battle than that which refers to the battle itself.

HOSPITAL NO. 5, PERRYVILLE, KY., Oct. 11, 1862.

In spite of being cold and wet and hungry I managed to sleep some in my pew last night, but hardly as comfortably as members of the church have slept in it during long and tiresome sermons. I also became convinced of a thing that I had been suspecting for some time, viz.: that a soldier's overcoat is but a poor substitute for a blanket. It is too short one end or the other, to say nothing of the split in it.

Being hungry plumb through and through, I started on the hunt of grub, but only found crowds of others on the same errand. However, about 9 o'clock I discovered a commissary, but there wasn't anything to be had except coffee. That, however, was next to crackers and bacon, so I got a pound of the unground article, and on my way back to the hospital I found a cove oyster can, which with a few twists of the wrist, I converted into a kettle. Having no coffee mill I tied a handful of berries in a cloth and with a smooth stone I soon had them ground fine enough for use. I have heard it said that coffee should not be ground too fine. This wasn't. Of course, it wasn't long until I had something hot to drink. Some might say it wasn't coffee, but it was. A little later I got a handful of crackers, which helped to fill up some.

The rain having let up, I wandered around town looking for my messmate, Henry Ault, who had gotten away from me during the walk over here last night. I suspected at the time he had crawled into a wagon, or rode on an offmule.

There are some evidences here of fighting, several houses having had holes knocked in them by shells from our guns. The seminary is hospital headquarters, and is taken up mostly with very bad cases. They say school was going on when the fighting broke loose on Wednesday, but it only took a few minutes for teachers, scholars, janitor and all to "git up an' git out," as an old darky put it.

My wound hurts me just enough to make me nervous and restless, but there is nothing that can be done for it, that being according to regulations.

Was surprised to see Major Pearce come marching in from Harrodsburgh in command of 440 paroled prisoners, whom he had pledged to take north to remain until duly exchanged. He said that under no circumstances would he violate this pledge, as no other assurance than his word had been asked that a fair exchange would be made. It was not known in the regiment what had happened to him, as he had been mixed among the missing.

He visited all the Ninety-eighth boys, waiting until he could write letters home. On account of the scarcity of writing material, some of us could only send a line. I used a leaf from my diary and gave some to others. The major had an idea that Bragg would make another stand at Crab Orchard, but his men are so discouraged over their defeat when all looked so rosy, that they are not in good fighting humor.

Heaven bless the women!

While hunger was gnawing my vitals most unfeelingly, three ladies from Danville came in with a basket of the best food ever set before a soldier. They said they were Union folks, and hearing about so many sick and wounded here, they packed up a lot of fried chicken, bread and butter, cold ham and such, and carried it over. Danville is 11 miles from here. They were very kind and hospitable, and promised to come back day after tomorrow.

HOSPITAL NO. 5, PERRYVILLE, KY., Oct. 12, 1862.

Although this is Sunday and we are in a meeting house, there is no preaching or other church business going on. Don't know where the preacher is—in the rebel army, may be. Some say he is chaplain of a Kentucky regiment.

It was awfully cold last night and between that and the soreness of my arm I couldn't sleep; so I got up before daylight, made a can of coffee and had an early breakfast on what was left of the fried chicken I had for dinner yesterday.

Supplies arrived from Louisville. This means hardtack, etc., in abundance.

The Fifteenth Ohio came along on its way to Danville or Crab Orchard. Ewing Ramage and the other Belmont county boys reported themselves all right.

Found my name in a list of the killed. The Cincinnati Commercial is usually quite reliable, but this time it is away off, or else things are not what they seem, for I seem to be alive and kicking, or willing to kick whenever there is a prospect of it doing any good.

Some more ladies came in with baskets of provisions. These were from the country and the grub was first-class and they were as nice as they could be. They said they were loyal to the old flag and hoped and prayed for its triumph over the secesh rag.

Our regiment is at Danville, but Bragg is not there. It is reported here that he is fortifying at Crab Orchard where he expects to turn the tide of battle against Buell.

PERRYVILLE, KY., Oct. 13, 1862.

This house is too cold and inhospitable to be worthy of the name of hospital; so I concluded to drop it.

However, I am doing better, having found a larger tin can to make coffee in. Think it is a tomato can. Haven't anything for breakfast but coffee, crackers and sugar. Rather slim, but I have seen slimmer fare than that. If I could only get hold of a blanket I would stop grumbling. There was a big lot brought in, but not enough to make comfortable beds for the badly wounded and sick.

My old messmate, Henry Ault, came to life and light today. As I suspected, he came to town in a mule wagon and found quarters somewhere outside. He had been hunting for me all the time I had been hunting for him, but neither of us found the other. We went across the river to see Clark Wilkinson and Lucas Tipton, who are in a hospital over there. Tipton has a bad wound in his thigh, while Wilkinson has a severe wound in the foot.

PERRYVILLE, KY., Oct. 13, 1862.

Golly! but it was cold and raw last night, and I got my share of it. But then I am not complaining, for there are a whole lot of poor fellows who are in a much worse fix.

I spent a good deal of time up at hospital No. 1 in the seminary, watching the doctors operating on bad cases. There was quite a pile of arms and legs in the corner of the operating room and several dead bodies in a shanty in the back yard.

Among the surgeons here is one who is on leave of absence from the Prussian army to study our methods. Instead of learning from us he is instructing our surgeons. He is the one who did such fast, neat work at the field hospital. He can whack off a leg or an arm about as quick as you can say Jack Robinson. He does the cutting and others do the dressing.

A lot of bed ticks came from somewhere and several wagon loads of straw were brought in from the country. Got some straw, but no tick. But while hot coffee lasts a fellow need not freeze.

The Danville ladies came in today, as they said they would, and they brought a fine lot of eatables; and they were eaten, you bet. They say the secesh people are wishing now that the war had never come. They has been told it would be fought out north of the Ohio river.

Our brigade wagon train passed through on its way to Danville. Had a notion to go along, but my arm has been hurting me worse; and a surgeon said I had better be careful, for a wound in the elbow is liable to become very serious. But I want to go some where away from here.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Bustle and enthusiasm are rife in Cooper Square tonight. The opening rally of the fusion organization is in progress in Cooper Union and Mayor Low is the principal speaker. So much has been heard of what is to be done in the political campaign and so dire have been the threats of the fighters on all sides that the public have become somewhat impatient. They have demanded that there should be actual warfare with somebody hurt as a relief from the stream of desultory threats which have been flowing purposeless for more than a month. They are enjoying strong food this evening. Cooper Union could not hold all the people who would like to squeeze into the hall, and the consequence is that there is a surging crowd at the head of the Bowery, every item in it with opinions of some complexion. Neither Tammany nor fusion has it all its own way. There are half a dozen independent factors in the approaching election, with W. S. Devery and his "bugs" in the van. Representatives of all these are at tonight's meeting, and Mayor Low, with his fellow-speakers, will try to convince them that the only way to the light is through a ballot cast for Seth Low and his associates.

The first meeting of the campaign must be credited with being an imposing one. It does not appear that the theaters are suffering in attendance by the "opposition" of the fusion gatherins, which perhaps is to be accounted for by the fact that political workers have no time for frivolous amusement when the smoke of battle is in their nostrils. But it cannot be denied that a big crowd has gathered from somewhere—much of it probably from Brooklyn.

Dowie's Advance Skirmishers.

"Peace be unto thee" was the benediction pronounced by the first Dowiete who put his nose in Madison Square Garden this morning. He was the leader of the cleaning corps which will make the garden presentable for the coming of the restoration host with Elijah Dowie at its head on Friday. The Old Guard fair was the last tenant of Madison Square Garden and the Zion cleaners will have plenty to do between now and Friday. When Dowie and his host enter there will be nothing to remind them of the convivial presence of the Old Guard last week.

Senator Platt's Busy Day.

For perhaps the first time in his life Senator Thomas C. Platt is under the guardianship of a corps of private detectives, who follow him from the Fifth Avenue hotel to the United States express offices and back again, and keep all strangers from him. Particularly do they look out for women. There is a certain Miss Mae C. Wood, a clerk in the postoffice department in Washington, who would like an interview with Platt. She has said as much. At this time there is only one lady with whom the senator cares to have a tete-a-tete and that is Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway. What does Miss Wood want with Senator Platt? That is nobody's business. Mrs. Janeway suggests "blackmail," while the senator says nothing.

Curiosity and the Box Office.

It won't be the press agent's fault if the discussion over the propriety of the "Proud Prince," E. H. Sothern's new play by Justin McCarthy, begun in Detroit, is not continued indefinitely in New York. Mr. Sothern is too sincere an artist to care about exploiting his play in that way, but business is business, and the more the question of impropriety or impiety can be kept on the surface of public gossip the more curiosity there will be to see the production. And curiosity mongers form no inconsiderable element of the vast body of playgoers. And there was a long line in front of the box office all this afternoon.

Taken for an Irish Battleship.

Before general attention was attracted to the Brazilian training ship lying out in the Hudson river by the accidental killing of a midshipman by his chum yesterday, people who happened to see the vessel wondered who and what she was. Her green flag with its crescent on a yellow background was strange to the casual observer and some jokers expressed the belief that the vessel was an Irish battleship. The Brazilian flag is not familiar in these waters. The craft looks business-like in spite of its small size, but its officers do not encourage promiscuous visitors, so that few New Yorkers have enjoyed the privilege of treading her deck.

Opinions Differ About New Cars.

With the arrival here of 200 more cars for use in the underground railroad New Yorkers are talking about the assertion of an anonymous engineer, who has declared in print that any cars not entirely of metal will be unsafe in the tunnel. This engineer says that there will surely be short circuits at some time or other and that they will result in fires with loss of life. The new cars are handsome and roomy, but there is much woodwork about them, although they are sheathed in metal and asbestos. The authorities of the Rapid Transit railway say their cars will be absolutely safe. They regard it as an impossibility for them to catch fire, because the woodwork in them is entirely protected. The engineer, who in a recent issue of one of the papers here inveighed so bitterly against cars not entirely of metal, has not allowed his name to be used. Probably more notice would be taken of his statements if the public knew who he was.

A Little Damp at Brighton.

The fall meeting at Brighton is on. The field is a vast lake and the timers, judges and other officials asked whether they were to be rowed to their positions when they first looked at the place yesterday. The track is not so bad, however—that is, for mud horses. It will be dry by the end of the week unless there is more rain. Meanwhile the sport is not bad, considering everything. And, of course, people who "hope" the chances of the various horses are in the habit of considering every contingency from the state of the track to the reputation for squareness of owners, trainers and jockeys.

Woman's Happy Description of a Quarrel.

In a sensational divorce case on trial in New York just now, one of the witnesses, a woman, in talking about a connubial quarrel between the contending parties, said she regarded it as "an ordinary family spat, with kisses for dinner." This poetical description of the average difference between husband and wife is considered by New Yorkers as a peculiarly happy one. "Kisses for dinner" in particular has an arcadian suggestion redolent of pomegranate and ambrosia.

Consternation on Cherry Hill.

Cherry Hill is in a sea of agitation not altogether pleasing over the trial of "Monk" Eastman and his friends on the charge of conspiring to assault David Lamar's coachman. News from Freehold comes promptly to the bill and the evidence is discussed in all its bearings. Some of the leading members of the gang are in attendance daily at the trial, but many others gather at the street corners in Cherry Hill nightly to try the case over again in their own way. There is a reluctant concession in Cherry Hill that the prosecution is making out a mighty strong case.

Political Drift.

"The broader phases of political discussion are conspicuous in the speech with which Senator Allison opens the active campaign in Iowa and in the entrance into the Ohio battle of Secretary Shaw as an avowed representative of the administration," says the New York Mail and Express (Rep.). "The loyal support accorded to Senator Hanna by the recent speech of Senator Foraker is now supplemented by the letter from the president to his secretary of the treasury, in which he proclaims that the return of Mr. Hanna to the senate concerns 'not merely Ohio, but our country as a whole.' So, too, the whole country is concerned in the position, as defined by the veteran Iowa senator, of Republican leadership toward the tariff and toward currency reform."

"Any evidence that Mr. Chamberlain's tariff propaganda is making progress in Great Britain and her colonies is likely to revive interest here in reciprocity treaties," says the New York Commercial Advertiser (Rep.). "Mr. McKinley was a warm advocate of this policy as the surest means of broadening our foreign trade. Opposition in the senate first blocked, then smothered it, mainly because of the prevailing reluctance to enter upon a tariff discussion while existing schedules seemed to promote prosperity, partly, no doubt, through the inspiration of special interests apprehensive of any meddling with the protection they enjoy. It is of no small significance, that at this juncture Senator Allison, a typical high tariff man, should have opened the Iowa campaign with a speech in which he predicted that when the time is ripe for tariff revision reciprocity will be the means adopted. He sees no occasion, however, for immediate action. For the moment he is of those who would stand pat, deferring serious discussion of the question until after the presidential campaign, when a new congress is to be elected."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"The Democrats of this state are always doing things in their campaigns which they never think of at any other time," says the Philadelphia Press (Rep.) "Their present trouble is that there is too much money in the state treasury and they want to take off some of the taxes. There is always something rather attractive in such a proposition, but reducing taxes is not a Democratic habit except in platforms and campaign speeches. It has remained for the Republicans of Pennsylvania to do the practical things in that line. The removal of the state tax on real estate was not thought of until the Republicans came into control of the state government. Yet it was done within five years thereafter, and subsequently the tax on household furniture was abolished. And with all that a debt of some forty millions, inherited from Democratic administrations, has been wiped out."

\+ \+ \+ \+

Discussing the apparent abandonment of any attempt at currency legislation the Buffalo Express (Rep.) charges it to be the unwillingness of those who have pet plans to agree to anything else. It continues: "It is this spirit of selfish obstruction which would nullify the work of a special currency commission, if congress should order one appointed. A commission of this kind, which made the careful and thorough study of the financial situation it would be expected to make, would, unquestionably, recommend the proper medicine. But it has never been the habit of congress to pay much attention to the reports of commissions and, in this particular instance, when feeling regarding the various measures which have been suggested is so strong, the chances are that the recommendations would simply be received and forgotten. Rather than bother with a special commission, congress would do well to leave the matter to the joint discussion of the banking and currency committees of both houses."

\+ \+ \+ \+

"Mayor Low, in his letter of acceptance, confines himself largely to a review of the many achievements of his administration," says the New York Evening Post (Ind.) "It is a record of which the city may well be proud. The change from the condition of affairs under Mayor Van Wyck as portrayed by Bishop Potter, would in itself be worth any sacrifice in the way of expense and trouble to which the city may have been put. But the transformation has been so quietly brought about that only those directly interested, like Commissioner Dr. Forest or Mr. Jacob A. Riis, are aware of the full extent of the change. Mr. Low's position is buttressed by the fact that in every single department there have been many important improvements, and that in not one has there been a serious scandal or a financial loss to the city because of dishonesty."

Referring to a recent speech of Senator Fairbanks in the Indiana campaign, the Indianapolis Journal (Rep.) says: "The senator is a political optimist in the belief that the public welfare is always best promoted through Republican government, whether in the city, the state or the nation. 'The Republican party, national, state and municipal,' he said, 'has always stood for an honest enforcement of the laws. This is a fixed policy from which it cannot turn aside.' He argued that a party cannot get far away nor stay long away from the fixed law of its being which is also formulated in its platforms and pledges to the people. It follows that if a Republican administration goes wrong it will soon right itself, whereas, if a Democratic administration ever by accident is right it must soon, in accordance with the law of its being, go wrong. It follows further that when Republicans want reform they should seek it through the party of reform."

CANADA TO LOSE.

London Correspondent Sends the News to the Dominion.

(Special Cable to Toronto News.)

LONDON, Oct. 10.—I am informed on what may be accepted as high authority, that a majority of the Alaskan commission will shortly give judgment adverse to the Canadian contention.

It is understood that Great Britain's representative on the commission, Lord Alverstone, has privately intimated to certain diplomatic and colonial office officials that he is convinced that a stronger case is made out by the United States, and that he intends to give judgment accordingly.

A majority of the commission will thus agree upon a verdict, and the two Canadian commissioners will, if they register dissent, be unable to affect the result.

The "Open Door" Treaty.

The new commercial treaty with China, which secures to the United States and to other treaty powers the "open door" in Manchuria, may well be regarded as a triumph for American diplomacy. Mr. Hay has not, indeed, secured all that he started out to secure when he addressed his famous "open door" message to the powers in the summer of 1900, and the two new treaty ports, Mukden and An-tung, give, admittedly, only a restricted entrance to the Manchurian markets; but even this measure of success is so much more than European diplomacy would have thought possible peaceably to extort from Russia that the achievement remains a very great one.—Chicago Record-Herald.

JACKSONIAN CLUB HITS CITIZENS

Big Allegheny Democratic Organization Indorses Republicans.

ARE FEW DISSENTING VOTES

Over 300 of the Members Were Present They Announce That They Are Disgusted With the Bigelow Machine Methods.

The Jacksonian club of Allegheny, the biggest Democratic organization in the county, has declared in favor of the Republican county ticket. This action was taken last night at a meeting of the club called for the transaction of routine business. Just before the motion to adjourn, someone proposed that the Republican county ticket and the Democratic state ticket be indorsed. The vote showed an almost unanimous sentiment in favor of the proposition. This means that the Citizens party has practically lost the Democrats of Allegheny, as the Democratic party of the North Side is ruled by this organization.

Some idea of the bitterness felt by the Democrats toward the Bigelow machine was displayed by the manner in which the members took up the proposal to indorse the opposition ticket. The thing was done quickly and quietly, and after the meeting President Pauline declared he had no idea who was responsible for the presentation of the motion.

Three Hundred Men Present.

No excitement followed the voting, and the members present, numbering a few over 300, stood about in groups discussing the events in the past few months that caused their unusual action. The disregard for pledges and public welfare shown by those connected with the Bigelow machine, and the shabby treatment given the Democrats of Allegheny, by Wyman, are in brief, the reasons that prompted the Jacksonian members to do what they did.

Immediately after the meeting President Pauline said: "The manner in which action was taken tonight demonstrates what the feeling of the Democrats of Allegheny are. I don't know who offered that motion nor who seconded it. As chairman, I put it before the house with what result you know. This thing has been coming for some time and I am not very much surprised. The people have been miserably deceived by the Citizens party and the Democrats have been used as tools. The people of Allegheny cannot forget the way the Citizens violated the pledge to abolish the delinquent tax collector."

For months past there has been considerable strife in the Jacksonian club. City Assessor Robert Black is a member of the club, and until recently was a factor in the organization. His allegiance to Wyman and the Bigelow machine has lost him many friends since the dissatisfaction in the Democratic party of the North Side commenced. Beck is making desperate efforts to retain his standing and to hold in line for the Bigelow machine the Jacksonian club. The action of the organization last night gave him and those of his faction a black eye. Many of those who for years have followed Beck as a leader, last night announced their determination to go with him no longer in politics. Beck has been Wyman's agent and for a week or more has been working throughout the city in an endeavor to stop the wave of indignation among the Democrats.

Will Invite Republican Orators.

President Pauline and several of the other officers of the Jacksonian club will make an effort to have a rousing meeting at the Jacksonian club some night next week, at which Republican orators will address the crowd. City Assessor Beck is not to be consulted in any further movements and his faction is to be ignored by the majority of the members of the Jacksonian club.

The schedule of meetings to be held by the Republicans of Allegheny was completed last night. Meetings will be held on the dates following:

First ward—October 20. First ward school house; Second ward—October 20, Perrysville avenue school; October 23, Sherman avenue school; Third ward—October 28, Teutonia hall; Fourth ward—October 27, Fourth ward school; Fifth and Sixth wards—October 23, at Sixth ward school; Seventh ward—October 28, Hari Gari hall; Eighth ward—October 23, Eighth ward school; Ninth ward—October 28, Ninth ward school; Tenth ward—October 26, Tenth Ward Republican club hall; Eleventh ward—October 22, Schwerd's hall; Twelfth ward—October 22, East street school; October 30, Meade street school; Thirteenth ward—November 2; Fourteenth ward—October 28. No date has been set for the Fifteenth ward meeting.

The Colored Republican Voters' league of Allegheny has organized in every district in the city and a solid colored vote is promised the Republican ticket next month. George G. Crampton has been elected chairman of the league and has charge of the work of organization. Arrangements have been made for meetings in all the wards from now until election day. A big meeting of colored voters will be held at Republican headquarters Friday evening.

MONEY NEEDED AT ONCE.

Committee on Pittsburgh's Exhibit at St. Louis Exposition Meets.

A meeting of the committee of the chamber of commerce on the relief map of the Pittsburgh district for the exhibit at the St. Louis exposition was held yesterday afternoon. Those present were John Airich, chairman; J. W. Marsh, Samuel Diescher, Dr. J. W. Holland and W. L. Scaife. As the entire $25,000 required to have the map made has not yet been secured, definite arrangements concerning the work could not be made.

The committee yesterday determined to do as much preliminary work as possible, in the hope that the money will be forthcoming, so that as soon as it is placed in the treasury, work can be started at once.

The government and state geological surveys have nearly finished the work here and the relief map could be started at any time. It would require several months to complete the task, and the committee is desirous of obtaining the money as soon as possible.

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS SAVED FROM CERTAIN DEATH

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—The German steamer Verona, which arrived today from China, brought 15 shipwrecked mariners taken from the Uruguayan bark Talavera. On October 8, about 5:30 a. m., the lookout reported a distress signal light. The vessel was in a sinking condition, all the masts and boats gone and the water breaking continually over her. After five trips the crew were safely taken off.

Nothing more beautiful has ever been written than the slow movement in Dvorak's "New World" symphony. DAMROSCH plays it at the EXPO tonight, and it will be superb.

FELL TO DEATH FROM A WINDOW

Mrs. Mary Jane Jones Dies of Hurts Received at Her South Side Home.

WOMAN DIES AT COUNTY JAIL

Delerium Tremens the Cause—Westinghouse Employes Are Electrocuted. Italian Held for Murder—Other Coroner's Cases of an Ill-Starred Day.

Mrs. Mary Jane Jones died at the South Side hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night of hurts received in a fall to the pavement from the second story window of her home at No. 2301 Fox street shortly before noon yesterday. She had been seen cleaning the window by neighbors, all the members of her family being away at the time. Her body lay on the pavement unrecognized for some time, those who saw it thinking it was only a bundle of rags. A boy saw signs of life in the mass and the victim was then recognized and removed to the hospital.

Mrs. Jones is survived by two daughters, Lizzie, who is a cashier at the Joseph Horne Company's store, and Emma, a telephone operator, and one son, John Jones, who lives at No. 1606 Bingham street, South Side. She was well known among the Welsh of the South Side. Her husband died several years ago.

Blanche Black, aged 25 years, of Second avenue, died at the Allegheny county jail at 8 o'clock last night of delirium tremens. The woman was committed on October 10 for 10 days by Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart on a charge of drunkenness. The woman was a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Foy, a cripple, who earns her living by peddling salve.

Killed by Fall From Scaffold.

Dennis Donaghy, aged 23 years and single, of No. 9 Butler street, Millvale, died at Mercy hospital last night from hurts received in a fall from a scaffold at St. Stephen's church, Second avenue and Elizabeth street, Hazelwood, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Both legs were broken and he was hurt internally. Donaghy was a painter and was working on a scaffold 50 feet from the ground, when a weak rope gave way and he was pitched to the pavement below.

Elrit Johnson, 25 years old, a Swede, while cleaning windows in the plant of the Westinghouse electric plant in East Pittsburgh about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, fell from a sill 35 feet above the floor. He died soon afterward. It is supposed that he touched a live wire and received a shock which made him lose his balance. Johnson had been in this country but a few weeks. His brother, John, a policeman in the works there, sent for him a short time ago. They had not seen each other since they were infants.

Harry Fleming, 20 years old, an electrician employed at the Westinghouse foundry in Trafford City, was electrocuted just before noon yesterday. He was working on a ladder and dropped a pair of pliers. He made a grab for them and touched a live wire. A widow and two children, who live in Osborn street, Turtle Creek, survive.

Railroad Victim Identified.

The mangled body of the unknown white man found Monday night along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks between East Liberty and Roup station was identified yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Hartman of No. 104 Enterprise street as that of her husband, Joseph M. Hartman, aged 45 years, a butcher. The woman did not know how the accident occurred.

Antonio B. Beveleppo, an Italian, was yesterday held to answer in court on a charge of having murdered Roof Villock in a house near New Kensington on Sunday night, October 4. Villock died October 6 of his injuries. The two men quarrelled over the ownership of a revolver. Henry Camella, Dominick Latina and Guiseppe Lackimia, all witnesses of the shooting, were also held.

Mrs. Mary Micholiach, a widow 34 years old, died early yesterday morning at the Allegheny city home, Claremont, of consumption. She was placed at this institution September 15 suffering from consumption in an advanced stage. She was removed from No. 626 West Robinson street, where her brother Frank Micholiach, lives.

The coroner was notified last night of the death of the 6-months-old child of D. Alsberg of No. 542 Spoks avenue, Braddock.

WOULD CONQUER SIN WITH PRINTER'S INK

Church Advertising Held Up as a Legitimate Enterprise by Baptist Men's Club.

To conquer sin with printer's ink is considered a practical scheme by the members of the Men's club of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. At a meeting of the club last night many sugestions were advanced for the bringing of the church before the public, it being the opinion of half a score of speakers that the public announcement of church services was quite as legitimate as the advertising of a magic lantern exhibition. It was an evidence of ecclesiastical aggressiveness which would be certain to promote the welfare of a congregation and brand it as wide awake.

William S. Power, of the Shady Avenue Baptist church, and a well-known advertising manager, addressed the meeting and pointed out many of the practical features which would be promoted in up-to-date publicity of the Lord's house. W. A. Cole said that in advertising a church the work should be specialized, the "ads." being written to attract attention to some particular advantage possessed by the church. The statement was made that the day would come when the chuch advertisement would become as common as that of the dry goods house.

At the club's next meeting, in November, the question, "Resolved, That capital should recognize the labor unions," will be debated. The affirmative will be defended by John Williams, secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated association, and Benjamin I Davies, editor of the Amalgamated Journal. G. L. Bond and H. M. Brooks will speak for the negative.

NURSES WENT ON STRIKE.

Discharge of Hospital Superintendent and Head Nurse Displeased Them.

Four nurses at the McKees Rocks hospital have handed in their resignations and quit work, because Bertrand Cadwalader, superintendent, and Alice Fisher, head nurse, were retired from their duties by the board of directors. The four nurses say that when they asked why the two had been discharged they were told that it was "for the good of the institution," and this explanation was not satisfactory.

The Sisters of Mercy, attached to the Catholic churches in the borough, have volunteered to help care for patients until new nurses can be procured.

Dedication of Church Postponed.

The dedication of the new Italian Presbyterian church, Larimer avenue and Mayflower street, has been postponed because the pews will not arrive in time to be in place next Sunday. A strike at Chicago, where the pews are being made, is the cause of the delay. It is expected that the formal dedication will take place in November.

BRITONS TOAST MR. ROOSEVELT

WAS A GORGEOUS AFFAIR

Lord Mayor Says the Verdict in the Dispute Will Be Loyally Accepted and Acted Upon—Secretary Root Addresses Assemblege.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, Oct. 13.—With what Secretary Root described as "all the ceremonies and regalia which from childhood have been more a fairyland than a real land to all Americans," the members, counsel and attaches of the Alaskan boundary tribunal were entertained by the lord mayor of London, Sir Marcus Samuel, at a banquet at the Mansion house tonight.

Almost all those associated with the case now in the balance, from Lord Chief Justice Alverstone down, were present, though Attorney Finlay and Sir Edward Carson were notable absentees. It was a memorable occasion attended by all the ancient customs, loving cups, city liveries and gorgeously appareled footmen.

The lord mayor proposed the health of President Roosevelt, while the band played "The Star-Spangled Banner." Then his lordship proposed the toast of "the Alaskan boundary tribunal," with which he coupled the names of Lord Alverstone, Secretary Root and Sir Louis Jette. He declared that the present method of the submission to a tribunal of a dangerous dispute between two great nations would be a lasting lesson of peace to the world.

"This we may say," said the lord lord mayor, "that the verdict will be loyally accepted and acted upon and what might lead to serious trouble will be averted."

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone, in replying, after having feelingly referred to the death of Sir Michael Herbert, said that though the tribunal was not an illustration of arbitration it was "an honest and patriotic attempt to solve by mutual discussion subjects which might become serious. I have no fault to find with all that has been said and done. We have proceeded with great unanimity and I only wish that those who do not understand the motives of the tribunal would abstain from attributing motives to its members which do not exist."

This open reference to Canadian criticism of Lord Alverstone's supposed predisposition toward the American case caused no little sensation. It was followed by Lord Alverstone somewhat passionately declaring that in a long public career he had never objected to criticism after he had taken a certain course of action, but he did bitterly resent criticism beforehand.

Secretary Root followed with a brilliant speech. Amid intense silence, he depicted Sir Michael Herbert's "sweet reasonableness" and the loss sustained by both nations by the ambassador's death. "His friendship with many public men in the United States and his wide experience," said Mr. Root, "these and many other qualities made him competent to exercise great usefulness in cementing the friendship between two nations on whom civilization and the hopes of all mankind depend."

"Some thought," continued Mr. Root, "that the Americans and Canadains came to London because Alaska was a wonderland of claimants, but the greatest object lesson of the whole proceedings was that the United States had such trust in Great Britain that she was willing to meet and discuss a question vital to her not in a neutral capital, but in a capital belonging to one party to the controversy.

"Nothing, he said, could more emphasize the absolute confidence of all parties in the good faith, generous hospitality and fair play of the English people.

"The admirably graceful, tactful and correct way in which the British government has fulfilled that trust has made us feel at home in the trust we have reposed in you."

SMASH-UP IN HOMESTEAD.

Rear-End Collision on the P., V. & C. in the Heart of the Borough.

Engine No. 542, on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, hauling a long train of cars south bound, shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, crashed into the rear end of another train standing near Amity street, Homestead, and demolished the front end of the engine, the caboose and three empty freight cars. Engineer H. D. Ford and Fireman Christopher Uria, of engine No. 542, and Flagman James Westland of the other train, had narrow escapes from being killed. All jumped only an instant before the trains crashed together.

The train was running at a high rate of speed when it rounded a sharp curve near Amity street. The engine split the caboose in two and completely demolished three empty cars. The front of the engine was caved in and the cab torn off and the locomotive was thrown 15 feet from the tracks. Flagman Westland did not have sufficient time to flag the other train.

Fire Destroys Match Factory.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 13.—The Toledo Match Company's plant, which was on Friday last sold to the Consolidated Match Company of New Jersey, was almost totally destroyed by fire this afternoon, at a loss of $50,000.

AMONG THE MAIL

What a Railway Mail Clerk Found.

Strange tales are told of what men in the United States railway mail service sometimes find.

There was one clerk, hungry and downhearted, who found a food hint one night in the following way: "For months I suffered from chronic indigestion, impoverished blood and shattered nerves, caused by the improper selection of food. Was in the habit of making a breakfast of coarse and pasty food, accompanied by the free use of coffee, and these combined to almost shatter my digestive organs.

"I was employed in the railway mail service and assigned to duty on a night line where it was necessary to eat at irregular hours during the night. Everything I ate, no matter how light, not only failed to nourish, but distressed and nauseated me, and I was reduced in weight from 150 to 122 pounds. My memory was fast failing and I was a nervous wreck, unfit for duty and discouraged in view of the fact that I must soon give up my good position.

"One night when the world seemed darkest to me I read among a sack of mail the words 'Grape-Nuts' and wondered if it was something good to eat. Arriving at the end of my run, I bought a package, and nothing ever tasted better; from that day I began to gain mentally and physically. I gained 12 pounds in two months on Grape-Nuts food and kept on steadily increasing my weight to 147 pounds.

"Grape-Nuts improved and steadied my brain and nerve powers so that I was able to pass my next examination with a good grade and soon got a promotion and was changed to a daylight run. There is no doubt in the world that I owe my advance in position and improved health to the proper food Grape-Nuts in place of improper foods." Name given by the Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

There was a reason.

Admit American Systems Are Far Superior to Those Now in Use in London—Will Visit All Big Cities in Europe and America.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.

One lord and three knights just from England mingled with the crowds of pedestrians on South Broad and on Chestnut street today. They wore no coronets, not even top hats, but looked just like any plain substantial American citizens.

The distinguished guests of the city comprise part of a commission that King Edward of England named to get a few pointers on how to run street railways in London.

The commission is looking into the traction systems of all the great cities in Europe and this country. They came here, as Lord Ribblesdale said today:

"To see your underground and elevated railways, to see how you handle your great transportation—how it is that your cities get along so much better than London."

The other Englishmen—there are six in the American party—agreed with Lord Ribblesdale's statement that the Englishmen's old-time condescension toward Americans has changed to respect, and from that to affection.

Ever since Charles T. Yerkes formerly of Philadelphia, later of Chicago, and now of London, went over to the last-named city to revolutionize London's passenger transportation, the change has been coming over them.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

Fell Down the Synagogue Stairs.

Abraham Aberwitz, 13 years old, had his right leg broken yesterday at the Beth Jacob synagogue, in Franklin street. The boy in running down a flight of stairs missed his footing, and fell from the second to the first floor.

DEATHS.

DILWORTH—On Tuesday, October 13, 1903, at 12:15 a. m., EDWIN ARTHUR, youngest son of Robert and the late Charlotte E. Dilworth, aged 18 years and four months.

DISTINGUISHED PRELATE IS DEAD

ARCHBISHOP OF ST. LOUIS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 13.—The Most Rev. John Joseph Kain, archbishop of St. Louis, Mo., died tonight at the St. Agnes sanitarium, this city, where he had been a patient since May 12. Death, which came peacefully, had been hourly expected by his attending physicians for several days. Dr. J. M. Stone and a number of priests and relatives, including his sister, known in the religious world as Sister Mary Joseph, were at his bedside when the end came.

Heart disease was the ailment for which the archbishop was first treated, when he arrived at the institution; but a general break-down from overwork caused him much trouble. Recently appendicitis developed and the prelate rapidly sank, an operation, which was deemed necessary, being impracticable, owing to the enfeebled condition of the patient.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral, and it not known whether the body will be buried in his family lot at Martinsburg, W. Va., or taken to St. Louis for interment.

In an almost vain hope of restoring his shattered health, Archbishop Kain left St. Louis last May, coming to Baltimore. He stated that his departure was equivalent to resigning from the St. Louis bishopric. For more than 30 years Rev. Kain had been hailed as one of the most eloquent, zealous and popular priests in this country. He was born in 1841 at Martinsburg, W. Va. His father died when he was very young, leaving a widow and four small children. The burden of the family fell heavily upon the youth, but he went bravely to work to help his mother and his three little sisters.

As a mere child he exhibited a marked vocation for service at the altar, and was active as an acolyte. The first Latin book put into his hands was an abridged grammar, which Thomas A. Becker, the distinguished bishop of Wilmington and also a member of the plenary council, gave the boy. He studied assiduously, and steadily in religious circles. At this time Bishop Becker was conducting a school for laymen at Martinsburg and the bright, earnest youth became a strong favorite of his. Soon he was enabled to become a student at St. Mary's seminary, Maryland, and in 1863 he was ordained a priest.

He assumed the pastoral charge of the congregation of Martinsburg upon the death of Father Sears in 1867. The charge involved the spiritual supervision of a large and scattered mission, but with characteristic energy and enthusiasm he set to work to increase the scope of his duties. He settled at Harpers Ferry. After the civil war this region was almost desolate and the young priest had to work desperately to keep up his program of enlargement. With his own hands he repaired broken buildings and constantly stimulated his flock to give their labors, as well as their means, for religious work.

Step by step he rose. In 1875 he was made bishop of Wheeling and his abilities displayed there led to his promotion to the see at St. Louis. There, for two decades or more, he became conspicuous as one of the brainiest and best beloved heads of his church. In 1884 he held the office of promoter in the plenary council held at Baltimore. In 1896 he was asked to offer the prayer at the opening of the Republican national convention, and he had numbered among his friends the leading representatives of both of the two great political parties.

When he left St. Louis for Baltimore, at Cardinal Gibbons' invitation, last May, almost every priest of the diocese accompanied him to the train and wished him godspeed, and in every church in St. Louis prayers for his recovery were offered.

FEAST OF MELODY.

Delightful Programs at the Exposition Today—Baby Barrell's Great Success.

In the whole range of musical composition there are few works comparable in rich beauty to the exquisite slow movement in Dvorak's "New World" symphony, written by the great Bohemian in honor of and as testimonial to the American nation. The other three movements of this famous symphony simply revel in that spirit of buoyancy, aggressiveness and virility that are typical of the true American. This "New World" symphony will be feature of Mr. Damrosch's programs at the New Exposition tonight.

The matinee program for today contains such favorites as the Moskowski's "Serenade," Andante from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony, Rubenstein's melody in F, the "Dragon Fly" Mazurka by Strauss and the "Slavonic Dances" by Dvorak.

Patrons of the theatorium have generously applauded Baby Barrett, who is singing and dancing there this week. The easy and graceful manner in which she does her act stamps her as one of the leading juvenile artists. Her Columbia dance under colored lights is particularly effective and well done.

The musical program for this afternoon follows:

Overture, "Stradella".....Flotow
(a) Song from "The Trumpeter of Sakkingen".....Nessler
Mr. Hodenkirchen.
(b) Serenade.....Moskowski
Andante from "Symphony V".....Beethoven
Mazurka, "The Dragon Fly".....Strauss
Slavonic Dances.....Dvorak

(a) "Cavalry Ride;" (b) Melody in F.....Rubenstein
Andante from "Scotch" Symphony.....Mendelssohn
Waltz, "Dreams on the Ocean".....Gung'l
Prelude from "The Deluge".....Saint-Saens
Coronation March.....Svendsen

His last charge was the Trinity church of Ambler, Pa. The appointment of the Rev. A. E. Dunham to the charges of St. George's, West End, and the Church of the Messiah, Sheraden, was confirmed yesterday. Mr. Dunham has had charge of special work at Camden, N. J.

HELD FOR COURT.

Cleaner Accused of Robbing a Postal Car at Union Station.

Peter Putaski, the car cleaner who was arrested at the Union station recently, was given a hearing yesterday and held in $1,000 bail for the October term of the United States district court by Commissioner W. T. Lindsay, on a charge of stealing and opening a letter from a postal car.

The defendant said he found the letter on a combination car and while he could not read it or understand what it meant, took it home. He will be tried at the term of court which opens next Monday.

BOY MURDERER IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

Earl Ellsworth Confesses to Killing Father, Mother and the Boarder.

LEGAL CONTEST COMES TO END

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Earl Ellsworth was today sentenced to the penitentiary for life for the murder of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ellsworth, and Amos W. Anderson, a boarder in the Ellsworth home in Woodstock, Ill., on the night of February 28, 1901. The youthful prisoner made a full confession in Judge Donellys court room in Woodstock this afternoon and received his sentence at once.

This quick conclusion to a case that promised at one time to be long and bitterly fought came as the result of a confession secured from the young prisoner by detectives, in which the boy stated that he had killed his father, mother and Anderson and had taken all the money, insurance papers and notes that he could find. The boy was brought to Chicago and here the confession was made. His confession is as follows:

"I was in the garret watching Anderson's room through a hole I had bored into the ceiling. I saw him lie down on the bed and fall asleep. Then I went down and shot him. The shooting attracted the attention of my mother, and as she rushed into the door, I shot her in the neck. My father came in and I let him have one shot and he fell dead. Then I took some promisory notes out of a chest my father kept and started down the street.

"I met a friend and told him a murder had been committed. The constable came and placed me under arrest. I returned to the house with him and put the notes which had blood marks on in a closet in the house."

SECOND TRIAL OF DOWD MAY NEVER BE CALLED

War Department Officials May Institute Habeas Corpus Proceedings.

Lieut. Ralph W. Drury and Private John W. Dowd, held by the coroner's jury on Monday for the death of William H. Crowley, will not come before the grand jury until the December session. When that body sits on November 9 the fall cases will be disposed of first, and there is no possibility for the arsenal case to come up at that time. This statement was made yesterday by District Attorney John C. Haymaker.

Washington holds the center of the stage at present in this peculiar case. United States District Attorney James H. Young arrived at the capitol city yesterday morning and held a conference in the matter with Attorney General P. C. Knox. It is understood Knox telegraphed for Young to come at the instance of the war department. Assistant United States District Attorney Miller stated yesterday the attorney general and the war department would doubtless outline a plan of defense for the soldiers. Mr. Young left Washington for Pittsburgh last evening, but would not make any statement as to the result of the conference.

The outcome of the conference in Washington is causing some concern. It is believed an effort will be made to secure the absolute release of Drury and Dowd through habeas corpus proceedings. The basis for this proceeding will be the change in the Constitution which prohibits the trying of a man twice for the same crime. Since Dowd was acquitted by court-martial, it is claimed his life cannot again be placed in jeopardy by a trial in the county courts.

Murry A. Verner, the Citizens leader, was reported on Monday as being ready to go on the soldier's bond. He could not be found on Monday and Assistant District Attorney Miller went on the bonds for both until yesterday morning. Mr. Verner was seen yesterday and refused to go on Drury's bond for political reasons, he said. A canvass was then made of the leading members of the national guard stationed here. Cols. Homer J. Lindsay and Lewis T. Brown of the governor's staff and Col. H. P. Bope, national commander of the Boys' brigade signified their readiness to go on the bonds. The latter was finally selected and substituted for Mr. Miller on the bonds.

DISPUTED OVER THE FARE.

Local President of the Ladies' G. A. R. Charges Conductor With Rough Conduct.

Mrs. Martha P. Lucas of No. 909 Church avenue, Ben Avon, president of the local chapter of the Ladies of the G. A. R., made an information before Alderman James F. McMasters yesterday charging F. P. Shaughnessy, conductor of a Carnegie and Heidleberg car, with assault and battery.

Mrs. Lucas claims she boarded the car, which Shaughnessy was conductor, to go to her home at Ben Avon, Saturday afternoon. When the car reached Crafton the conductor asked her for her fare. Mrs. Lucas claimed to have paid it when she got on.

Shaughnessy, it is claimed, became angry and catching her roughly attempted to put her off the car. One of the men in the car finally settled the trouble by paying Mrs. Lucas' fare.

Shaughnessy gave bail for a hearing tomorrow afternoon.

Will Exhibit Strange Souvenirs.

The Braddock police have arranged to send to the St. Louis exposition a queer exhibit of weapons secured from prisoners during the past 10 years in Braddock. The collection includes nearly every variety of burglars' tools, as well as guns, knives and revolvers, and hundreds of strange and murderous looking weapons taken from foreigners. The majority of these weapons are of the home-made variety.

TO AID PITTSBURGH'S BOOM FOR THE BIG CONVENTION

Chairman Penrose Expects State Republican Committee to Indorse This City as Fitting Location for Nominating President.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—Senator Boise Penrose, chairman of the Republican state committee, today announced his unqualified approval of the proposition to hold the next Republican national convention in the city of Pittsburgh. The chairman said he had given the subject considerable attention, and the result of his investigation is that he believes the Iron City is as capable of caring for the national convention crowd as was Philadelphia in 1900.

"The city of Pittsburgh," said Mr. Penrose, "is the greatest municipal object lesson of the success of Republican policies in the United States. It is the manufacturing and industrial heart of the republic. In Pittsburgh the Republican party was born. It is therefore fitting that the Republicans of the United States, represented by their state delegations, should have an opportunity of witnessing, as they will in Pittsburgh, the greatest exemplification of the success of Republican tariff laws, which have given protection and prosperity to the American manufacturer, and the American workingman.

"I believe the national convention, that is, the delegates which will compose it, would esteem it a personal pleasure to visit the iron and steel city. None of them, after a ride up and down the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers, through the pall of smoke and the glare of its furnaces would afterward doubt the wisdom of Republican policies or desire to change them.

"I think I am safe in assuming that the Republican state committee will coincide in my views, and exert its best influences to bring about the selection of Pittsburgh as the place for holding the next national convention. President Roosevelt, I feel quite certain, because of Pennsylvanias loyal support to himself, would regard the proposition with favor, and indorse it as one which could not but be helpful to the best interests of the Republican party. While I have not discussed the matter with Senator Quay, I am quite sure he would favor Pittsburgh, if for no other reason, than that he would not have to ride so far to attend the convention.'

Senator J. C. Stineman of Cambria county, called on Senator Penrose this afternoon. Mr. Stineman has just returned from a two months' trip to the Pacific coast. He desired to consult with the senator, in regard to the local conditions of his county, in which there is quite a stiff fight for the office of sheriff. Senator Stineman expressed his warm approbation of the idea of holding the next national convention at Pittsburgh.

Among the other callers at headquarters were Senator H. H. Cumings of Warren and Dr. W. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, Meadville.

NO MORE CREWS TO BE LAID OFF

The Pennsylvania Railroad Has Reached Limit of Its Curtailment Policy.

CONDITIONS ABOUT NORMAL

Unprecedented Situation in Freight Transportation Circles of Last Year Has Been Eliminated—Mysterious Conference Between Hill and Cassatt.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.

There is no immediate prospect that the present employes of the Pennsylvania railroad will suffer through a further retrenchment in the running expenses of that system. It seems to be the general sentiment that the limit of curtailment has been reached for the present. W. W. Atterbury, general manager of the road, was seen in regard to the conditions which prevail among other big lines, and although he would not discuss the retrenchment policy which marks these roads, he said in reference to the Pennsylvania:

"We laid off a number of men some time ago because we considered that the exigencies of the situation demanded it."

"Will that order affect any more?"

"There is no immediate prospect of a further retrenchment."

Mr. Atterbury refused to discuss the situation further, but another official said:

"It is due entirely to the general situation which affects the country. There is but little building going on; therefore there is but little structural material being prepared, and in proportion there is less made, there is less for the railroads to carry. We do not need so many men now, because our business does not demand it. The only thing to do was to reduce the force. You may be surprised to know that we are nearer normal conditions today than we were a year ago."

"Do you refer to the extraordinary conditions prevailing in the freight transportation last year?"

"Exactly. The situation was unprecedented. We are now really only reaching the normal level."

Financial circles was awakened today by a long and mysterious conference between James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, and President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad. For more than a half hour Hill was closeted with Cassatt and afterward he had a two-hour talk with Vice President Prevost. Still another long conference was held with John G. Johnson, the prominent corporation lawyer. What it was all about only those interested know, and they declined to talk. Mr. Hill left in the afternoon for Baltimore, where, it is believed, he intends to see President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio.

Called to New York Church.

The Rev. L. N. Lafferty, D. D., pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, Oakmont, has been called to the United Presbyterian church of North Argyle, N. Y. Dr. Lafferty was graduated from Monmouth college in 1874 and three years later from the Allegheny Theological seminary. He served from 1877 to 1897 as pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Kirkwood, Ia., and since that time has been at his present charge.

TOOK A STRAW VOTE.

Interesting Experiment In a Restaurant.

An advertising agent, representing a prominent New York magazine, while on a recent western trip, was dining one evening in a Pittsburgh restaurant.

While waiting for his order he glanced over his newspaper and noticed the advertisement of a well-known dyspepsia preparation, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets; as he himself was a regular user of the tablets he began speculating as to how many of the other traveling men in the dining room were also friends of the popular remedy for indigestion.

He says: "I counted twenty-three men at the tables and in the hotel office I took the trouble to interview them and was surprised to learn that nine of the twenty-three made a practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal.

"One of them told me he had suffered so much from stomach trouble that at one time he had been obliged to quit the road but since using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets had been entirely free from indigestion, but he continued their use especially while traveling, on account of irregularity in meals and because like all traveling men he was often obliged to eat what he could get and not always what he wanted.

"Another, who looked the picture of health, said he never ate a meal without taking a Stuart Tablet afterward, because he could eat what he pleased and when he pleased, without fear of a sleepless night or any other trouble.

"Still another used them because he was subject to gas on stomach, causing pressure on heart and lungs, shortness of breath and distress in chest, which he no longer experienced since using the tablets regularly.

"Another claimed that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets was the only safe remedy he had ever found for sour stomach and acidity; he had formerly used common soda to relieve the trouble, but the tablets were much better and safer to use."

After smoking, drinking or other excesses which weaken the digestive organs, nothing restores the stomach to a healthy, wholesome condition so effectually as Stuart's Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain the natural digestives, pepsin, diastase which every weak stomach lacks, as well as nux, hydrastin and yellow parilla, and can be safely relied upon as a radical cure for every form of poor digestion. Sold by druggists everywhere.

WABASH PROGRAM FINDS EASY PATH

NEW LINE IS MADE WELCOME

Shippers Along the Proposed Route Are Lending Every Possible Aid to Competing Road—Pennsylvania Will Be Unable to Thwart the Project.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—George J. Gould this morning declined to be interviewed as to his intentions in regard to the Wabash system entry into Philadelphia. From a source that can be said to be as good as any but Mr. Gould himself, it was ascertained that the Gould interests are and have for some time past, been engaged in working out the details of the passage of the Wabash from Pittsburgh into Philadelphia. These plans are not as yet completed to that extent which will make them safe if they become public.

The Wabash system will generally parallel the Pennsylvania into Philadelphia. The rights of way and franchise are gradually being secured and already more than one-half of the distance is covered by franchises which have been issued to trolley companies and short lines of steam roads. These negotiations have been kept very quiet and it is doubtful if those who have sold their franchises knew to whom the control of their property went. It is said that within the next 90 days the remaining links in the chain will be secured to the extent that the program may be publically announced without fear of their efforts being thwrated by the Pennsylvania management.

Mr. Gould and those associated with him, and it is generally conceded that the Rockefeller interests are behind him, have received assurances of the existence of the friendliest feelings for the proposed Wabash attack on the Pennsylvania system from almost innumerable sources throughout the entire state. Bankers, politicians, mill owners, producers and shippers of freight of all classes, are daily offering aid of every kind to the company and complaining that the exactions of the Pennsylvania system have become unbearable and that it is time that a rival line put railroad shippers in a more independent condition.

AZTEC CLUB HONORS GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Aztec club of 1847, an organization whose members is limited to officers who fought in the Mexican war and their descendants, held its annual meeting here today. According to the rules of the club, Gen. Francis E. Pinto, the vice president of the club, succeeded to the presidency, Gen. H. G. Gibson, U. S. A., being elected vice president. The other officers, MacRea Sykes, secretary; William Turnbull, treasurer, and E. H. Floyd Jones, vice treasurer, were re-elected. Philadelphia was chosen as the next meeting place of the club.

Col. Green Clay Goodloe was elected to membership to represent Gen. Cassius M. Clay, and Gen. Fitzhugh Lee to represent his father, Capt. Sydney Smith Lee, U. S. N.

Arrangements are under way for the erection of a new tablet at West Point, N. Y., to take the place of the one put there several years ago commemorative of all members of the club killed in battle or who died from wounds received in action. Tonight at 7 o'clock the president received the members of the club at the White House. The yearly banquet was held later at the Shoreham hotel. About 40 members and guests were present. Among the latter were Admiral W. S. Schley, Representative Francis E. Schoeber, P. Tecumseh Sherman and Admiral Silas Casey, U. S. N.

THEIR ANNUAL BATH.

Elephants in Central Park Menagerie Submit to Thorough Scrubbing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Hattie and Jewel, the elephants in the Central park menagerie, were given their annual bath today. It took three keepers six hours to scrub the animals and the elephants didn't like it; neither did the keepers. Stepladders were put up against the sides of the elephants and the bath consisted of pouring buckets of hot water over their backs and scrubbing them with harness soap. After the washing operation had been finished, the elephants were given a rub with neatsfoot oil until the keepers could see the reflection of their faces in the glossy black sides of the animals.

Hattie, who is the baby elephant, objected strenuously to the water treatment, and the keepers had to chain one of her hind feet to the floor. It was her first experience since she has been in captivity, having been brought here from Ceylon a little over a year ago. Keeper Snyder was authority for the statement that "half a ton" of dirt had been taken from the hides of the two elephants.

Fits 17 Years Cured

When All Other Methods and Doctors Failed.

Epilepsy is one of the most alarming diseases that anyone can be afflicted with. It is also the least understood by physicians and most difficult for them to treat. Thus those who have tried doctors for years are likely to have become discouraged and believe themselves incurable. Yet they can be cured, for Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer has cured hundreds of cases that had been declared hopelessly incurable.

"My daughter was afflicted with fits for four years, occurring as often as seven or eight in a day. We spared no expense in seeking relief for her. Wherever we could learn of a physician noted for superior knowledge in treatment of fits his advice was secured, but invariably she was pronounced incurable. Finally I took her to Ann Arbor for treatment, believing if there was any possibility of a cure we would find it there, but they, too, failed, and we were completely discouraged and made up our minds that there was no hope. Some of our friends urged us to use Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer, and a decided change for the better was noticed after the first dose. In less than two months she was cured and has not had a fit since." Peter Phillips, Shabbona, Mich.

Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is for sale by all druggists at $1.00 a bottle, or is sent express paid on receipt of price. J. W. Brant Co., Ltd., Albion, Mich.

STATE OF MAINE MAY SOON REPEAL ITS FAMOUS PROHIBITORY LAWS

Belief of the Retail Liquor Dealers Holding Their Convention in Pittsburgh.

CRIME IN DRY COMMUNITIES

Bloody Breathitt County Is a Local Option District — Association Welcomed to the City on Behalf of Mayor Hays.

That the state of Maine will shortly repeal its prohibition law is the belief of the majority of the delegates attending the eleventh annual convention of the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association of the United States, which opened its sessions in Pittsburgh yesterday. Local option laws will be modified in many states, the dealers say, and it is declared that radical anti-liquor legislation will no longer occupy the attention of congress.

In giving those expressions last night delegates representing the retail liquor traffic of the whole country stated that just license laws would do more to further the cause of temperance than total prohibition, and it was pointed out that in local option districts the percentage of drunkenness and crime was strikingly greater than in adjoining communities where licenses were granted and the laws were observed.

"Of the 119 counties in Kentucky over 80 are local option districts," said William Rennick, delegate from Lexington, Ky. "This proportion of 'dry' communities would hardly be credited to the famous Bourbon state, but it is true, nevertheless. Breathitt county is in the local option corner, but there the illicit trade in fighting whisky is startling, and doubtless there would be fewer killings in those districts if the trade was carried on with the recognition of the law."

About 125 delegates have reached the city, nearly all the states in the union being represented. The convention met in the parlors of the Hotel Henry at 11 a. m. yesterday, and was called to order by National President E. L. Jordan of Washington, D. C. Assistant City Solicitor J. A. Blair welcomed the delegates to the city in behalf of Mayor Hays. President Jordan in his annual address spoke of a number of measures desired in obtaining equable legislation.

During the afternoon the visitors were shown through the Iron City brewery, where an informal luncheon was served.

Last night the delegates sat around 70 tables in a progressive euchre held in Central Turner hall in Forbes street. After the games a smoker was held. The women of the party were entertained at the theaters. The routine of the convention will be resumed this morning, and during the afternoon the delegates will visit the Carnegie steel mills at Homestead.

BOURBON DELEGATE WITH LIQUOR MEN

William Rennick.

William Rennick, delegate from Kentucky to the National Convention of Retail Liquor Dealers, has twice filled the same office at previous gatherings of the association. He resides in the center of the famous Bourbon district at Lexington, Ky., and six years ago was the prime mover toward organizing the State Liquor League of Kentucky. He was national committeeman from Kentucky at the liquor dealers' meeting in Washington, D. C., in 1902. Mr. Rennick gives much of his time to the promotion of the liquor traffic, and is an authority upon the trade in his native state. He has a large acquaintance among the liquor men throughout the country and will be one of the most conspicuous delegates at the convention.

WOMAN WITH BROKEN LEG ARRESTED AS A DRUNK

Left All Night in a Cell Without Medical Attention. Physicians Contradict Police—Suit for Damages May Follow.

Mrs. Kate Hurst, aged 47 years, formerly of Forbes street, near Pride, was taken to the Homeopathic hospital yesterday morning suffering great pain from a broken left leg. The accident occurred on Monday night, just before the woman was arrested on the grounds of the Mercy hospital charged with drunkenness. She was confined in the Center avenue police station during the night and in the morning was taken to Central station for a hearing. There it was discovered the woman's leg was broken and she was too weak to stand. She was immediately sent to the hospital.

The woman asserts she was not intoxicated when arrested, but that she was suffering from her injury when placed in the patrol wagon. She says she was turned out of her home in Forbes street on Monday because she was unable to pay her board, having been out of employment for some time. Mrs. Hurst secured work on Monday afternoon and was to have started in yesterday morning. She was without money, and being a Catholic, went to the Mercy hospital to secure a night's lodging.

It being against the hospital rules, Mrs. Hurst was unable to secure lodging there. As she was walking down the steps on leaving the building she fell, breaking her leg. Mrs. Hurst claims the next thing she knew she was being roughly placed into a patrol wagon. She was taken to the station house, where she remained all night without medical attention, although suffering greatly from her broken limb.

The case on the blotter at central station is charged to Wagonman Charles F. Forbes of the Center avenue police station. Mrs. Hurst is charged with drunkenness. Forbes stated last night the woman was drunk and her leg was not broken. This statement was corroborated by the sergeant at No. 2. However, she was taken from Central station to the Homeopathic hospital, where physicians stated the woman's leg was broken and in bad condition. She will be compelled to remain there for at least five weeks.

Mrs. Hurst is very indignant over her treatment by the police. She says she was not intoxicated and not in the habit of drinking. At the hospital it was stated the woman bore no evidences of having been under the influence of liquor the night before she was received. It is probable, when Mrs. Hurst is able to walk, action will be taken against the police in the case. Mrs. Hurst is a widow in poor circumstances and supports herself with the assistance of a son, who is in the army.

BOARD WISHES A BETTER SITE

ACTION IN RALSTON CASE

The central board of education last evening adopted, after much discussion, a resolution appointing a committee to devise ways and means of selling the Friendship avenue property, bought four years ago for a new high school site. The committee is also to select a more suitable site, subject to the approval of the board.

The resolution was offered by S. C. Jamison, who prefaced the final resolution by one providing for a committee to secure competitive plans for building on the Friendship avenue site. This resolution, he said, he offered only as a way of bringing the matter up, and to vote this down would mean the disapproval of the Friendship site. A discussion then arose over the board "entering the real estate business again," Mr. McIlroy making the objections. It was recalled that 10 years have elapsed since the first attempt to build the school began, and that the Friendship avenue property was the second purchased for the purpose.

Wants Site Near Schenley Park.

Mr. Jamison spoke in favor of a site near Schenley park, in the group of educational buildings to be located there, the Greater Carnegie institute, the new technical school and, possibly, the Western university. Objections to a site in that vicinity, on account of the cost, were raised and a few favored building on the Friendship avenue lot despite its inaccessibility from many parts of the city. The final vote on the resolution to start work on the Friendship avenue site was 3 ayes and 28 noes.

In the course of the discussion Director Rynearson was asked to speak of the conditions prevailing in the high schools. The miserable conditions at the old Central High school were told, and it was alleged that they are responsible for many pupils not attending the school.

To provide accommodations for the 1,926 pupils enrolled not only are all the regular desks in use, but chairs and desks are being placed in corners, and still prospective pupils are crowded out. The enrollment is 89 more than last year and is yearly increasing.

Forcing Ralston Directors.

The question of procedure in the repairs proposed for the Central High school was brought up by a report of the High school committee. After discussion over the committee's recent action in employing an architect, the whole subject was sent back to the committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

Without opposition a resolution offered by Mr. Reinecke was adopted instructing the attorneys for the board to take legal action to compel the directors of the Ralston sub-district to provide a proper sanitary system for the Ralston school. The fight in the board over a contract, which has resulted in a chaotic condition of affairs, was reported.

The action of the High School committee in failing to provide for the basket ball players at the South Side High school was remedied. Mr. Reinecke offered a resolution authorizing the necessary changes of the gas fixtures in the basement at a cost not exceeding $25. The resolution passed.

An invitation for the Pittsburgh schools to take part in the St. Louis exposition school display was referred to the finance committee.

Transfer Cards Adopted.

Superintendent Samuel Andrews finally obtained the adoption of a plan he has advocated for years in the method to be followed in transfers of pupils from one school to another. A transfer card is to be given in such cases with the exact rating of the pupil shown, thus preventing confusion in the school receiving the transferred pupils.

Misses Frances C. Parry, Emma Mulheim and Frances Heath were elected High school teachers as recommended by the committee. Miss Etta Kober was elected clerk to Director Rynearson, a new position.

In his September report Superintendent Andrews showed that there are 42,186 pupils enrolled and 1,063 teachers employed. The enrollment is 412 in excess of September, 1902. The Kindergarten association reported 32 schools in operation with 1,736 pupils. The industrial schools committee reported an enrollment of 829.

Two new teachers were granted to Liberty, Homewood, Peebles and Brushton schools, and one to the Belzhoover and Minersville schools.

NATRONA'S NEW SCHOOL TO BE DEDICATED

Handsome and Thoroughly Up-to-Date Building That Cost $45,000.

The $45,000 school building erected by Harrison township in Natrona will be dedicated on Friday afternoon. During the afternoon an immense United States flag will be donated by Natrona council, No. 244 of the Jr. O. U. A. M., W. T. Kerr, past supreme councilor, making the address, while County Superintendent Samuel Hamilton and Allegheny City Superintendent John Morrow will speak. The dedicatory ceremonies will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

The building is a two-story pressed brick structure containing 13 class rooms, a principal's office, directors' room and a large assembly hall. The interior finish is of hard wood and an inter-room telephone system is provided. The building is heated with modern warm air apparatus and is illuminated by electric light. Red pressed brick is used in the walls and Cleveland cut stone for the trimmings. The building stands on a lot 145x185 feet, enclosed by a picket fence. The front will be converted into a lawn, while the rear will be used as a playground.

The school was built after overcoming obstacles. In January, 1902, the board of directors, consisting of W. B. Adams, S. A. Hookey, W. H. Scott, David Burtner, William Gas and B. N. Anthony, found a debt of $4,000 resting on the township, but the urgent need of a new school house led them to appoint a building committee and proceed to bond the township in the amount of $27,000. To this sum $5,000 was donated by H. H. Rogers of New York, a former resident of Natrona, and $5,000 from a local corporation. The citizens of Natrona gave a large clock, which will be placed in the tower of the new building.

An Elegant China Closet

In the well-appointed dining room there is no article of furniture more deserving of careful selection than the china closet.

Intended as it is for the purpose of displaying fine china it invites critical inspection of its contents, and itself necessarily comes in for no small share of observation.

Made of golden oak, 46 inches wide, 19 deep and 69 high—mirror back, bent glass door and sides—single drawer at bottom.

The refined elegance of the design is in perfect harmony with and contributes largely to the effect which people of refined taste always seek to obtain in the furnishment of their homes.

Mrs. Maria Morrow, aged 81, who lived a secluded life at 1621 Bluff street, was found dead at her home yesterday afternoon by her nephew, Assistant City Controller E. S. Morrow. Death is supposed to have taken place the previous day. Mrs. Morrow was the wife of the late John Morrow, an uncle of Assistant Controller Morrow. Mrs. Morrow had lived in the old Morrow homestead in Bluff street, where her death occurred, for 39 years and since her husband's demise in 1887 she lived entirely alone, not even having servants in the house.

She preferred to live at the family homestead on account of the associations of the place where she and her husband had lived happily together for many years. In late years she is said to have never left her home and the neighbors were acquainted with her but slightly.

The assistant controller was devoted to his aunt and saw her every day, it being his regular habit to take luncheon with her. He did so on Monday which was the last time he saw her alive. He went to the house Monday at noon, had luncheon and left at 1 o'clock to attend a funeral.

Yesterday he left his office at the city hall and arrived at the house about 1:45 o'clock. He was unable to summon his aunt by ringing the front door bell and entered by a rear door. He was shocked to find his aunt lying dead on the floor of her sitting room. Thinking that life might not be extinct, he summoned a neighbor and a physician was sent for. The physician stated that death had occurred many hours before.

Mr. Morrow said last night that he thought his aunt had died shortly after he left her Monday at noon. He said she complained of an attack of acute indigestion. Otherwise she was not in ill-health.

The remains were removed last evening to the home of Mr. Morrow, 5014 Liberty avenue, East End, where funeral services will be held this evening.

Mrs. Morrow's husband was a member of the firm of Hartupie & Morrow, engine builders, who were in business in Pittsburgh 50 years ago. The couple had no children.

IOWA SENATORS DIFFER.

Each Has Candidate for Vacant Judgeship to Succeed Judge Shiras.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Senators Allison and Dolliver of Iowa have locked horns over the appointment of a judge for the northern Iowa district. There are five candidates, each congressional district of the northern half of the state furnishing one. Each member of congress is thus forced to support the candidate from his own district.

Senator Dolliver favors State Senator Thomas D. Healy of Fort Dodge, while Senator Allison is supposed to have a leaning toward Craig Wright, a lawyer of Sioux City. When the Iowa delegation assembles here for the extra session a caucus will be held and if an agreement can be reached by a majority of the members an appointment will no doubt at once be made by President Roosevelt, for as soon as Judge C. F. Shiras desires to retire as soon as possible after November 1. L. W. SYRAYER.

TWO VACANCIES FILLED.

Gov. Pennypacker Names New Members for the Council.

George W. Atherton, state college; C. C. Harrison, Philadelphia; T. L. Seip, Allentown; J. D. Moffat, Washington; Edward Brooks, Philadelphia; J. M. Coughlin, Wilkesbarre; G. M. Philips, West Chester. Harvey W. Knight of Gettysburg was appointed in place of George Edward Reed, president of Dickinson college, Carlisle. The place of W. J. Holland, Pittsburgh will be filled later.

CORPS OF DOCTORS THREATEN STRIKE

THEY WILL MEET THIS MORNING

Committee Will Be Appointed to Wait Upon Officials and Demand an Explanation—Work of Health Bureau Being Sadly Handicapped.

Since his investigation of the health bureau has fallen flat, Controller John B. Larkin has adopted a new method of retarding the work of the bureau at a time when co-operation and earnest endeavor are most needed to fight smallpox. He has held up the warrants of the physicians and students employed as vaccinators, and as a result a strike may be declared and the city compelled to employ and reorganize a new corps of men for this work.

The vaccinators were employed to work during the daytime and for four hours in the evening, as more persons are at home at that time. The pay of the physicians was $3 per day and the students $2 50. For the extra four hours the physicians were to receive half a day's pay, or $1 50, and the students the same ratio, or $1 25 per day. When their warrants were turned in for last month the controller could not figure out what the extra pay was for, so he held them up.

Now the doctors talk of striking. They are scheduled to hold a closed meeting this morning at 9 o'clock in engine house No. 5, where a committee will be appointed to call on Director Moore and Controller Larkin and present the matter to these officials. If the vaccinators are not paid for their extra work, in all probability they will go on a strike.

The hotbed of smallpox has been for some time in the Thirteenth ward. A few weeks ago Supt. G. Wash Moore of the health bureau instituted a system of districting the ward and placing one physician in charge of the entire ward. Each district was to have a physician to do vaccinating and to try to stem the tide of smallpox. The physicians in the districts were responsible to the one in charge of the ward, and he to the health bureau. The work was tried a week with marked success. Then it was suddenly stopped.

It is said this work was stopped because it was begun while Dr. E. G. Matson, city bacteriologist, was out of the city and without consulting him. It is said when he returned home he became angry at this, and ordered it stopped and his pet system of card vaccination resumed. By this system cards are distributed and all persons are expected to fill out, whether vaccinated or not, and if so, when. Those in favor of the district system assert their scheme is the better one, because the physician is able to look at the arm of each person in the ward to see if he or she had been vaccinated and not depend on their word in the matter or their promptness in filling out the cards.

Six new cases of smallpox were reported in Pittsburgh yesterday. They were: James Hall, No. 2620 Penn avenue; Jonas Markle, Alvin and Tuntstall streets; Richard Ray, No. 1411 Poplar alley; Daniel Steele, No. 5167 Butler avenue, and Mary Mackawsky, Twenty-eighth street and Spring alley.

The record which Braddock has held the past six weeks for exemption from smallpox, was broken yesterday, when Matthew Russ, from the Hotel Kirk in Talbot avenue, and Harry Espey from the Hotel Lloyd in Braddock avenue and Tenth street, were taken to the smallpox hospital.

GEN. J. S. COXEY ON SITUATION

Believes That Meritorious Enterprises Will Receive Better Treatment Hereafter.

CRITICISES BANK'S METHODS

Says They Were Too Anxious to Secure Quick Assets—Declares That Labor Organizations by Ordering Strikes Have Cut Off Demand for Material.

Gen. Jacob S. Coxey, who came into much popular attention nine years ago as the commander of the army of the unemployed marching on Washington, believes that the present labor trouble with "General Confidence" is due mainly to the labor organizations of the country. He also believes that the banks of the country at large have not been doing their full duty by the industrial enterprises whose stocks were not listed on the exchanges.

Gen. Coxey was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business in connection with the big steel casting plant he owns at Mt. Vernon, O. He employs about 200 men there and maintains an "open shop." He expresses his views on the present situation as follows:

"The primal cause of the collapse is found in the fact that nearly 300,000 men engaged in the structural trades in New York were on strike and therefore out of employment almost all the summer. This cut off the demand for structural material and nearly everything else that went into building in New York. This strike, with many others in the principal cities, destroyed the confidence of the people who had money to invest in almost anything.

"I have just returned from a 10-day trip to Chicago, where I found a most bitter sentiment against labor organizations, and men with means will not invest a dollar where they must come in contact with labor organizations. It seems to me that a sentiment is being created and a movement started that will end in the destruction of the labor organizations of the country. This sentiment has been much stimulated by the stand President Roosevelt has taken in the government printing office case.

"The banks of the country at large have also learned a bitter lesson on what they call 'quick assets,' meaning securities that they thought were convertible in a few minutes' time on the stock exchange. In the past three or four years it has been almost impossible for legitimate enterprises, the stocks of which were not listed on exchanges, to get a dollar out of the banks for the reason that the banks do not consider them 'quick assets.' These bankers are now brought down with a thud when they commence to convert their 'quick assets' into money and find them melting away like ice in the July sun. It looks now as if enterprises that have merit in them will be able to obtain means to carry them along as they deserve."

OHIO CITIZENS DEDICATE MONUMENTS AT ANTIETAM

HAGERSTOWN, MD., Oct. 13.—The 10 monuments erected on Antietam battlefield by the state of Ohio, including the one to the memory of President McKinley, were dedicated today with appropriate exercises and under most auspicious circumstances. The presence of so many distinguished personages was a prominent feature of the day. Gen. Ian Hamilton, the famous British general, and party, including Sir Kay Muir, his brother-in-law, witnessed the dedication. Gov. Nash presented the monuments to the government.

HUMAN BODY DIVIDED UP INTO BUILDING BLOCKS

Unique, but Ghastly Exhibit for the Instruction of Embalmers and Funeral Directors—Great Interest Taken in the Specimen.

A demonstration in embalming which recalls the master work of the funeral directors of ancient Egypt is being given this week at the establishment of the Pittsburgh Casket Company, No. 1026 Fifth avenue, by Prof. H. S. Eckels. By the use of embalming fluid bodies are preserved in a more natural state than were the mummies of the patriarchs of the Nile. More than 10 undertakers from the city and surrounding towns are here to attend the lectures.

To prove the qualities of his preparation, Prof. Eckels has a "sectional specimen" which he uses. The specimen is a cadaver which has been kept for an indefinite period and is preserved like a piece of stone. So thoroughly is this work done that the head, arms, legs or a portion of the trunk can be separated and then rejoined, like the sections of a puzzle.

The undertakers found this particularly edifying. It was a matter of knowledge and business with them. Medical students likewise find much interest in the sectional specimen, inasmuch as it gives them an opportunity to study the organs and the structure of the tissues, while the flesh has every appearance of being in its natural state.

Prof. Eckels has mounted a dissected specimen of the human arterial system, the only one in existence; all the vital organs and arteries being shown on a board where the demonstrator indicates how the embalming fluid enters the vitals and thus flows to all parts of the body. Fresh cadavers had been supplied and there was no lack of specimens for the demonstration. Undertakers are very much like medical students in the handling of bodies, and their enthusiasm seemed grim enough as they stood over a specimen and talked "shop." After the demonstration yesterday the majority of the undertakers went to the exposition or to one of the down-town theaters.

Prof. Eckels is well known here. He testified as an expert witness in the J. O. Brown inquest and made the chemical analysis of the dead recorder's stomach. He is a manufacturer of embalming fluid and conducts a training school for embalmers in Philadelphia. He is the author of a number of works on the science. The undertakers are here on the invitation of the Pittsburgh Casket Company and will spend the week in the city. They will close their program with an informal banquet tomorrow night.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary favors a law compelling all undertakers in the state to use a non-poisonous fluid in embalming dead bodies. He advocates the introduction into the next legislature of such a measure.

"A great many undertakers," said the coroner last night, "are in the habit of using embalming fluids which contain arsenic and other poisons. If a body is disinterred and a post-mortem is held to find if death was caused by poison it is almost impossible to determine the cause if a poisonous embalming fluid has been used. There are embalming fluids which are non-poisonous and just as good, and there should be a law compelling the use of fluids of that kind."

PITTSBURGH STUDENT ACHIEVES SOCIAL FAME

CATHOLIC PRIESTS MEET IN CONFERENCE HERE

Usual Discussion Held Concerning Theological Questions and Parish Government.

The semi-annual conferences of the Catholic clergy of the Pittsburgh diocese were held yesterday in Pittsburgh, Butler and Scottdale. The Pittsburgh conference was in the Catholic Lyceum building in Washington street. Father Joseph Sueher, rector of SS. Peter and Paul church, East End, presided. About 100 priests were present.

The conference began at 8 p. m. and lasted until late in the afternoon. Proceedings of these meetings are never made public, as they concern theological questions, matters of parish government, including its business aspects, and practical problems that are likely to confront parish priests.

The conference is something like a post-graduate course. It is intended to renew with the older priests the things they are supposed to have learned and to exercise the younger priests in things that are bound to meet in the course of their careers. They learn that what they studied at college and in the seminary was only preliminary to a far more serious study which lasts throughout life.

Papers were read yesterday by priests to whom the tasks were assigned by Bishops Phelan and Canevin, and a general discussion followed the reading of the papers. The younger priests are encouraged to ask questions, to dispute deductions in the papers, if they do not agree with them, and to give their own ideas and defend them.

FALLING WALL OF EARTH BURIES FOUR WORKMEN

Bodies Were Dug Out of Debris Half Hour After the Accident Happened—One Man Was Killed and the Others Were Injured.

One man was killed and three others injured by the cave-in of a bank in Hamilton avenue, near Linden avenue, where the Brilliant cut-off of the Pennsylvania railroad crosses, at 1:05 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The dead and injured men were buried under the debris and it took half an hour to dig them out. The victims are:

THE DEAD.

THE INJURED.

REUBEN RODGERS, aged 50, foreman, of No. 1886 Cliff street; hurt about legs and body.

NICK PETROVICH, aged 28 years, of Hamilton avenue; internally injured; taken to East End hospital.

PETER REIZLAK, aged 40 years, of Thirtieth street; injured about the legs.

The accident was a peculiar one. From the level of Hamilton avenue to the top of the bank which was being torn down is a distance of 36 feet. The wall of earth had been braced with timbers, and down in the excavation were 15 men, mostly Austrians, at work. The dirt was being hauled to the top of the bank in large iron buckets. While one was being lifted it became entangled in the beams supporting the bank and pulled them down.

The bank gave way and the earth came down on the men working below. Bourbon was buried from sight. His companions, with the exception of Petrovich, made their escape. Foreman Rodgers and Reizlak, who were standing at the top of the bank, were precipitated to the bottom and covered over with the dirt. Both had narrow escapes from death. They were dug out first and restored to consciousness. When Bourbon was found a half hour after the cave-in happened, he was dead and his body was taken to the morgue. The men were employes of the Columbia Contracting Company, which has charge of the work.

Plumbers' Test Caused Explosion.

Louis Shuster, a plumber, was burned by an explosion of gas in the house at 2013 Carson street, South Side, occupied by Mrs. Josephine Nold, yesterday afternoon. Shuster was making some repairs and struck a match to test the pipes. The explosion resulted. There was a property loss of about $20.

Government Agent Exposes Scheme of Settlers in Desert Territory.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Special Agent Chadwick of the general land office has filed a report with the commissioner recommending the withdrawal of land in the Great Falls (Mont.) land office from entry under the desert land laws. He says that the land is not desert in character and that the settlers secure abundant crops of hay and grain without irrigation. Notwithstanding this fact, he says that many entries of land under the desert land laws have been made.

"How," he says, "the entrymen could have made reply to the question as to whether the land required irrigation, I do not know. Many tracts," he continues, "have been entered as desert which are excellent farming and grazing land in character. Neither the letter nor the spirit of the desert land law is complied with. To get title is often the sole aim of the settler."

He says there are no streams in the region from which water can be taken for irrigation, and that in order to comply with the law witnesses were called in after snowstorms, and, finding water in furrows which had been plowed for the purpose, they were able to say that they had seen "water on the land."

The order of withdrawal was made upon the strength of this report, and it also contemplates a closer inspection of the proof in cases arising in the district in which entries have already been made.

DEATH WON RACE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—A race against death, which Walter H. Field of No. 44 North street, Portland, Me., was making, came to an end as a Santa Fe passenger train was nearing Chicago today.

Mr. Field had been in Carlsbad, N. M., taking the treatment for tuberculosis. Finding the end near he began a hurried trip east in the hope of dying in his old home. He could hardly speak as he boarded the train at Kansas City last night, and when the porter sought to arouse him this morning he was found dead.

PROSPERITY CONTINUES IN COMMERCIAL LINES

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Director William P. King of the Merchants' association of New York in an interview said: "From the gulf to the lakes there is continued prosperity in manufacturing and commercial lines. New York city has done the largest business in its history thus far this fall. Collections were never better. There is no manufacturer or merchant doing a proper business who is not getting all the money he needs. There are no failures of any consequence in manufacturing or commercial lines."

SELF-DEFENSE IS NOT SINCERE PLEA

IS CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 13.—The case against James H. Tillman will go to the jury tomorrow. The defense seems to be confident of a verdict of acquittal.

This evening Col. Andrew Crawford was exceedingly severe in his denunciation of Tillman and said that it was nothing but a cold-blooded, brutal murder and that there was nothing more to be said about the case. He insisted that Tillman simply laid in wait to kill his man and that the first time he saw him he carried out his intention and that the plea of self-denfense was all a delusion and a shame. The defense seems to be making its strong plea on the editorial attacks that were made upon Tillman in the State newspaper, of which Gonzales was the editor.

The court room was crowded to suffocation all day. Large crowds have come over from Columbia to hear the final arguments. The lawyers engaged in the case are the strongest on the commonwealth side and are making a desperate fight. There is considerable feeling being shown in the whole matter and there will be great satisfaction when the trial comes to an end.

NO NEED OF MORGAN.

Claim Made That Financier Can Give No Testimony in Shipbuilding Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the bondholders' protective committee in the United States Shipbuilding case, was asked today if he intended to call J. P. Morgan at any of the hearings in the investigation.

"I don't see any reason for calling Mr. Morgan," he said. "Mr. Morgan could not testify except from hearsay, as he was in Europe when the shipbuilding matters happened."

PAIR OF TINY TENANTS FOR BABY INCUBATOR

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—For the first time in several months the baby incubators at Bellevue are occupied. At three o'clock this morning Dr. Rompert arrived with a large bandbox. He opened the box in the presence of several nurses and physicians, who saw, reclining on the cotton, two tiny boy babies. They were twins and the offspring of Mrs. Yetta Goldberg. Before being put in the incubator the babies were weighed. One registered one pound, three ounces, and the other one pound, seven ounces. It is the opinion of the doctors that unless something unforeseen happens, the infants will live.

PLAYED ON MUDDY FIELD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 13.—Senseless ground rules that interfered with both teams and a large element of bad luck, combined with wet grounds and poor weather, unstrung the Pittsburgh National ball team and the Boston Americans won the world's championship at the Huntington avenue grounds this afternoon 3 to 0.

The Pirates put up a great game for seven innings did marvelous work. The great Phillippe won unstinted applause. So did his rival, Bill Dineen. It was really a pitcher's battle, and the two played one another's teams to a standstill, seven thousand, four hundred and fifty-five saw the game. It was clean-cut work on both sides until the fourth inning. Up to then it was one, two, three. But in the fourth Freeman started the fun by a drive to the ropes for three bases amid tumultuous applause. Then the signal was given around for everybody to stand up and yell.

Parent was safe on a bunt, as Phelps had butter fingers and could not handle the ball. Lachance went out, Bransfield to Ritchey at first base. Kitty holding Freeman at third. Ferris set the crowd wild by a terrific drive to right field, scoring both Parent and Freeman. The din caused by the rooters was something fierce, but it subsided when Criger went out, Phillippe to Bransfield. Ferris going to second. Dineen singled to left field, and Ferris was nailed at the plate on an attempt to score from second on a fine throw by Sebring. Two runs.

LaChance's Hit Was Lucky.

Matters drifted along again until the sixth, when Freeman flied out to Wagner back of third base. Parent flied out to Beaumont, who made a pretty running catch. Lachance hit to the center field for three bases and he scored on a single by Ferris, it being the second time Ferris responded timely. Criger singled, advancing Ferris to second. Dineen took a turn at the willow-handed and forced Criger at second, Ritchey to Wagner. One run.

It was generally conceded that but for the lapses in the fourth and sixth Pittsburgh would have made it much longer than nine innings. With few exceptions, their work was snappier and cleaner than the victors. But they were really unfit. Colds annoyed them, and quinine makes a poor dope. They fought nobly, but they could not come to cause shame. The game was replete with clever individual play. Beaumont caught a kiting fly by Dougherty in the first inning, and the batter subsequently also went out to Wagner to Beaumont. The bleachers were enraptured. Then in the second Hans Wagner made an armor-plate stop of Ferris' hot grounder. Wagner was in great form.

Pittsburgh had two chances to equal or better Boston's score. Once in the fourth, Beaumont and Clarke went out. Leach drew a gift and walked to Bransfield. The latter also was given a free ride. Leach got third on a hit by Wagner. Parent leaving short uncovered by dashing to cover second and Tommy going around. When Wagner dashed for second, Criger made a short throw. The feint drew Leach off third, and Criger clipped the ball to Collins. Tommy ran for the plate and was an easy out on the throw by Capt. Jimmy. Pittsburghs were in close quarters, but a little fine work and a little less foot work would have changed things.

Pirates Missed Good Chances.

The other chance was in the sixth. Phillippe shot out a hit past Parent for a single. Beaumont struck out and by a quick throw Phillippe was caught asleep at first. His nap was inexcusable. Then Clarke smashed a red-hot grounder too hot for Collins and danced on first. Leach singled to right, filling the bases. Dougherty, whose fly-catching all through the game was most spectacular. Other than these occasions, and when Boston scored, it was a case of catch flies and stop grounders.

The game could not have been played quicker. A wide throw by Wagner was the only error scored as such, and mistakes of judgment were few. Both teams played as confidently as if some one had signalled victory for them in advance, and the game was fought out to the end with the utmost determination. The masterly pitching of Dineen, Criger's head work and general all-around good batting of Ferris were the three noteworthy features contributed during the game to Boston's victory. Dineen had terrific speed and superb cunning of sharp-breaking curves. Only four hits were scored off his delivery. He gave two bases on balls, and thus out of a total of 31 men who faced him, only six reached first base.

Phillippe, where masterly twirling contributed the larger part to each and every one of the victories Pittsburgh had been able to achieve over Boston earlier in the series, but with memories of one unpleasant defeat in mind, made desperate efforts to do more than can be expected of mortal twirler. The light comparative attendance was caused by the ticket speculators as much as the general gloom and the advance orders for a possible second game were very light. Betting today was 10 to 6 in favor of Boston, with but few takers.

Jimmy Collins: "What is there to say? We won, and I believed all the way that we would win, even when things looked black before us. I want to thank the press and the public for their support and encouragement."

Barney Dreyfuss: "Boston won on her merits as the teams stood. I wish we had had our full string of pitchers. I say this, not to detract, but in simple justice to my own. I am as proud of them as if they had won every game of the series."

The wish was freely expressed that Boston had a Barney Dreyfuss. The score:

WILL FOOT THE BILL.

John W. Gates Still After August Belmont.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—According to a rumor that would not down at the Morris park track, John W. Gates has sent word to Congressman ("Big Tim") Sullivan that in the event of a possible clash between Jamaica track managers and the stewards over fixtures, he (Gates) would advance all the money necessary to carry on the fight. This story was told by a close friend of the congressman of the East Side.

This move of Gates' is said to come on the behalf of his friend, Drake, and as a parting slap at his old financial foe, August Belmont.

Pastimes to Play Lyceum.

The Lyceum and Pastime teams will come together at Pittsburgh college grounds Saturday. These teams have been trying to get together for three years, and were unable to do so, as they could not get the grounds.

Final Matinee at Schenley Park Promises to Be the Banner Event of the Season.

The final matinee of the season by the Schenley Matinee club will be held this afternoon on the Schenley oval track, and it promises to be the banner event of the season and there is sure to be some splendid sport for the lovers of light harness racing.

For this afternoon's events there will be prizes for the first four horses in each event. These prizes have been donated by business men and other lovers of racing, and as they are both handsome and costly, there is sure to be spirited competition for them. The program calls for six events, as well as a pony race to saddle with boys as jockeys. The last named event is carded to take place after school hours. The program of events follows:

Event No. 1, pace—Fred M., b. g., W. H. Wood; Mable Wilkes, br. m., P. H. Franklin; Dick K., b. g., J. L. Ketter; Daisy W., br. m., E. A. Westcott; Ben Boy, s. g., J. W. Neff; Paddy D., s. g.

Event No. 2, trot—Nellie Emitt, b. m., W. Pheil; Molly G., b. m., J. Garland; Jolly B., br. g., Ed Heyl; Success, gr. g., L. P. Ross.

Event No. 4, trot—J. C., b. g., L. P. Ross; Hartford J., gr. g., W. J. Moore; Harry C., b. g., J. Mawhinney; King Rudolph, s. g., H. L. Thumm; Mr. Expo, b. h., T. J. Kern; Welshod, s. g., Ed Kern.

Stagg Says It Has No Jurisdiction Over College Athletics.

Coach Stagg of the Chicago university football team says the Amateur Athletic union has no jurisdiction over college athletics, and refuses to listen to an edict by that body. The present trouble is over the case of Walter Eckersall, last year a star all-round athlete on a Chicago prep. school, who entered Chicago university this fall after almost every big university had tried to get him. Chicago, it is charge was made that Eckersall received a remuneration for playing baseball, and the A. A. U. put a ban on him, also forbidding any college teams contesting with Chicago as long as Eckersall is played.

Eckersall is putting up a great game at half for Chicago. The Wisconsin university, which was scheduled to play Chicago Saturday, has written Coach Stagg, requesting him to keep Eckersall out of the game. Stagg refuses to comply with the request and pays no heed to college teams contesting with Chicago as long as Eckersall is played.

AFTER YOUNG CORBETT.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Eddie Hanlon, the Pacific coast featherweight champion, has requested one of the eastern clubs to match him with Young Corbett again. Hanlon says if he ever faces Corbett again that he will surely put him away.

Today's Brighton Beach Tips.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Journal and American selections at Brighton:

Fifth race—Hurstbourne, Tribes Hill.

Nimrods Cleaning Their Guns.

GREENSBURG, PA., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Greensburg nimrods are preparing for a busy hunting season. Game is exceedingly plentiful on Westmoreland county, and the outlook for beating of Ferris were the three noteworthy features contributed during the game to Boston's victory. Dineen had terrific speed and superb cunning of sharp-breaking curves. Only four hits were scored off his delivery. He gave two bases on balls, and thus out of a total of 31 men who faced him, only six reached first base.

Phillippe, where masterly twirling contributed the larger part to each and every one of the victories Pittsburgh had been able to achieve over Boston earlier in the series, but with memories of one unpleasant defeat in mind, made desperate efforts to do more than can be expected of mortal twirler. The light comparative attendance was caused by the ticket speculators as much as the general gloom and the advance orders for a possible second game were very light. Betting today was 10 to 6 in favor of Boston, with but few takers.

Jimmy Collins: "What is there to say? We won, and I believed all the way that we would win, even when things looked black before us. I want to thank the press and the public for their support and encouragement."

Barney Dreyfuss: "Boston won on her merits as the teams stood. I wish we had had our full string of pitchers. I say this, not to detract, but in simple justice to my own. I am as proud of them as if they had won every game of the series."

KISKI CHANGES DATE TO ALLOW BIG GAME

Agrees to Play High School Nov. 21 so That Shadyside May Be Met.

One obstacle in the way of the Shadyside academy and Pittsburgh high school elevens meeting this fall has been removed by the Kiskiminetas Springs school of Saltsburg, agreeing to shift its date with high school from November 14 to November 21. Shadyside wanted to play High school November 14, but High school had Kiski scheduled for the date. Kiski however, has agreed to change, and will make it more possible for the two local rival institutions to come together on the gridiron.

Kiski has a hard schedule and was not adverse to doubling out the local schools. Last Saturday Kiski will begin its series of hard games by playing the University school at Cleveland. Capt. Francis Caughey of Bellevue is putting the team through the hardest kind of work daily, and is confident of turning out a winning team. The back field, it is expected, will be the fastest the school ever saw, and the line of one of the biggest. The team will average 175 pounds in weight.

Capt. Caughey has decided on the following men for Saturday's game, and the line-up will in all probability be the one that will go through the season: Center, Gordon; right guard; Seanor; right tackle, Johns; right end; G. A. Corbett, left guard; Irons, right tackle; Heidrick, right end; Cunningham, quarter back; Davies, right half; Caughey, left half, and fullback, Fuller. Dwyer and Cunningham are Pittsburgh boys and Johns is from Oakmont. Heidrick lives at Brookville, and is a brother to Emmett Heidrick, the American league baseball player. Davies was on the Indiana Normal team last year. He stands 6 feet and weighs 190 pounds. Irons lives at Bellevernon, and Gordon at Franklin. Fuller hails from Kittanning. Center, Dwyer, another former Indiana player. Kiski's first appearance in Pittsburgh will be November 9, playing Shadyside.

The East Liberty academy candidates had about their best practice of the season yesterday at D. C. and A. C. park. Twenty-five men reported to Coach Hill. Before the practice was begun second team was formed by the election of George Foster, right end, as captain. Alex McCracken, manager of the first team, will also look after the business interests of the scrubs. They will open their season with a practice game with Shadyside. East Liberty has the Pittsburgh College Reserves scheduled for Friday at D. C. and A. C. park, and anticipating a bruising contest Coach Hill yesterday put the men through hard work. The scrubs were lined up against the first team and in two fast ten minute halves neither side was able to make a score. Three new players reported yesterday, Joe Bryan, the hockey player; Sutton and Bryan.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—A football team has been organized in Washington and a schedule arranged. Charles Conroy is manager and Clarence Timmons captain. William B. Seamon, who is in charge of the W. & J. athletic park, will coach the team. The season will be opened with Canonsburg here next Saturday.

THE CARDINAL PLAYERS MAKING MANY THREATS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—The row in the camp of the Patsy Donovan's Cardinals is still on and is growing warmer as it grows older. It is said that the absence of Manager Donovan on Sunday afternoon was all that obviated a fight in the club house. It is intimated that several of the discontented brethren purposed taking "soaks" at the manager in due resentment of his perfectly true charges that they were malingerers. Donovan is something over a heavy ball, broad-shouldered, athletic, has a cold eye and a square jaw. The ball players who regret that he escaped Saturday have not yet been arrested for assaulting him at his hotel or on the street.

A number of baseball fans who will buy drinks all night if honored by the presence of a player, and who revere the hand that shook the hand of a man who once bobbed for ground-ball flies and strike out before the admiring gaze of thousands have been trying to work up a stream of public sympathy for the men charged by Donovan with shirking and practically throwing games all season. It is claimed that, although it was perfectly proper for the players to shirk it was a heinous offense for Donovan to say so. It is said that the players were mortified in shirking, for they have no grievances. It is pointed out that the ball player was absolutely at the disposal and under the thumb of the club and that he had no redress or recourse of getting even when badly treated.

Ball players are under the thumb of the club, just as every employe is under the thumb of his employer, with the difference that a man can always jump his job. If he does not like the game he can quit it. If he is down-trodden and oppressed, he gets more for it than the average sawyer, wood-chopper or street car gospel earns. He gets a big salary, has easy work and short hours. If it were not for baseball the average player would be knocking horn farcs or hustling vigorously for $1.50 per diem.

By throwing games, for that is what shirking really means, the ball player guilty of such offense is practically obtaining money under false pretenses, for he is receiving pay for giving honest service, and that is just what he is not doing. If it is justifiable to shirk because of fancied, or even real, grievances, it would also be justifiable for the player to break into the office safe and take the club's money. In one case he would take money from the club indirectly and in the other he would take it directly. That is about the only difference.

The next step in this remarkable theory of justification will be for discontented ball players to plead in extenuation that the ball players throw stones at the West End hotel, because Manager Donovan lives there.

A number of the players say they do not want to see Mr. Donovan stay in the game. Some of them have no choice in the matter, for they can not come back. To put it politely, they will be fired. As to the others, it remains to be seen whether the ball players who are paid for playing baseball and not for crowding and knocking, or the owners of the club, will run things next season.

Mr. Robison says the club will run things, and the betting is that the ball players will again consent to be oppressed and downtrodden at $4,000 a year.

PERSONALS

Former President Grover Cleveland, looking hale and hearty, but in a silent mood, passed through Pittsburgh last night. He was on his way to Chicago, where he will attend the Commercial club banquet and make the principal address this evening. Mr. Cleveland was a passenger on the Limited, reaching here at 9 o'clock. He occupied a stateroom, which no one was allowed to enter save the porter. Passengers in the same car did not know that the former president was on the train. When the train reached the Union station an effort was made by several local Democrats to see Mr. Cleveland. Some boarded the car, but were ejected by the porter. Their cards were sent in. This had no effect, as he asked to be excused, stating he was busily engaged and could not be disturbed. From outside the car he was seen reading a book.

J. Burwell of Baltimore, who has charge of all the hotels and restaurants of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad system, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. He is on a tour of the eating houses controlled by the B. & O. system. Mr. Burwell has charge of the Deer Park hotel during the summer, which closed the last of September. Before reaching Pittsburgh he also visited Fairmont, Connellsville, Uniontown, Glenwood and Wheeling Junction. Mr. Burwell is one of the oldest employes on the B. & O. railroad. For a number of years he has held his present position. It was through his suggestion that eating houses for employes only were established. One of the first is located at New Castle, where the look of things was changed. The place at Glenwood has not been opened, but is expected to be within the next two weeks.

"W. H. Andrews, Albuquerque, N. M.," is the signature of the erstwhile Alleghenian on the register at the Schenley. Ex-Senator Andrews is in Pittsburgh, for some purpose or business matters here, although he claims New Mexico as his residence. "We have a real railroad out there now in the Santa Fe Central," he said. "Trains are running and the road is doing a good business. Just how large earnings will be cannot be told until the full reports are made. I am confident that the fight to be continued for the admission of New Mexico as a state will be successful this winter. There will be no lack of effort made to bring it to that conclusion." When asked about his United States senatorial aspiration the ex-Pennsylvanian stated that there would have to be a state before there could be senators.

John W. Renner, comptroller of the Pennsylvania Company, left last night for Philadelphia. He says there he will attend a meeting of all the comptrollers of the Pennsylvania interests. Among those who will be present besides Mr. Renner are H. F. Bulkley of the Baltimore & Ohio road; Baltimore; C. F. Sullivan of the Chesapeake & Ohio, Richmond; F. W. Downing of the Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia, and M. C. Jameson of the Norfolk & Western, Roanoke. The object of the meeting is to alter the rules of handling the business of comptroller, the changes being necessary on account of the rules laid down by the Interstate Commerce commission. The meeting will last two days.

Frank Buchanan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers and Bridgemen, left last night for Chicago to attend a meeting of the civic federation. He had intended going to New York to look into the developments of the strike against the Snow Steel Constructing Company, but he deemed it advisable to leave the New York trouble alone for a few days. Before leaving he said that the New York affair involved nearly $1,000,000 stated. He intimated that there was a possibility of a general strike being called, but thought the matter could be adjusted by more peaceable means.

Prof. Taiil Essen Morgan will arrive from New York city this evening to rehearse at the Second Presbyterian church tonight the chorus for the centennial celebration of the founding of the church next Sunday morning. Mr. Morgan will lead the chorus and congregational singing at the church next Sunday morning. Mr. Morgan founded the Second Presbyterian church chorus even five years ago, and previous to that he was musical director for Walter Damrosch.

The Rev. J. D. Moffat, president of Washington and Jefferson college, passed through the city last night on his way to Princeton, N. J. The Rev. F. L. Patton will be installed president of the theological seminary of that college today and Mr. Moffat will attend the ceremonies.

William Starr, for a number of years a representative of the Missouri Pacific, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, but now in business in Alliance, passed through the city last night in company with H. K. Shafer, also a business man of Alliance, O. They were on their way to Parry sound. They said that business is good in Alliance.

James W. Brown, who has been superintendent of the McKeesport division of the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Connellsville Street Railway Company, has been promoted to general superintendent of the entire system, with headquarters at Connellsville.

SALTSBURG ROAD MUST SUBMIT TO INSPECTION

County Commissioners Hear Testimony on Alter's Charges Against Booth & Flinn.

After hearing testimony regarding the work on the Saltsburg road done by Booth & Flinn, the county commissioners yesterday appointed a committee to inspect the road and report whether the charges of George Alter, the inspector, are well founded. Alter charged that the macadam in some parts of the road was not according to specifications, inasmuch as an inferior quality of stone was used in some places and other spots the macadam and the telford were not as thick as the specifications required.

A number of citizens of Plum and Penn townships were present to give evidence to sustain Alter's charges. Among

SUN REGULATES EARTH'S WEATHER

IS AFFECTED BY RADIATION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Garrett P. Serviss, the scientist, makes the following statement about the sun spots:—The extraordinary weather of the past few weeks did not happen by accident. What then is the cause of it?

In seeking an answer the first thing is to recall the fact that the common cause and source of all weather is the sun. Without the sun there would be no seasons, no heat, no winds, no rain, snow, fog or dew. The sun exercises its influence upon the earth through radiation. If the radiation of the sun is variable the effect must be felt wherever that radiation extends. This means that since the weather upon the earth is dependent on the sun's radiation the weather will vary in some manner whenever the radiation varies.

Just at present the radiation of the sun is undergoing a marked variation. This fact is shown by the recurrence of what is known as a maximum sunspot period. Such a period is just setting in upon the sun. The spots have not yet become very large or very numerous, but they are tending to increase, while the unknown causes that produce them are already in full operation. These causes, more than the sunspots themselves, affect the character of the sun's radiation. We don't readily detect the change in the light and heat that we receive from the sun, because a slight fractional increase or decrease in the mean temperature or the average illumination is hardly perceptible to our senses, but the influence of the change upon the atmosphere and upon the magnetism of the earth is more decided in its effects and results in extraordinary vicissitudes of the weather.

This influence must be general all over the earth, but the precise manner in which it is manifested in particular places depends upon local conditions. The broad effect is that everywhere the elements of the weather are intensified producing unusual storms, floods, winds and sharp and sudden contrasts and changes. This has been the general character of the weather throughout the present year, during which the disturbing forces underlying sunspots have been gathering.

As the sunspot maximum increases a perceptible change in the general character of the seasons all over the earth is likely to be manifested, but the violence of the contrasts will gradually be relaxed and after a few years the cycle of change will return to its former state. All this happens because our sun is a slightly variable star.

GARRETT P. SERVISS.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Prof. Joseph Ames of the Johns Hopkins university attaches little importance to the large spot that has recently appeared on the sun.

"Magnetic disturbances," he said, "sometimes occur with sun spots, but, as far as scientists know, they are attended by no other natural phenomenon. Sun spots are always in existence, but every eleventh year they are more prominent. Their origin is not known. It has been supposed that they are produced by the planets in much the same manner as tides are caused. The planets in their evolutions around the sun approach it much more closely at one time than at another. The planet may draw out the surface of the sun."

NAVAL OBSERVATORY WATCHING SUN SPOTS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The United States Naval observatory today made observations of the extraordinary group of solar spots now visible on the sun, the largest group discovered in the last decade. The observations are under the direction of George H. Peters, who made the following statement today:

"The enormous group was again observed with a photo heliograph yesterday and today. The individual spots comprising the group have become less numerous, some of the smaller spots having consolidated with others. The group consists of about nine spots in all and now shows indications of condensing into two principal spots or groups somewhat separated.

"Yesterday the total length of the disturbed region was 172,000 miles, with a width of about 59,000 miles, the aggregate length of the principal spots being 123,000 miles. The group was easily seen by the naked eye at the naval observatory by several of the astronomers and ought to be a conspicuous object for several days yet.

"A brilliant aurora was observed last evening, a bright glow in the heavens near the horizon, while intense streams shot up toward the zenith. These conspicuous auroras often accompany the appearance of large sun spots. The magnetic conditions of the earth are affected, producing considerable disturbance of the magnetic needle."

HAPPY OHIO COUPLE CELEBRATE THE HALF CENTURY OF WEDDED LIFE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lindesmith today celebrated their golden wedding at their home, 217 Summit avenue. In 1853 they were married at Dungannon, O., Mrs. Lindesmith's maiden name being Margaret Jane McAllister. The couple lived in Columbiana county until the civil war broke out, when Mr. Lindesmith enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifteenth O. V. I. He afterward enlisted in a company known as Campbell's scouts.

They came to Youngstown after the war and with the exception of three years spent in Oklahoma, have spent the entire time here. Mr. Lindesmith was a member of the police force of the city 20 years ago. This morning at 9 o'clock, nuptial high mass was celebrated at St. Columba's church. A reception was held at their home from 2 to 6 this afternoon.

SOCIETY.

WEDNESDAY, December 9, has been selected as the day for the wedding of Miss Virginia Johnston and Harry Frazier Harris. The home-coming of Mrs. Harvey Childs, Jr., and her daughter, Miss Johnston, on Friday of this week, is anticipated with much interest as it is expected that preparations for the wedding will at once commence and go on apace with the return of the family to their home in Bidwell street, Shadyside.

The plans for the wedding have as yet not been made public, but the marriage will probably be a large home affair with an interesting bridal party. Miss Johnston is a Farmington girl and made her debut at a large tea given by her mother some seasons ago. Mr. Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Harris, of Philadelphia, and is a graduate of Princeton University. The engagement of Miss Johnston and Mr. Harris was announced last season at a handsomely appointed luncheon, at which Mrs. Childs was hostess.

Honors for a Bride-Elect.

Closing the pre-nuptial festivities of Miss Margaret McKnight Haymaker and Jacob A. Fronheiser, was the wedding rehearsal last evening, followed by a dinner, at which Miss Mary Guller of Hays street was hostess. Covers were placed for 14, the party including the honor guest, the hostess, Miss Dorothy Fronheiser, Miss Mary Haymaker, Miss Moore of Philadelphia, Miss Barber of Englewood, N. J.; Mrs. H. W. Nutt of Stamford; Jacob Fronheiser, Benjamin Williams, Frank Hannan, John Fox, Mr. Rosenteel, Dr. Lowman and Mr. Kelley. Mrs. Seth Spencer of Buffalo, who was to have been Miss Haymaker's matron of honor, will not be able to attend the wedding on account of sickness, and Miss Mary Haymaker will, therefore, be her sister's only attendant. George Mercereau of Kansas, who will act as best man for Mr. Fronheiser, was also absent last evening. He is expected to arrive in the city this morning.

The wedding of Miss Haymaker and Mr. Fronheiser takes place this evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, District Attorney and Mrs. John C. Haymaker, in South Negley avenue. The Rev. Richard S. Holmes, D. D., of the Shadyside Presbyterian church, will officiate.

Miss Roosevelt to Act as Bridesmaid.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—That much quoted superstition, "three times a bridesmaid never a bride," has no terrors for Miss Alice Roosevelt, who has accepted an invitation to serve in this capacity at the approaching marriage of Miss Lilia McCauley and Wolcott Tuckerman, which will take place at St. John's church, November 25, and will be quite the smartest nuptial event of the early winter. Miss McCauley, who is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward McCauley of this city, is one of the belles of residential Washington, and from childhood has been an intimate friend of the president's daughter, with whom she attended school and dancing classes in the days when Mr. Roosevelt was civil service commissioner.

The other attendants at this wedding will be the bride's sister, Miss Annie McCauley, Miss Harriet Wadsworth, Miss Anita Poor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poor, Miss Eloise Carolyn Postelwaite, Miss Mabel Taylor of Philadelphia, and Miss Grace Sedgwick of New York.

Miss Roosevelt was a bridesmaid at the wedding of Ruth Truyn and David Goodrich, in Albany, last June, and also at the marriage of Miss Madeline Jackson to George C. Lee, Jr., in Boston, several years ago.

Luncheon for Miss Biggs.

Daintily appointed was the luncheon given yesterday for Miss Elizabeth Biggs by Miss Winifred and Miss Rebecca Jones at the Pittsburgh Golf club. The wedding of Miss Biggs and William Kuhn Dunbar takes place this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Biggs, South Craig street. Covers were laid for Miss Sallie and Miss Fannie Dunbar, who with the two hostesses will act as bridesmaids for Miss Biggs; Mrs. George W. Biggs, Jr., the matron of honor, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Biggs. The centerpiece was of white roses. At the wedding this evening Mr. Dunbar will be attended by Dr. Herbert Van Kirk. The ushers will be Lucian Hill, Herbert Barnard, Bissell Speer, Alexander Speer, Morgan B. Hays and Edward H. O'Connor. The Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan will perform the marriage ceremony. The rehearsal for the wedding took place on Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. James Kuhn giving the rehearsal dinner.

For an Autumn Bride and Bridesmaid.

Miss Pearl Cropsey and Miss Carrie Rucker shared honors at a handkerchief shower last evening, at which Miss Indie Van Dusen of the Iroquois apartments, was hostess. About 75 young people were present and during the evening six-hand euchre was played. The affair was quite unique, the tally cards being fastened in the corner of a pink-edged handkerchief for the girls and in bandannas for the men. These were all hidden in a huge umbrella, which Miss Rucker opened, showering the guests with handkerchiefs. The decorations for the evening were carried out in the wedding colors, pink and white. Miss Cropsey and Allen Birge of Sherman, Tex., will be married November 10, at the home of Miss Cropsey's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Liggett of Walnut street.

Grant—McFayden.

On dates after November 1, Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart McFayden will receive their friends at the Hotel Dorset. Mrs. McFayden was Miss Kate Elizabeth Grant, a daughter of James H. Grant of Chicago, her marriage to Mr. McFayden having taken place in St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church, in Chicago, yesterday morning. The newly wedded couple will pass through Pittsburgh this morning on their way to Washington, where they will spend their honeymoon.

Braddock Club's Assemblies.

The Braddock club, the leading social organization of the Monongahela valley, has announced the first function of the season, a dance to be given next Friday evening in Assembly hall, Wilkinsburg. They will give a dance each month until April. The committee on arrangements is Edgar S. Wright, Samuel R. Allen, William H. Brown, John J. Walker, William M. Hogg, Frederick N. Pilgram, Edwin L. Brown, William Henry Evans, Joseph Price, Jr., and Prof. J. Edgar Little.

Wedding Invitations Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis X. Burns of Thirty-eighth street, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lola Irene Burns, and William Schindeheutte of Forty-second street, on Wednesday evening, October 21. The wedding will take place in the Butler Street Meahodist Episcopal church, with the Rev. Dr. J. P. Marlott as officiant.

Annual Donation Day.

The managers of the Presbyterian hospital of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will hold their annual reception and donation day tomorrow, from 2 o'clock until 10, at the hospital in Ridge avenue, Allegheny. Donations of blankets, spreads, linens, groceries, fruits and jellies will be gratefully received by the managers.

Family Dinner Precedes a Wedding.

Miss Jean Shaw, the date for whose marriage with Charles B. Seeley is set for tomorrow, was honor guest at a dinner last evening by Mrs. Robert Kiser of Center avenue, East End. The dinner was largely a family affair. Covers were laid for 16. The color scheme was pink and white with a centerpiece of carnations.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Charles C. Buck of Natrona announces the engagement of her sister, Dora E. Heasley of Natrona, to Jacob J. Dick of Hites. The wedding will take place on the afternoon of Thursday, November 26 at Mrs. Buck's home in Spruce street. The Rev. D. P. Williams of the First Presbyterian church will officiate.

WEDDINGS OF THE DAY.

The wedding of Miss Florence May Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Murphy, of Shady avenue, and Albert Bertalott, will be an event of this morning. The ceremony will take place at 9 o'clock, with the Rev. Francis Keane, rector of the Roman Catholic church of the Sacred Heart, where the wedding occurs, as officiant. Mrs. C. W. Knode, a sister of the bride, will be matron of honor, and the maids will be Miss Bertha Bertalott, Miss Nellie Brady, Miss Alice Lauinger, Miss Irene McNulty and Miss Margaret O'Mara. William Murphy will be best man and the ushers will be A. E. Murphy, A. J. Delbold, J. D. Reilly, F. X. Delbold, John Campbell and John Dunlevy.

Cards were received in Pittsburgh some time ago for the marriage of Miss Clara Koblegard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Koblegard, of Sharpsburg, W. Va., and Robert Hamilton Wilson of this city, which takes place today at the home of the bride. After a wedding trip Mr. Wilson will bring his bride to Pittsburgh, where they will reside.

A pretty suburban wedding of this evening will be that of Miss Mary McCrum and Samuel Lloyd Shank, which will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. McCrum, of Aspinwall. Miss Anne Gray McCrum will be her sister's maid of honor, Miss Jeanne McCrum, another sister, and Miss Margaret Parkin, acting as flower girls, Robert Sage Wilson and Frederick Bond Sankey will be ring bearers. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Frank L. Chapman, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Aspinwall.

Miss Pauline A. Lotz and James A. Mason will be married this evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie D. Lotz, of Cabinet street, Allegheny, the Rev. Thomas Park of the Fourth United Presbyterian church, officiating. The only bridal attendant will be Miss Katherine Braun, a cousin of Miss Lotz.

A large wedding of this evening will be that of Miss Nell Louise Shaffer and Lebbaeus Arthur Watson. The Shady Avenue Baptist church will be the scene of the wedding at 7 o'clock, the Rev. William A. Stanton, D. D., performing the ceremony. Miss Shaffer will be attended by Miss Corinne Schmidt as maid of honor and by Miss Elfrieda Straub and Miss Nell Speer as maids. George W. Glassburn will be Mr. Watson's best man, while William Powell, Clifford Hartford and George Wasswell will be the ushers.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Geetmann of Bon Vonne street, will be the scene of a pretty home wedding this evening, the principals being Miss Milly Goettmann and Benjamin Sumner Brazzell. Miss Edna Goettman will be her sister's maid of honor, and a cousin, Miss Lois Goettmann, will act as flower girl. Charles Goettmann will give the bride away. Reuben Brazzell will be his brother's best man, Howard and William Brazzell acting as ushers.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

The Cyclorama Cotillion club has issued invitations for its opening reception, on Thursday evening, October 29, in the Cyclorama parlors, Allegheny.

The Travelers' club held one of its regular meetings yesterday afternoon, in the assembly room of the Central Young Woman's association, in Fifth street.

Miss Johanna Piper Hoehn and George Clarence Gault, the latter of Pittsburgh, were married in Cincinnati on Monday. After an eastern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Gault will make their home in Altoona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lindesmith yesterday celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in Youngstown. A large number of guests from out of the city were present at the reception. Mrs. Lindesmith was Margaret J. McAllister of Columbiana county, where she married and lived until the civil war, when Mr. Lindesmith enlisted in the One Hundred and Fifteenth O. V. I.

SOME FUTURE ENTERTAINMENTS.

Mrs. J. W. Dunn of South Homewood avenue has issued invitations for an afternoon tea on Friday.

Invitations are out for a tea on October 22, at which Mrs. W. H. Kirk of Dithridge street will be hostess.

Mrs. Frank Taylor will send out invitations shortly for an entertainment on the afternoon of Thursday, October 29, at her home in Penn avenue.

Mrs. John P. Hunter of North Highland avenue, gives a card party and reception this afternoon, at which a number of out-of-town guests will be present.

The rehearsal and dinner for the wedding of Miss Frances Patton Miles and Robert B. Carnahan, Jr., will be an event of this evening at the home of Mrs. Theodore Tounsele, of College avenue, sister to the bride-elect.

PENNSYLVANIA CLUBWOMEN GATHER AT CARLISLE FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION

Pittsburgh Delegation Headed by Energetic Campaigners Begins Work in Behalf of Miss Kate C. McKnight for President of the State Federation. Button-Holing of the Delegates and Holding of Caucuses the Order of the Day.

[From a Staff Correspondent.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CARLISLE, PA., Oct. 13.—Delegates representing 12,266 clubwomen in Pennsylvania took possession of Carlisle today and heartily accepted the proffered hospitality of the quaint old college town in the central part of the state. The eighth annual meeting of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women was opened this afternoon in the handsome building of the First Lutheran church with a larger attendance of delegates than heretofore. The address of welcome was made by Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, president of the Civic club of Carlisle, which acts as hostess to the State Federation this week. Mrs. Ellis Lewis Campbell, president of the federation, responded.

The afternoon session was devoted to the presentation of the annual reports of the officers, followed in the evening by an historical address delivered by Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker. After the evening meeting the Civic club of Carlisle gave a reception to Governor and Mrs. Pennypacker and the delegates and visiting clubwomen, which was conducted in the armory.

The Pennsylvania State federation now has a membership of 137 clubs, having an enrollment of 12,266 women. In the western district are 61 clubs, in the central 22, and 50 in the eastern. This is an increase of 15 over the number reported last year, 10 of the new clubs being formed in Western Pennsylvania, 5 in eastern, the central district remaining as before.

Miss Kate C. McKnight, first vice president of the State federation and corresponding secretary for the western district, presented her report of the progress of the club movement in that section of the state and the wide-spread interest which has been taken in civic affairs, putting Western Pennsylvania clubs in the front rank as to effective work and strength of influence in municipal educational and civic improvement.

In the central district there are but two distinctively civic clubs, one in Carlisle and the second in Harrisburg. In the eastern district, and particularly in Philadelphia, the clubwomen have worked for improved educational systems, for forestry reservation and for more efficient laws concerning the employment of children.

From the moment of their arrival in Carlisle the members of the Pittsburgh delegation have worked indefatigably for their chosen candidate for president, Miss Kate C. McKnight. They have traced to their source rumors of defection from the ranks of the western women delegates, leaving not a stone unturned in their search for the weak link in their chain. The special Pullman had scarcely reached its siding at Carlisle this morning at 6 o'clock when these rumors gained in force and the hard work of the self-appointed committee began.

In the meantime caucuses were conducted at the Hotel Wellington. Mrs. John Brown Herron, acting as chairman, and Mrs. Edward Blaine Seull, secretary, when nominations were made for candidates to be nominated in the open convention tomorrow morning for state delegates to the biennial meeting of the general federation, to be held next spring in St. Louis. As a result of these caucuses the following names will be presented tomorrow morning: Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Twentieth Cetury club, Pittsburgh, nominated by Mrs. Edward Blaine Seull; Miss Blanche Craighead, Women's Press club, Pittsburgh, nominated by Mrs. William Abel; Miss C. L. Brundred, Belles Lettres club, Oil City, nominated by Mrs. Speer; Mrs. Phoebe L. Newell, Woman's Literary club, Bradford, nominated by Mrs. S. B. Bresser; Mrs. Schreide, Woman's club of Titusville, nominated by Mrs. Aiken; Mrs. Edward Linton, Washington, Pa., club, nominated by Mrs. F. F. Iams; Mrs. D. C. Young of Smithport, nominated by Miss Eliza D. Armstrong.

Tomorrow morning Miss McKnight will ask that Mrs. John B. Herron represent Pittsburgh on the board of tellers to be appointed by Mrs. E. L. Campbell at the opening of the morning session.

The reception of the Civic club of Carlisle tonight in honor of the delegates to the State federation and to the visiting clubwomen, was a brilliant success. It was conducted in the armory immediately succeeding Gov. Pennypacker's address on "Pennsylvania and Her Heroes." The governor spoke on the wealth of history centered within the borders of the Keystone state and the strong living sense of patriotism which has dominated her heroes and which has woven around her landmarks such a treasure house of association.

The governor was compelled to leave on an early evening train, thus preventing the presence at the reception of the Civic club. The armory was decorated with boughs of green and numberless small flags. An orchestra played during the evening. Over 500 were in attendance. In the receiving party were Mrs. Edward W. Biddle, Mrs. Ellis Lewis Campbell, Miss Kate C. McKnight, Mrs. Horace Brock, Mrs. Richard H. Pratt, Mrs. Taylor Scarlett, Miss Mary Knox Garvin, Mrs. Mary L. Pauling, Mrs. John W. Wetzel, Mrs. J. N. Cheate, Mrs. B. O. Melntyre, Mrs. John W. Plank and Mrs. Chester C. Beshore.

Tomorrow morning the club movement among working women, child labor and how clubs can assist in the administration of the new laws for children, will be discussed.

PROMISED TO PAY AFTER HE DIED

REGISTER ISSUES A CITATION

Judge Frazer Hands Down Three Opinions--Somers Bros. Co., Capitalized at $100,000, in Hands of a Receiver. Divorce List Finished.

Register George H. Stengel was called upon yesterday to issue a citation upon Bernard Droeger, administrator of the estate of his brother, Robert Droeger, to show cause why letters issued upon the estate on August 15 should not be revoked and a paper, in the form of a promissory note, probated as the last will of Robert Droeger. This is probably the most curious will ever offered for probate in the orphans court of this county, in that it is a promise to pay to a brother $1,000 in case of death. The will offered by Droeger reads:

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 17, 1900.
To all whom it may concern:

I, the undersigned, agree to pay to my brother, Gust Droeger, one thousand dollars of my personal property in case of my death.

ROBERT DROEGER.

Robert Droeger died on July 28. He kept a store in the Thirty-second ward and left an estate, having as heirs three brothers. Shortly after his death the above paper was found in his home, and Gust Droeger wanted it filed as his will.

Brothers Ignored Document.

The other brothers refused to recognize it as such and told Gust Droeger to do as he wished with it, that they proposed to take out letters and divide the estate of several thousand dollars equally. He insisted, but the older brother relinquished his rights to administer on the estate, and Bernard Droeger took out letters and has gone ahead with the administration.

Maj. E. M. Ewing yesterday offered the "promise to pay paper" as a will and Register Stengel will have a hearing on the matter Saturday, October 24. It is held that as the promise to pay was made contingent upon the death of the signer, it is not a note, but a will.

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. S. Frazer the court discharged the rule on the receiver of the Duquesne Ice Company to show cause why the Stirling company should not be permitted to remove a boiler from the ice factory. The boiler was put in on agreement by which the title remained in the Stirling company until it was paid for. The court says this agreement would be good against the ice company, but is not good against the receiver, as he represents both the company and the creditors.

Millvale Borough Enjoined.

In the case of Edward E. Eggers and wife to compel the borough of Millvale to abate a nuisance from a sewer in Felbach street, the court enjoined the borough from allowing sewage to flow from the sewer into the street adjoining plaintiffs' property. The court finds that the sewer does not belong to the borough, but the latter permits sewage to flow from it upon a public street, and thence on to the property. The defense that Felbach street is not a public highway is dismissed by the court. The demand of the plaintiffs for compensation for damages from a storm on Easter Sunday is refused on the ground that the borough has a drain in the street sufficient to carry off the water during an ordinary rain.

Judge Frazer found that a second-story balcony on the house of G. J. Miller, No. 86 Southern avenue, Mt. Oliver, is a nuisance. He says public streets must be kept clear of all obstructions and no one permitted to encroach beyond the building line without express authority. This balcony does not interfere with the ordinary right of persons to pass on the sidewalk, but it is an obstruction to the free use of the sidewalk, to the light, air and view which belong to the public.

Illegal Liquor Dealer Sentenced.

In criminal court Andrew Robb pleaded guilty of selling and furnishing liquor on Sunday and selling liquor illegally, the charges having been made by County Detective Robert G. Robinson as the result of an investigation made by him in September. At the time 12 men were arrested and informations made before Alderman J. A. Levy. On the charge of selling without a license Robb was fined $500 and costs and sent four months to the workhouse. For selling on Sunday he was ordered to serve one month in the workhouse, the sentences to run concurrent.

Joseph Witkoski and Katie Zaliska were found guilty of a misdemeanor. Witkoski attempted to commit an assault on the 14-year-old daughter of Frank Dulina with the assistance of Katie Zaliska.

James P. Graney and others filed a bill in equity against the Somers Brothers Company and the American Type Founders Company asking for a receiver for the former company and an injunction to restrain the sale of the company's assets on a levy.

Allege Company Is Insolvent.

The plaintiffs are creditors and allege the Somers Brothers Company, which does a fruit and vegetable business at No. 1734 Penn avenue, is insolvent. The court appointed the Equitable Trust Company receiver of the company.

The Somers Brothers Company is a Delaware corporation capitalized at $100,000, with Charles Somers president. M. A. Holder, the secretary, has given up his connection with it and no one cares to assume the management.

Judge Robert S. Frazer finished taking testimony in the divorce list. The suit of Margaret Hetrich of Homestead against her husband, Phillip Hetrich, was contested by the husband. Mrs. Hetrich sued on the grounds of desertion and indignities to the person, claiming her husband spent most of his time in saloons and beat her. He denied living around saloons and said he did not beat his wife, but that when she ran at him with clinched fists he grabbed her wrists. When he threw her hands up, he said, her own fists blackened her eyes.

The other two cases heard were those of Catherine Mentzer against Theodore Mentzer, on the grounds of desertion, and Ella Brown against Robert Brown, on the grounds of indignities to the person.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Katherine Seibert filed a suit for $5,000 damages against George Heinrich and a capias was issued for his arrest. She claims the defendant slandered her.

The master in the divorce suit of Mary Staub against Edwrd Staub has filed his report recommending a decree on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment.

The report of the commissioner in the divorce case of Mary E. Jackson against Joseph C. Jackson was filed. She asks for a divorce on the ground of desertion.

About 200 more appeals were made by property owners along Belgium road, Allegheny, from the award of the viewers in the matter of the improvements of the street by the city.

Julius Zinke, late of Allegheny, leaves an estate valued at $9,271 to his wife, Anna, and bequests of $25 each are made to Augusta Zinke, his former wife, and eldest son, Otto, and $300 to his son Julius.

Patrick Mullahy, late of McKeesport, leaves $2,000 to his son William Henry; money on deposit and the proceeds of his hotel, after $2,500 is paid to his housekeeper, Mrs. Ink, to his daughter, Mary M., and his watch and chain to his son John.

The will of Henrietta McCutchen, late of Pittsburgh, leaves a $500 estate to her daughter, Bertha Alice McCutchen, with a clause as follows: "It is my desire that my executor above named pay to my son, Walter C. McCutchen, $5 before paying anything to my daughter aforesaid."

Because she was too old for him and thought that he should get some one younger, Lizzie Sacher left her husband, Charles M. Sacher, a $1 per year annuity after the marriage, according to his testimony in a divorce suit. They both keep grocery stores on the South Side and were married September 25, 1861.

Anton Schmidt, late of Pittsburgh, after making bequests of $200 to the Holy Trinity Catholic church, $100 to St. Joseph's orphan asylum, $100 to the priests of the church for saying mass for him and his wife and $100 to Schmidt's funeral persons, leaves the residue of a $3,300 estate to Mrs. Catherina Warpillot.

The following decrees in distribution were made yesterday: John Schultz, $1,272 11; Susan Bell, $1,496 36; John Thompson, $5,442; Harriet M. Merrick, $427 39; Sarah Dicus, $2,233 50; Peter Arras, $599 83; Martha Edgerton, $65 11; John M. Rice, $9,519 54; Dr. W. Lindlor, $5,828 51; William Swindell, $200, $25 21; Richard Knuff, $26 44.

The will of Samuel W. Hay, who was killed in an elevator at the Arrott building on September 29 last, has been filed. The estate is valued at about $4,000 and the use of it is left to his wife, Sarah Ann Liscomb Hay. At her death the will provides that it is to be divided among their children. Each child is to select an article as a memento of their father.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Joseph Schwartz vs. Lena Myers, $696 30; Joseph Wolf vs. Joseph Miller, $1,-563 01; Adah P. Powell vs. Joseph Reid et al., $1,504 35; Zeiger Bros. vs. Jacob Hoffman, $2,-118 66; Andrew Knox vs. James B. McDowell, $4,193 85; Henry M. Preston for use vs. Marian R. McNeil et al., $1,315; John Mulholland vs. Thomas Sloan et al., $500; H. H. Harris vs. Elizabeth A. Jenkins, $246 37; Max G. Krause vs. Frank Szilagyi et al., $57 22.

FILIPINOS HAVE SUFFICIENT COIN

MEXICAN TO BE DEMONETIZED

Old Spanish Coin Will Be Collected in the Treasury and Made Over into the New--Mexican Dollars Rapidly Disappearing from Archipelago.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Col. Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, who has been managing in this country the finances of the Philippine government and carrying out the act of the last congress for supplying the Philippines with currency, recently cabled the Philippine commission that there should now be in the islands 15,932,850 pesos and that the amount yet to be coined and shipped amounted to 1,000,000 more, this amount being at the mints or contracted for. A reply has been received from the commission stating that the amount of coin now in the Philippines, together with some 5,000,000 pesos in paper money, to be increased to 7,000,000, to which should be added from 8,000,000 to 9,000,000 pesos in Spanish coin, would be sufficient, and advising against the purchase of any more bullion for the purpose of coining Philippine pesos. No more silver will be purchased further than what is necessary to fulfill the existing stipulations with mints.

It is probable that the Philippine commission will demonetize Mexican dollars on January 1, 1904, but at the rate Mexicans are now leaving the islands it appears that such action will have very little effect. For the first nine days of October, 359,000 Mexican dollars have been exported from the islands and none has been imported. The Philippine commission will take steps to get into the Philippine treasury by January 1, all the Spanish coins in circulation, the intention being to issue the new Philippine pesos in their stead. A cablegram received today from Gov. Taft stated that the bank buying rate of gold at Manila was 2.18 and the selling rate 2.20; this in Mexicans, it is supposed. A prominent representative of Philippine banking interests estimates that there is no more than 4,000,000 Mexican dollars in the islands at the present time.

The London parity of silver today was 28, equal to 61.22 cents per ounce here. The purchases for the further coinage of Philippine pesos will be about 400,-000 or 500,000 ounces. It is intended to coin the Spanish coins when accumulated in the Philippine treasury into Philippine pesos.

UNFOUNDED RUMORS BROKE CRUCIBLE STEEL

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A violent break of $12 a share in Crucible Steel preferred, which carried the price down from 47 to 35, was the prominent feature in the local stock market yesterday. It was felt in Wall street, checking a very fair rally which was in progress there at the time, and it had a decidedly unsettling effect here. It was based entirely upon unfounded rumor which is believed to have originated in Wall street. It was to the effect that application would be made for a receiver for the Crucible Steel Company. Traders did not wait for an official denial, but threw their stock upon an unwilling market, with the result noted. President James Carothers of the Pittsburgh stock exchange telephoned President Frank B. Smith of the Crucible company of the nature of the rumor. An authorized denial was immediately forthcoming, and the formal announcement of this denial was made from the rostrum of the stock exchange. This produced a better feeling, but the fact that a stock of the standing of Crucible Steel preferred could break 10 points on the marketing of a few hundred shares revealed the extreme narrowness of the general market and produced an unsettled feeling. Crucible common declined only a small fraction to 5, but subsequently recovered to 5¼, which was a net gain of ⅛ over the close on Monday. The preferred stock made a handsome rally in the final dealings, advancing to 49¾ bid regular and selling at 42 buyer 30 days. The sales of the common and preferred foot up about 4,000 shares.

In some degree the extreme break in Crucible was caused by the first few points' decline catching stop-loss orders, which forced liquidation of margin accounts. It also aroused apprehension as to the position of other stocks carried on margin. Manufacturers Light and Heat broke 2 points to 27 just before the close, but at the decline met good support and closed at 27 bid for 100-share lots. Ohio Fuel broke 8 points to 35, the lowest touched on this movement. Philadelphia Company was remarkably steady, declining to 35½, but recovering to 35½, closing at a net gain of ¾ a share. There was considerable pressure on Pittsburgh Coal for a time and the common sold down to 18½ and the preferred to 68, but both recovered slightly at the close. River Coal common sold off to 9¼ and recovered to 9½, while the preferred declined $2 a share to 30, closing at the lowest. United States Steel stocks again followed very closely the course of fluctuations in the east and both issues were inactive. Westinghouse Airbrake sold off to 130½. Electric declined to 65½, but rallied to 66½ at the close, the net loss for the day amounting to only half a point. Federal National bank sold at 118 and 116, and Merchants Savings and Trust declined to 46, but subsequently recovered to 47 bid.

Despite the unexpected weakness displayed all along the line, the feeling at the close was much more hopeful. It is not improbable that a statement will be made today, or not later than tomorrow, in relation to Crucible Steel affairs that will result in as rapid a recovery as yesterday's decline. At all events, there was a complete change in sentiment late in the day regarding the outlook for this and other local industrials.

In Wall street the market opened firmer all around. London quotations were higher and foreigners were moderate buyers of American securities. The rally in United States Steel and some of the minor industrial stocks, as well as in the leading railroad shares, was making good progress, when the break occurred on the Pittsburgh board. The news quickly reached Wall street and a flood of inquiries as to the cause of the weakness poured in upon local bankers and brokers. The effect was instantly seen in a falling away in prices all along the line. United States Steel broke to 12½ and the preferred made a new low record by selling at 57½. The new bonds declined to 69. In some of the specialties violent breaks occurred. Colorado Fuel and Iron broke from 33 to 29¾, and on the next sale plunged to 25, a record breaker. It later recovered to 28½, but again sold down to 25½. Tennessee Coal and Iron broke from 28⅞ to 26⅝. American Car and Foundry, Republic Iron and Steel and Pressed Steel Car all sold off to the previous low prices. Amalgamated Copper opened at 35½ and advanced to 37⅜, and until late in the day held comparatively steady on shorts covering, there being a rumor that at tomorrow's meeting of the directors an extra dividend would be declared. In the late dealings the stock developed much weakness, selling down to and closing at 35¾. Sugar was firm and American Smelting easily advanced on light trading. Late in the day National Lead preferred broke nearly 4 points from 80 to 76¼, and closed at 75 bid.

In the railroad list the tone of the market was comparatively firm and only fractional losses occurred here even while the industrials were weakest. In the final dealings, however, weakness appeared in Canadian Pacific, which broke to 116⅝, and also in St. Paul, which broke to 135⅜. This caused some selling of the remainder of the list and the market finally closed active and feverish. The sales were 525,000 shares.

The money market was distinctly easier, loans being offered on acceptable collateral at 4% per cent running over the end of the year. Call loans ruled at 2 to 2½ per cent, closing at 1@1½ per cent, the last loan being at 2 per cent.

One of the favorable incidents of the day was the publication of the preliminary report of the bureau of statistics showing the exports of our principal domestic products for September. The total for the month was $50,333,000. While this total is below those for the corresponding month in several preceding years, it was the highest for any month in the present year since last March. The most gratifying increase was in exports of cotton. These were valued at $21,127,400 for September, as compared with less than $2,000,000 in August and about $7,000,000 in July. There was also an increase of more than $2,500,000 in exports of breadstuffs over the total for August. The exports of breadstuffs, provisions, cotton and mineral oil for September were $23,330,000 larger than for August. For the nine months of the calendar year the total was $515,513,535, an increase of $31,500,000 over the corresponding period last year.

HIGHER RENTS FOR HOUSES AND LOTS

SALES TO HEBREW MERCHANTS

Pittsburgh may have still higher house rents, judging from present indications. When the stiff advances in rents all over the city went into effect last spring it was thought by many that the top notch had been reached. With the renting year little more than half over there is already a decided tendency on the part of many landlords to put up the prices of leases for next year. In a few cases where leases expire late this fall the tenants have been notified that rents would be raised. A businessman who pays $35 a month for a house in the Twentieth ward yesterday received a gentle reminder that his rent would be $50 a month after January 1. In numerous apartment houses flats will cost from 10 to 25 per cent more next spring, if the intentions of the present owners are carried out. Small houses and tenement properties are likely to rent higher in many localities where the dearth of houses of any sort makes the landlords practically independent. In the rooming house districts rents are a little higher than last spring, and hardly a "To Let" sign is to be seen.

Few New Houses Due to Strikes.

The increase in rents this year, if it becomes general, may be laid primarily to the labor troubles which have made building a hazardous proposition. Hundreds of houses that were planned for early spring operations were laid on the shelf indefinitely because the prospective builders did not wish to incur the risk of strikes and holdups. In many instances where a bunch of houses was started they were held up time after time by a strike among some one of the building trades. Thus at this time, when houses started early in the summer should be ready for occupancy, there are dozens of houses in every ward that are only half finished and cannot be completed now before winter owing to the dampness and frost. It is conservatively estimated among the largest renting agencies that if 600 or 800 houses that would rent for from $20 to $30 a month were thrown upon the market for tenants today they would all be filled by Christmas at the latest. The lack of new houses for rent and the tendency to ask more for those already rented in driving many persons to buy homes of their own. New houses especially are snapped up almost as quickly as they are ready and at prices that afford the builder a good profit. For the best grade of houses there is better inquiry than for months, the greediness of landlords having forced large numbers of long-time renters to look for houses that they can buy and save money.

Hebrew Merchants Secure Locations.

The movement of the Hebrews toward the hill district, which started a lively buying boom there last spring is still in evidence. Hebrew merchants who have been scattered over the three wards east of the downtown district are gradually grouping their purchases in a limited territory which is known among them as the Ghetto district. The center of this section is Clark street, where most of the property is either owned or occupied by Hebrew merchants. Four sales amounting to $24,400 in this street have been made this week through the Aronson Realty Company. Four Lowenstein Bros. buy sold to Jacob Viller a 10-room building now occupied by the buyer as a grocery store and standing on 30x48 feet at Clark and Townsend street. Caplan was the buyer of the fourth store and dwelling belonging to Attorney O. S. Richardson was sold to H. Greenberg for the same price. The lot is 20x50 feet. Nos. 1309 and 1311 Clark are owned jointly by John D. Biggert, were sold to M. Brukoff for $6,000. The lot is 35x48 feet and the two brick buildings will be remodeled by the buyer for a store. Jacob Caplan was the buyer of the fourth property. No. 1312 Clark street, which he secured from Mandel Myers for $4,400. It consists of a lot 20x50 feet improved with an eight-room house which will be used for a store.

Houses in Nineteenth Ward Sold.

Stanton avenue—The former H. M. Martzell property, more recently owned by the Union Trust Company, and located in the southwest side of Stanton avenue, Nineteenth ward, has been sold to Harvey McHenry for $5,500. The lot is 40x100 feet and improved with a brick house.

Jackson street—Jacob D. Miller sold to Henry Hileman an improved lot, 30x84 feet, at the southwest corner of Jackson street and Sheridan avenue, Nineteenth ward, for $7,200.

Euclid street—Elizabeth L. Swezey sold to David Heeren an improved lot, 30x40 feet, in the west side of Euclid street, near Rural street, Nineteenth ward, for $5,500.

Edmundson two improved properties, 20x67 feet and 20x60 feet, in the east side of Glenwood avenue, near Johnston avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $4,000 cash. He also sold to the same buyer an improved lot, 21x82 feet, in the south side of Johnston avenue, for $3,000.

Kedron avenue—Andrew J. Corcoran sold to Mrs. Josie Coyle an improved lot, 20x32 feet, in the south side of Kedron avenue, near Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $4,000.

Lincoln avenue—Samuel L. Wittmer sold to William Ingham a lot, 40x115 feet, in the south side of Lincoln avenue, near Rowan avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $3,300.

Store Building for Wilkinsburg.

Architect F. G. Scheibler, Jr., is taking bids on a $10,000 store building to be erected for W. E. Hamnett in the east side of Wood street, near Franklin street, Wilkinsburg.

Architect Augustus N. Hess of Ligonier has let the contract to William Braithwaith for a residence for E. H. Niedringhaus in Oakmont to cost $5,000.

The St. James Memorial Episcopal congregation has been granted a permit for the erection of its new church at Kelly and Collier streets, Thirty-seventh ward, and also a parish house. Both buildings will be of stone and will cost $50,000 and $10,000, respectively.

Other permits granted yesterday were to: D. Howard Brown, two brick dwellings, Niagara street, Thirteenth ward, $4,500; Sarah D. Black, frame dwelling, Whipple street, Twenty-third ward, $1,542; Simon Stevansebak, frame dwelling, Forbes street, Twenty-second ward, $2,200; John Nessler, frame dwelling, Lincoln avenue, Twenty-fourth ward, $1,800.

The following permits were taken out at the Allegheny building inspector's office yesterday: To the Walker Place Land Company, 13 brick veneered two-story-and-attic dwellings on Marlboro street, Eleventh ward, to cost, all told, $15,000; to H. Siefert, frame two-story dwelling on East street, near school house, Tenth ward, to cost $3,500.

CONFERENCE TAKES ACTION.

Illinois Churchmen Interest Themselves in American Industrial Situation.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Lack of fraternal relations between employe and employer is the chief reason for the differences between capital and labor, according to a report presented to the Rock River conference of the Methodist church at Aurora, Ill., today by a special committee appointed to report on the industrial problem.

Members of the conference are called upon to offer their disinterested service for the purpose of arbitration and for such services no fee or other reward is to be accepted.

WHOLESALE MARKETS QUIET BUT STEADY

Throughout the markets yesterday there were few features of any kind and none of great importance. Selling of flour continues steadily, and jobbers are still finding it difficult to keep supplies with sufficient promptness to take care of the demand. Prices are unchanged, and there seems to be no apprehension of any immediate difference in quoted figures, either up or down, although dealers have already commenced to contemplate the possibility of advancing markets should the threatened war between Russia and Japan become a reality, as such an event would occasion an extra demand both for wheat and flour. While crops have been fairly good in all lines, none has supposed there is any unusual quantity of desirable wheat, and it would not take any great amount of pressure to influence the market either way, as the relative conditions of supply and demand do not show much inequality. Coffee remains firm in primal markets, and roasted is selling freely, with quotations holding as they have been since last week, when an advance occurred in packing goods. Sugar is unchanged, refined quotations in eastern markets having been rather firmer than they were a few days ago. The Wholesale Grocers' association of this city met to consider the question of prices, but have not made any change in local selling figures as yet. Demand is fair, but stiffness of the raw sugar market is the strengthening factor in the situation.

Hay maintains its position, and quotations are steady at figures which have ruled for some days. Top prices are realized for No. 1 timothy hay, and clover is firm for desirable quality. Oats are firm, and some sales are reported above quotations. Corn is one cent quoted, with demand slow. Ear corn was offered on 'change yesterday at 63c, with no bids. Middlings and bran hold their own with receipts light, and demand limited.

Handlers of fruits report high grade fancy stock, jumbo bunches readily bringing top figures, while seconds are uncertain as to price, buyers seeking good stock. Oranges are firm, fancy Californias bringing $3 without difficulty. Jamaica oranges are taking some of the trade, ranging in price from $3 to $3 50 per box. Otherwise there is little change in fruit prices, grapes being strong as quoted, with fair quality and demand. Pears are a limited item of stock, although demand is quiet. Pears sell freely as quoted. An occasional lot of huckleberries still makes its appearance, but they are nearly through with their season. Plums continue to come forward from the west and south, with a few offering from New York state.

Vegetables remained at quotations of yesterday morning, and trade was light throughout the day. Fresh stock is coming in fairly well, and prices are firm. Demand for sweet potatoes is steady, though not especially active, and the market is unchanged, while Irish potatoes are steady as quoted. Egg plant was in better supply yesterday than at the opening of the week, but there was no fluctuation in price.

Butter is easy as quoted, and cheese is firm. Eggs are holding their own, and exhibit no weakness, supplies being limited. Poultry is unchanged, limited receipts holding the market firm.

HORSE MARKET.

There was marked improvement at the horse and mule auction yesterday, more stock being offered and prices being relatively better. About 200 horses were put up for sale, and sold at figures which ranged about $5 a head above prices secured last Tuesday. Buyers were seeking good stock, and draught horses of all grades found purchasers.

Retail selling in the horse market continues fairly steady as to price, but demand is quiet, not up to trading last year at this time. A considerable amount of stock is available, but there is no attempt made to bring all forward that could be obtained while request is slow.

The Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The drygoods market is quiet with more or less irregularity in certain lines, although inducements made in order to sell quantities are not as a rule effectual. Buyers are in a waiting attitude looking for further declines, while the seller foresees a revival of activity when buying once commences for the spring trade.

GRAINS CLOSED HIGHER IN CHICAGO MARKETS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Firm cables in the face of the big decline here yesterday were a bull factor at the start, and December wheat opened a shade to 1c higher at 78¾@79c. Outside markets were weak, however, and this fact, in addition to the favorable weather in the northwest, brought out considerable selling orders during the first hour and a weaker tone developed. St. Louis houses were leaders in the early selling movement. With but little demand December sold off to 78¼c. An upturn at Minneapolis, due to a better demand for flour, and a strong cash demand, caused a sharp rally later in the day. The bull feeling was augmented by the comparatively small increase in the world's visible supply. There was some influential buying late in the session, with but little disposition to sell on the part of anyone. Closing prices were near the top, December being ¾@¾c higher at 79¾c. After touching 79¾@79¾c, Primary receipts were 1,392,000 bushels, against 1,406,000 a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 776 cars, which, with local receipts of 186 cars, none of contract grade, made the total receipts for the three days 962 of 971 cars, against 1,154 cars last week and 1,196 cars a year ago.

Corn ruled weak the early part of the session, influenced by selling out of the west and on the weakness in wheat. Provision interests were again on the selling side of the market, and there was an absence of any bull support. The late strength to wheat stimulated buying on the part of local traders and the market turned strong, closing at the top with December ½@¾c higher at 48¾c, after selling between 48½@48¾c. Local receipts were 427 cars, with 51 of contract grade.

Oats were easy at the start, under selling by commission houses, with little apparent effort to support prices. Toward the close some of the early selling was turned by a firmer tone developed final figures on December being ½c higher at 37¾c, after ranging between 37¾@38c and 37¾c. Local receipts were 127 cars.

Provisions were firm at the opening, due to the steady hog market and on covering by shorts, with some demand from foreigners for December and January lard. Continued selling by packers and an attempt on the part of scalping longs to realize caused a break later in the day, but the loss was all regained before the close. January pork closed 2½c higher at $12 10, lard was up 5@7½c at $6 90@6 92½, while ribs were 2½@5c higher at $6 47½@6 50.

MRS. JOHNSTON PLEADED GUILTY

Two Indictments for Larceny in First Degree Are Basis of Plea.

FORGERY CHARGE IS DROPPED

Self-Acknowledged Woman Defaulter Tells the Court That She Is Married. Later Her Lawyer Has Record Changed to Read "Single."

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Marie Layton Johnston appeared before Judge Warren W. Foster today and pleaded guilty to two indictments charging her with grand larceny in the first degree. In accordance with an arrangement the indictment charging forgery will not be pressed or sentence will be suspended in each case.

About an hour prior to Mrs. Johnston's appearance in court Assistant District Attorney Sandford filed an affidavit with Mrs. Marie Layton Johnston.

Judge Foster setting forth that Robert McCutcheon, secretary and general manager of the United States Playing Card Company, whom the lawyers for the defense declared was an essential witness for their client, would be present in court. It was arranged by Mrs. Johnston's attorneys to submit authorities on the subject for the guidance of the court. The sudden plea of guilty on the part of Mrs. Johnston rendered this unnecessary.

When called upon to give her record Mrs. Johnston was asked:

"Are you married or single?"

The woman turned to her attorney, Mr. Limburger, and, after a short consultation, replied:

"Married."

A few moments after Mr. Limburger and his client again conferred and Mr. Limburger said to the clerk of the court:

"Please change that answer to read 'single.'"

This was done, and the woman is now known as Marie Layton or Marie Layton Johnston.

Shipbuilding Counsel Deny Ulterior Purpose in Delay in Hearing.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Samuel Untermeyer, counsel for the bondholders, and W. D. Guthrie, counsel for the reorganization committee of the United States Shipbuilding Company, both denied today the rumor that the postponement of the hearing for one day was due to the desire of Mr. Guthrie and his friends to adjust the controversy and prevent an investigation with attending developments of a sensational nature.

Mr. Guthrie said: "The hearing will go on tomorrow unless something now unforeseen occurs. The postponement was due entirely to my indisposition owing to a fall from my horse."

Regarding the action of the stockholders in calling a meeting to be held October 21 in Jersey City, Receiver Smith said:

"This is not the first action of this kind that has occurred. Before this developed I was at the point of asking the United States circuit court to punish those responsible for calling meetings, for the affairs of the company were being considered by the New Jersey courts."

Those who are said to be liable for contempt are all personal friends of Mr. Schwab's. They include his brother Joseph, Dr. Leslie G. Ward of New Jersey, an intimate friend; Dr. R. G. Ward of Pittsburgh; Max Pam, Mr. Schwab's personal counsel; Edward N. McIlvaine, C. W. Baker, a trustee of the Steel Corporation, and Archibald Johnson, president and general manager of the Bethlehem Company.

The professional matinee of the season to be given in Pittsburgh will take place at the Grand Opera House tomorrow afternoon, when all of the visiting professional people in the city will attend the performance of "When We Were Twenty-One." "The Sultan of Suln" company, "The Girl and the Judge" company, the "Busy Izzy" company, the Rays, Miss Fannie Rice, and all of the players of the Avenue will attend. Boxes have been reserved for the stars of the attractions playing at the other theaters, while Miss Mabel McKinley, accompanied by some friends from Somerset, Pa., will occupy a box at the Grand, supporting the following her specialty at the Avenue.

In Memoriam.

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 13, 1903.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Western Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., the following minute was adopted:

Not unexpectedly, but suddenly, came the announcement on Thursday, October the 8th, 1903, that our friend and associate Capt. William Perry Herbert had been summoned from our midst; and as we gather about the board at this, a regular meeting, we are prompted to add to our minutes a record of him who will never again be with us.

Capt. Herbert entered the service of this company February 12th, 1854, and except when serving his country in the civil war, had continued for nearly a half century to devote his best energies to the interests of the Western Insurance Company.

Having passed through all the grades in the office from errand boy to vice president and general manager, he had acquired a thorough knowledge of fire insurance. Coupled with his ripe judgment came a spirit of the highest integrity, and to him is largely due the fair reputation the company enjoys for just dealings with its assured.

In his business relations he was honorable and correct, and enjoyed to an unlimited degree the respect and good will of the stockholders and his more intimate associates of the board of directors.

Capt. Herbert was a good citizen in many walks of life as shown by his activity in various other organizations, and we leave to them to bear their own testimony of appreciation.

He was loyal to his church, his country, his business and to his friends, and we will long remember him as a trusted adviser and man of sterling qualities.

To his stricken and sorely tried wife we offer our deepest sympathy and assurances that we bear with her a goodly portion of her irreparable loss.

SPECIMEN BALLOT.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY COMMITTEE IS SENDING ONE TO EACH VOTER.

The Republican county committee has prepared a specimen ballot to be used in the election next month. One will be sent to each voter in the county, so that he can familiarize himself with the ticket before election day.

This will be the first election under the new law and the accompanying diagram shows the changes in the ballot. It also illustrates how easy it is to vote the straight Republican ticket. It will be noted that the candidates for each office are placed in groups. The name of a nominee appears but once, and the size of the ballot is greatly increased.

SPECIMEN BALLOT

OF THE ACT APPROVED APRIL 29th, 1903.

☞ To vote a straight party ticket, mark a cross (X) in the square opposite the name of the party of your choice in the first column.

A cross mark in the square opposite the name of any candidate indicates a vote for that candidate.

The voter may insert in the blank space at the bottom of each group the name of any person whose name is not printed on the ballot for whom he desires to vote.

LOCAL COMMANDERY WAS AWARDED PRIZE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Oct. 13.—General Hays commandery of Allegheny was the only organization entered in the competitive drill at today's session of the grand castle of the Knights of the Golden Eagle. It was the best drilled organization in the parade and was awarded a prize of $75 in gold.

Blue Cross commandery of Lancaster was awarded a gold cup for having the largest number of knights in line. Newport castle had more men in line than any other castle and was awarded a pair of silver candlesticks. Cumberland Valley commandery of Mechanicsburg was given a prize of a silver-mounted thermometer for making the finest appearance.

Every grand castle in the union was represented today at the opening session. The report of A. E. Little, supreme master of records, shows the total membership of the order is 66,540, and that the total amount paid for relief during the year was $226,771 63. The grand castle will conclude its business Thursday.

HIS PRAYER ANSWERED.

Aged Letter Carrier Asked That He Might Be Buried With His Brother.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Beside the brother whose death broke his heart, Johnson C. Hull of Brooklyn, the oldest letter carrier in the city, will be buried tomorrow. The two brothers had been inseparable, Johnson being 80 years old and William, who died Sunday, 82.

William was a retired merchant. He was to have been buried yesterday and as Johnson stood beside the casket he prayed that he might soon follow his brother to the grave. While he was still praying he tottered and fell. Dr. Williams, a nephew of the two brothers, ran to his aid, but the old letter carrier was dead. His prayer had been answered.

FILIPINO LAWYER TO PRACTICE AT CAPITAL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—A Filipino lawyer was today admitted to practice before the supreme court of the District of Columbia. His name is Antonio M. Opisso y de Veyasa, and should be pronounced with a Spanish accent. He is the first person not a natural born or naturalized citizen who was ever admitted to practice before the district courts. The decision of the court in this instance sets a precedent.

The question of the eligibility of Mr. Opisso to become a member of the district bar was called to the attention of the justices of the supreme court sitting in general term. There were present Chif Justic Clabaugh, and associate Justices Anderson, Bernard and Gould.

Mr. Opisso passed the examination for admission to the bar some time ago. There was a difference of opinion among the members of the examining committee as to Mr. Opisso's eligibility for admission and it was decided to submit the matter to the court in general term.

William Henry Dennis, representing the majority of the committee, gave reasons why the applicant should not be admitted, and Daniel W. Baker for the minority argued that Mr. Opisso is eligible.

DOWIE'S ARMY NOW READY TO INVADE PAGAN EAST

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Followers of John Alexander Dowie are gathering in great numbers in Zion City today in preparation for the start tomorrow of the "Restoration army" for New York. They came from various points in the west and northwest, and even from Manitoba and Western Canada.

The streets of Zion City were thronged with guards in uniform and each bearing a leather pouch containing a Bible, while on the face of the receptacle is the inscription, "The Word of God." A special train of baggage cars was made up today and partially loaded. In one train the surplice choir of 600 members will travel, while on another will be an uniformed guard of 500.

Fifty-Cent Stocks That Find Favor.

Discriminating women go into ecstacies over the beauty of our 50c line of Ladies' Stocks, in lace taffeta vest-ing, cloths, tucked Indias, moires and other fabrics, which are site neck-wear. One might as well try to de-scribe the cloud-land as scribe the loveliness of charms of tions so dear to tell of the heart. They these confec-come in all the delicate colors of the sea shell to the feminine as well as in black and white—in monotones or in deft combinations of complementary shades, whose beauty is enhanced with briar stitching, silk embroidery, medallions, drop-ornaments, French knots, crochet buttons, tiny pearl buttons, hemstitching and fringe. Something to match your attire, enhance your charms, and meet your conception of correct dress—at Half a Dollar.

A Baby's Trousseau For Ten Dollars.

The Premier Line of $5 Walking Skirts.

Holding our figures down to facts (as we always try to do) we feel safe in saying that there are more than 1,000 Ladies' New Walking Skirts on our Ladies' Apparel Floor today—not enough to last ten days at the present rate of selling. Prices range from $2.49 to $12.50.

The bright and particular star in this galaxy is a line of $5 Skirts, which, in style and value surpass anything Pittsburgh has ever seen at this popular price.

Some are Mixed Tweeds.

Some are Scotch Mixtures.

We will describe three and hold the other fifteen in reserve as additional surprises when you come to the store.

—First we hold up for your inspection a Nine-gore Walking Skirt in Mixed Tweed, whose distinguishing feature is a box-pleat about five inches deep at the bottom of each gore, over which is a top-piece consisting of a stitched tab. Covering each gore is a stitched flat seam and around the bottom are six rows of tailor-stitching. Every seam is taped on the under side and around the top is a bengaline silk band. These charming skirts at $5 come in brown, blue and black mixtures.

—The second Walking Skirt which we lay out for your admiration is likewise nine-gore with the yoke beginning on either side of the front breadth and extending from gore to gore in graceful curved line all the way around. This skirt has an inverted pleat back and is finished at the bottom with eight rows of tailor-stitching. The colors are castor, tan, blue and black.

—The third and last Walking Skirt we will show you here is a nine-gore mixed Tweed, in blue-and-white, black-and-white and gray-and-white effects, with a triangular tab of the same cloth at each gore on the flare, with a black crochet button in the center. Flat stitched seams and eight rows of stitching around the bottom, taped under-seams and a bengaline silk band are the other details of description.

If you can find any other store in the four Middle States that offers a line of Walking Skirts as good as these for less than $6.50 you have a talent for the detective business.
